STATEMENT ISSUED BY THE TRUSTEES IN NOVEMBER, 1903.

"At the date of Mr. Quarrier's death the trustees under the deed of constitution were Sir Thomas Glen Coats, Bart.; Sir Charles Cameron, Bart.; Mr. Robert Binnie, Ashford, Gourrock; Mr. J. H. N. Graham, Larbert House; Mr. A. Cameron Corbett, M.P., Thornliebank House; Mr. Forrester Paton, Alloa; Mr. W. A. Campbell, of Messrs. J. & W. Campbell & Co., Glasgow; Mr. R. A. Bryden, architect, Glasgow.

"These trustees all continue to act, and have arranged to assume, as additional trustees Sir Samuel Chisholm, Bart.; Councillor J. P. Maclay; Mr. David J. Findlay (Mr. Quarrier's son-in-law); and Mrs. Quarrier. Councillor J. P. Maclay has agreed to accept the position of honorary treasurer.

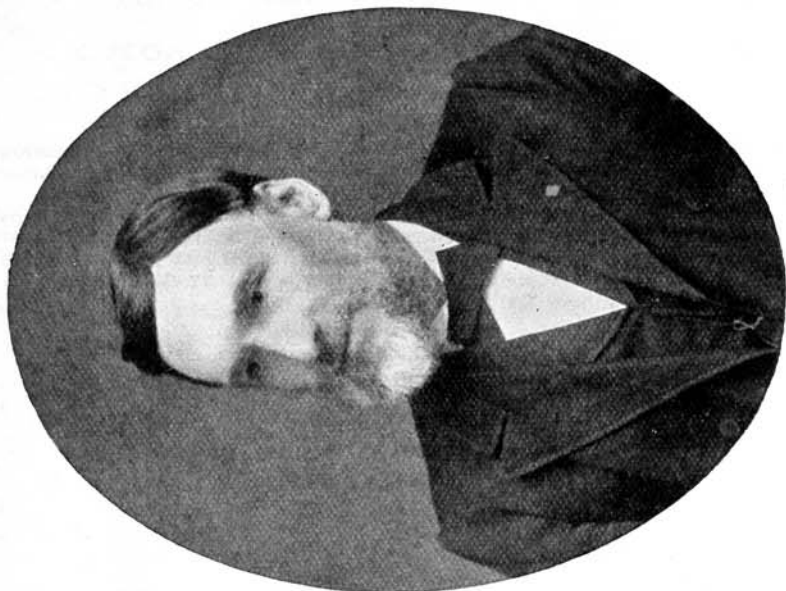

"In accordance with the desire of the late Mr. Quarrier, and with the cordial approval of the trustees, the management of the Homes will be carried on by Mrs. Quarrier and family on the same principle as in the past, and the trustees have appointed Mr. Bryden, Mr. Maclay, and Mr. Findlay as an advisory council, who will regularly report to them.

"The trustees do not propose to make any special appeal for subscriptions, as they consider that the system adopted by Mr. Quarrier of trusting to Divine Providence to provide for the maintenance of the Orphan Homes should be adhered to.

"The trustees hope that this statement will satisfy the many friends who have in the past supported the Homes by their subscriptions and donations, that no change will be made in the administration of this great and responsible trust, and they have no doubt the public will assist the trustees and the members of Mr. Quarrier's family by their contributions and Christian sympathy in maintaining and carrying on to its fullest extent the national work inaugurated by Mr. Quarrier and carried out by him with such remarkable success for more than a quarter of a century. The work of the Consumption Sanatoria will also be carried on without change."

N.B.—Since the death of Mrs. Quarrier the active management of the Homes is carried on by her daughters, Miss Quarrier and Mrs. A. Quarrier Burgess, assisted by the Advisory Council.

Subscriptions and Donations for the Homes and also for the Consumption Sanatoria should be forwarded to Miss Quarrier, Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge of Weir, or, if more convenient, to the Treasurer, J. P. Maclay, Esq., 21 Bothwell Street, Glasgow. Such contributions will be acknowledged in the same manner as was followed by Mr. Quarrier, and a statement of the accounts, duly audited by professional accountants, will be submitted at the annual public meeting, held each year in November.

ISABELLA QUARRIER.

AN APPRECIATION.

"Lovely and sweet in their lives, and in their death they were not (long) divided."

WHAT a re-union there must have been in heaven in the early morning of Wednesday the 22nd June last, when the beloved Mother of the Orphan Homes of Scotland rejoined her husband in the presence of the Lord they both loved and served so well.

When the beloved Father went up to his reward eight months before, we scarcely thought that she, who had been his constant companion for nearly half a century, would long survive the separation; but it seemed as if our dear one had special help and strength given to her, and the winter and spring saw her in what appeared to be for her particularly good health. She was eager to do everything that lay within her power to further the interests of the great work that had been committed to her care, and to the very last day of her earthly life her hands were full of loving service for others.

On that last night she completed her last task and laid it aside saying, "That is finished"—then a letter was written to an absent loved one—and then without even complaining of feeling weary she retired to rest. In the morning "she was not, for God had taken her." While men slept her Lord had sent for her and she was carried by the angels—who dare doubt it?—into the very centre of heaven's bliss. It was an ideal home going, and just what we could have wished for her—no prolonged sickness or suffering or weakness, "no moaning at the bar"—but just passing in a moment from darkness to light, and from that summer sunrise of earth to the Morning Land where there is no darkness at all, for the Lamb who sitteth in the midst of the throne is the light thereof.

What she was as wife, mother, friend, and helper in the great work amongst the needy ones, it is impossible to tell with pen and ink. To many of us she filled out the ideal of all that a woman could or should be in all these relations. Her husband delighted to confess that he never could have done the work that God had enabled him to do had it not been for his wife, and certainly if we have any doubts about some marriages being "made in heaven," there was no room for doubt in this case. She was a true helpmeet, and was the complement of her husband in all things, possessing in an eminent degree those qualities which were absent from his strong character.

As a mother it is enough to say that "her children rise up and call her blessed," and have no higher aspiration than to be like her and to follow in her footsteps as she followed Christ. The serene beauty of her Christian character impressed all who came in contact with her, and many of those who only saw her from a distance and had not the privilege of her personal acquaintance, have written of the impression she—all unconsciously—made on them. To us personally she filled out our thought of what a saint should be. We had known her under many trying circumstances and conditions, but never saw her ruffled or out of temper, and her calm, placid manner was a life-long rebuke and inspiration. Such lives are a blessing to all who are privileged to come into contact with them. Our loved one did not talk a great deal of religion, but she lived it in every line of her life. She delighted in prayer, and in the Word of God, and gave the impression of one who walked with God as the habit of her daily life. Truly Christ was magnified in her body, both in life and in death, and one cannot think of her without thinking more highly of the Saviour, whose spirit so fully dominated and beautified her life from day to day, that the smallest details were lifted into a lofty atmosphere, being done unto Him.

What she was to the orphan children no one will ever fully know. Although never robust in health she got through an amount of work that would have amazed many of stronger physique. Especially in the earlier years she wrote thousands of letters and attended to a multitude of other matters. Her hands were always full of work on behalf of others. She shared equally her husband's utterly unselfish spirit, and with no time to think of self was always devising and doing kind things for others. To know her was to love her, and we could not conceive of her having ever made an enemy. Her memory is a benediction, and now that she has gone from our sight for a season earth feels much poorer, and the thought of heaven is sweeter and more attractive because she is there.

ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND CONSUMPTION SANATORIA, AND COLONY OF MERCY, GLASGOW AND BRIDGE-OF-WEIR.

NARRATIVE OF FACTS, 1904.

THE year with which this "Narrative" deals began on 1st November, 1903, under the shadow of the greatest loss the Orphan Homes have ever experienced. The beloved father and head had, two weeks before that date, ceased from his earthly labours, and upon weak shoulders, unused to the burden, had been laid the responsibilities of the great work. It was well we did not know all that this involved, nor what difficulties and trials the year held for us. Looking back now at its close we can but magnify the grace of God, granted to His unworthy servants, for the carrying out of His purposes. On another page reference is made to the "home going" of the dear "mother," who had so bravely taken her place at the head of the work, forgetting her own great sorrow in ministering to others. During the eight months she was left with us it was to her, and to all the workers, an unspeakable joy that all the financial needs of the Homes were met, and that no backward step had to be taken. Her departure has left us doubly bereaved, but the influence of her sweet, gracious life remains. The arrangements made by the Trustees for the carrying on of the Homes have worked satisfactorily, and we owe a debt of gratitude to the members of the Council who have so ungrudgingly and devotedly given themselves and their time to the work. We have very frequently found ourselves wondering how one man could possibly do all that the beloved "father" undertook, and looking back on his tireless activity we have gained fresh stimulus for the duties devolving upon us. The year has been one of prosperity in every department of the work, and the amount of money received for all purposes has been larger than in any previous year, with the exception of 1901, when there were extra gifts for buildings. The following are the totals for the year:—

I.	For the Orphan Homes' General Fund (which includes the maintenance and education of 1,621 children, and emigration expenses), etc.	£22,477	14	5½
II.	For the Consumption Sanatoria Maintenance ...	5,377	17	1½
	For the Consumption Sanatoria Building Fund	5,560	19	1
III.	For the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics ...	2,213	8	6

A total of ... .. £35,629 19 2

At the beginning of the year we had asked for great things, but God's giving has been exceeding abundant above all we asked or thought. Unlooked for expenses arose in connection with alterations, drainage, school, etc., and our Heavenly Father, knowing the need, graciously sent, through His stewards, the extra supplies. The principles of the work have been adhered to. No collectors are sent out, and no one is personally called upon for money. Day by day the daily bread has been forthcoming through gifts that have reached us from rich and poor, old and young, many times from most unexpected quarters. We began the year with £444 in the Homes' treasury, just a little over a week's supply for the family, and after meeting all our liabilities we are left with £561 on hand, having expended £21,916. The greater part of the balance is specially set apart for outfits and emigration, so that there is in reality less than four days' provision to begin the year with, but then it is on hand, and we are not in debt, and our hearts rejoice over the very exactness of the supply to meet our needs.

For the Consumption Sanatoria the donations received and payments in behalf of patients have been more than equal to the expenditure, which is cause for thanksgiving. On page 68 will be found the Doctor's Report, from which it will be seen that 256 patients have been treated in the Sanatoria during the year. We feel gratified that the Corporation of Glasgow has seen its way to give an annual donation of £1,000 for five years, and we trust many of our citizens will add to this their gifts, so that many more sufferers may be helped.

The Colony of Mercy for Epileptics has taken a step forward. Building operations were begun in September, and good progress has been made since that date. We have close upon £3,000 on hand towards this, the first Home, but it is expected to cost £4,000, and we are looking for this balance to be sent in before it is required. An anonymous letter recently brought us 7s on behalf of the Colony, being 1s for each member of a healthy family, and we hope many other families will follow this example. Anyone who knows what it is to have an epileptic in their household will sympathise with our efforts to ameliorate the lot of these sufferers.

In the following pages are noted some of the donations received, extracts from letters, special events in connection with the Homes, and particulars regarding a few of the needy ones received. These will give friends an idea of the variety of ways in which the work is carried on and the needs met from day to day during the year:—

Nov. 2, 1903.—The new financial year which we enter upon with this month will be in a very special sense an unknown and trying one in the history of the Orphan Homes. Never before have the workers been without the under shepherd to lead the way, but as the Heavenly Father has taken our earthly guide to Himself, we feel sure He will be very gracious and tender to the flock who so much need His care and protection. To-day's gifts, amounting to £21 15s 5d, include £15 14s 5d, a retiring Sabbath collection from our nearest U.F. Church, as a mark of sympathy, and with the earnest wish that the Homes may prosper more and more. Also 25s, "the Lord's tenth," from one who says—"We, too, are among the bereaved ones at this time. Mr. Quarrier was all I knew of an earthly father."

Nov. 3.—Contributions from "A. G. N." and "Alice, Willie, and Jessie," who so regularly and frequently remember our needs, are to hand to-day, also generous gifts from Sabbath Schools, and £40 from a sympathising friend, who writes:—"DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I refrained from writing before now, as I knew you had plenty to do and think of, as well as to suffer. I have been praying the Lord to sustain you, and I trust you have found His grace sufficient for you. I need not tell you how all God's people sympathise with you, yet I think you have been highly favoured of God to have the privilege of being so long a helpmeet to such an honoured servant of Jehovah. Since I heard of his death I have often thought of what a crowd would be waiting him to welcome him to everlasting habitations. May the Lord give you and all who help you health of body and strength of faith to carry on the blessed work, and let me give you the first nine verses of Joshua as from the Lord. I enclose you a little sum to show my sympathy in another form than words." Altogether £207 11s 9d has reached us this day, besides 12 pairs of stockings and some useful clothing. Truly, we have reason to praise our Heavenly Father for the loving sympathy and help of His people.

Nov. 7.—Donations in kind are always acceptable, and among to-day's are 8 bags of oatmeal, 24 loaves, 3 boxes of fish, 23 dozen spoons and forks, a swing for the Invalid Home, used clothing, and 8 pairs socks. All these are necessities for the maintenance of the family, and the receipt of them lessens our expenditure and lightens our burdens.

Nov. 12.—5s from "one who knows what it means to be an orphan girl. Sorry this is so little, but it may help to get a drink of milk for a few of your privileged little ones." £1 from Aberdeen. A grateful girl, once in the Homes, sends £1, "a little thankoffering, little in comparison with the indebtedness I feel." £5 from an anonymous donor, "to be used for whatever is most in need." A legacy of £300 left by an unknown friend in the East of Scotland has also been paid to-day, so our treasury is fuller than it has been for months past.

Nov. 18.—We have been greatly helped and comforted by the letters of sympathy which have accompanied nearly every donation to hand these past weeks. Among them are the following:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I have often addressed a note to your lamented husband, but now it is your name instead. I enclosed a very small sum (£1). It was the last I sent, and felt it to be so small. He sent such a nice reply, telling me how he accepted the little as gratefully as the large sums. He was in reality a good and great man. It is fifteen years since I visited the Homes first with my dear mother, now gone home. She valued Mr. Quarrier's work so much. She was such a friend herself to little ones, and those who had few friends to help them. I went down to Bridge of Weir the funeral day, and I will never regret it. I felt as if mourning for a near relative. Heaven seemed a near reality that day—earth forgotten. I came away feeling as if no other was left to do the work, as I looked on the number of little orphans losing such a friend, but God knew best. I felt all was in His hands when I read in Joshua i. and 2, "Moses My servant is dead." But He had Joshua secured to take His servant's place, so that His plans might be still carried out. I see He is the same God yet. He changeth not. His great power was behind dear Mr. Quarrier, and He will still be your God unto death, your husband, and the Father of the fatherless. My prayer is that many prayers may ascend for you and your family, that you may be guided and strengthened in your great work, and Mr. Quarrier's heart still cheered, looking down and seeing the noble work he loved so well still prospering under your charge.

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I hope you will excuse my addressing you, though a stranger. This is the time of year when I send my small contribution to the work so ably begun and carried on by your dear husband, and I thought I might at the same time say how much I feel for you in this season of deep trial. I know the God of the widow is with you, and His tender love will support and bless you all the way, till He brings you home. But the way often seems very long, as I know very well, being the last left of my family, but every step is guided: an arm of almighty love and strength is always around us. And what a joy we look forward to, when the whole family is completely united in the Saviour's presence. My old home was in Edinburgh, where I lived with a sister who worked, even beyond her strength, among the poor and degraded, and knew the comfort of helping to send some poor children to be under your husband's care. Now I am sure she has been one in the crowd of the redeemed who would welcome him home to the Saviour's presence. May we live in the joyful assurance that we, too, will soon be there, and be done with sin and suffering, and will never more grieve our beloved Lord with one thought not fully in accordance with His will.—With loving sympathy, I am, yours sincerely,

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—In common with many thousands of those who knew your late husband, and were acquainted with his noble work, the news of his death came as a great shock. It was my privilege two years ago to visit the Homes, and I was then much impressed with the evidences of the magnificent ideals so grandly carried out by your husband. The loss of his kindly oversight and wise governance will be greatly missed by his large orphan family, and to you the loss will be unspeakably great, but you, doubtless, and the orphans, will realise that God is still the husband of the widow and the Father of the fatherless. May God's richest consolations be granted to you and yours, and I feel assured that He who feeds the ravens when they cry, will raise up friends to carry forward the work so nobly inaugurated by your dear husband.

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—Just a little mite to help to roll your chariot along, and whenever I can I will send as a token of our admiration for your husband's devotion to the great charity of which our Scotland may justly be proud, and of our sympathy with you in your daily effort to sustain and uphold his honoured memory. God be with you. He is, but I pray for you to have the consciousness of it.—Yours, too, in the Master's service.

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—It was with feelings of deep regret that I read of your husband's removal from our midst, and I pray that God may give you of His grace freely in this hour of need. Though I did not know Mr. Quarrier personally, he ever seemed to me a friend—indeed, anyone who loves “the children” could not but love and esteem him, who was such a friend to them. Thank you very much for sending me the note. It was kind of you, as I have not been able for some time now to send anything, but will always remember the work. I pray that God may continue to bless, as he has done, the Homes, and that very soon all the desires of Mr. Quarrier's heart may be fulfilled. I enclose a small sum, which you can use in any way most suitable.—Trusting you will accept of my sincere sympathy for you.

DEAR MADAM.—In your loss we also suffer, for, although I never met Mr. Quarrier, his personality seemed well known to us, and his work came home to our hearts. The harvest has ripened, and God's sickle has cut down the life come to its fulness. By faith, we say 'tis well. In the time of sadness, when the heart is torn and bleeding, we turn to the Saviour. Who can comfort so well as He who suffered! May God's peace be with you!

Well may our hearts be cheered when we know so many of God's people are holding up our hands by prayer and supplication to Him who has called us to do this work for Him.

Nov. 26.—Yesterday the annual meeting was held in Glasgow, and it was encouraging to have the presence of many friends. The following account of the proceedings will interest some who were unable to be present:—

THE thirty-second annual meeting in connection with the Orphan Homes of Scotland, the Consumption Sanatoria, and the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, founded by the late William Quarrier, was held in the Christian Institute, Glasgow, yesterday afternoon. Lord Provost Sir John Ure Primrose, Bart., presided, and among the others on the platform were:—Lord Overtoun, Sir Thomas Glen-Coats, Bart., Paisley; Sir Samuel Chisholm, Bart.; Rev. Dr. Donald Macleod; Rev. Leonard Miller, Jamaica; Rev. Principal Hutton, Paisley; Rev. D. M. McIntyre, Rev. Wm. Ruthven, Rev. Mr. Miller, Rev. Mr. Martin, Pastor Findlay, Rev. Dr. Paton, St. Paul's; Rev. George A. Jeffrey, Rev. J. R. Chrystal, Hamilton; Rev. A. F. Forrest, Professor Barlow, Dr. Ebenezer Duncan, Dr. Henderson, Dr. Coats, Dr. Ross, Dr. Brown Henderson, ex-Bailie Sinclair, Councillor J. P. Maclay; Messrs. Robert Binnie, R. A. Bryden, S. T. Baker, Rutherglen; Leonard Gow, Robert Buchanan, James Bilsland, Alex. MacKeith, and A. M. Niven.

After Mr. R. A. Bryden had submitted the annual report,

The LORD PROVOST said they were met under the shadow of bereavement and loss, and they could not help their thoughts unconsciously turning to him who for thirty long years was the central figure at a gathering such as that, and whose efforts resulted in an institution and a movement so powerful as the Orphan Homes of Scotland. In his boyhood he had intimate association with the late Mr. Quarrier, and throughout his life he ever revered and honoured that rugged, resolute, heroic, devoted Christian man. (Applause.) While they mourned the leader gone, they knew that his trust and his confidence were in that God who had been his help in ages past, who was his help, and whom he believed would be the help of those who followed for years to come, and in that spirit they confidently looked forward to the loyal hearts, the willing and capable hands who would carry on that great movement, and if the past had been luminous with the magnificent service it has rendered humanity, the future would hold additional chapters of that development. (Applause.) No thoughtful man could fail to recognise the value of that work. We heard a great deal about the doctrine of heredity and the train it brought, but Mr. Quarrier in his life and work proved that environment was a terrific force overwhelming all taints of heredity, and in the young lives, given proper environment and proper teaching, all that disappeared. To-day from our own land and from another Continent a chorus of redeemed lives acclaimed and testified to the nobleness of that work. Much remained to be done, but the most hopeful aspect of it lay in getting the young and guiding them. It was very difficult to redeem and build up a broken and lost life that had run a long course, but it was comparatively easy to take a young, plastic, pliable mind, open to impression, to discipline, and effort, and to build out of it not only a Christian, but a capable citizen. That was the work which lay before those who were called to follow their great departed leader. If they were animated by his spirit, the work which William Quarrier began would have yet fuller and more perfect development. (Applause.)

Sir THOMAS GLEN-COATS moved the adoption of the report. He said that anyone acquainted with Mr. Quarrier's work knew that it was one of faith and prayer. It was conducted under no ordinary circumstances, and anyone who had read Mr. Quarrier's diary knew that always in the long run funds came in to meet requirements. In one interesting case, when it was decided to take the children on a trip to the coast, for which £100 was required, a gentleman wrote stating that he could not go away without contributing a sum for the poor children. Funds had never failed for Mr. Quarrier's work. Mr. Quarrier's personality never failed, and he had a great deal to do with providing the funds. Every one who had met Mr. Quarrier, and knew his work, had the utmost sympathy and confidence in what he did, and resolved to help him. The question now came to be whether those left behind could keep the work going. He thought, however, that there could not be any doubt on that point.

Mr. ALEX. MACKEITH seconded. He said no one could help remembering what a great champion Mr. Quarrier had been for the poor children of the city. He had not the slightest doubt that the necessary money would be found to carry on the work which he had initiated.

Rev. Dr. DONALD MACLEOD said that Mr. Quarrier's work was one of the greatest in modern Christianity, and that he had no doubt as to its continuance. It would be a subject dreadful to contemplate if it came to an end or was weakened in any way.

Lord OVERTOUN said the life and work of Mr. Quarrier was a standing rebuke to unbelief, and a proof of the existence and the power of the grace of God.

Dr. EBENEZER DUNCAN said that before Mr. Quarrier undertook the work of the sanatoria he had a great struggle in his own mind, but he was satisfied that he began it under the inspiration of God. The need for trying to stop the ravages of consumption had come to be a burning question. He was sorry that the Glasgow Town Council had decided to do nothing for the erection of sanatoria. They said that was the duty of the parochial authorities. Dr. Ebenezer Duncan described a case in which a young man suffering from consumption had been recommended to the care of the parochial authorities, but a dispute arose between the authorities here and in Dundee, where the young man was born, as to which was responsible; and thus delay occurred that endangered the chances of the patient being successfully treated. If sanatoria were under the charge of municipalities, a better system might be inaugurated. They might improve the dwellings of the people to any extent they liked, but unless they could abolish poverty they would never prevent such instances as he had mentioned. People would continue to sleep together in lodging-houses, and the disease would continue to spread. He hoped the great public attention which was being displayed in this question would lead to a remedy of the present inadequate means for treating consumptives.

Sir SAMUEL CHISHOLM commended to the public the Colony of Mercy scheme, which was one of the last projects that Mr. Quarrier had taken up. The aim of it was to erect homes for the treatment of epileptics, and he trusted that sufficient funds would be forthcoming, so that this important branch of Mr. Quarrier's work might be carried out.

The reports were adopted, and the meeting concluded with the usual votes of thanks.

Nov. 30.—A dear old friend, whose gifts have annually helped to supply the needs of the work, writes:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—I enclose cheque for £2, my usual contribution toward the fund for the Bridge of Weir Homes. I hope those Homes may continue to be well supported, and be a great blessing. Your dear husband was greatly blessed and encouraged in the great work he commenced and carried on so earnestly, and now our loving Master has taken him to his reward on high, to be for ever with Himself, I hope you have been sustained and comforted under the sad trial it has pleased our loving Father to send on you, and that you may be helped and encouraged in the good work you and your family are continuing to carry on. I hope to remember you in prayer, but as I am now 91, my time here cannot be long; but I am in the hands of Him who knows best when to take home His own. With kind regards, sincere sympathy, and commending you to Him who says "I will not leave you comfortless, I will come to you," I remain, yours sincerely.

From "The Phoebe Band" a large and very useful contribution of clothing numbering 354 garments is to hand, "with the deepest sympathy of the members in the irreparable loss you have sustained." It is impossible to express in words our warm appreciation of the help given to us by such organisations as this Band, and the many work parties held in halls, and schools, and private homes, where friends gather to sew and make garments for our bairns. Over and over again these contributions have reached us at the very time they were needed, and we have seen God's hand working for us in such a seemingly small thing as a warm article of clothing for a needy child, and when greater needs have perplexed us, we have found new courage in the assurance, "Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?" "Your Heavenly Father knoweth what things ye have need of." It has been our privilege during the month to receive 26 new needy little ones, among them an orphan cripple boy nine years of age from Edinburgh, three fatherless children from Govan, a family of four, also fatherless, and the mother in an asylum through her drunken habits.

Dec. 1.—From Brechin, £5; from Arran, 2s 6d; from Motherwell, 10s; from Edinburgh, 5s; from "Fellowship," £5; from a Sabbath School in Busby, £1 3s; from Partick, £4; from Govan, 6s; from Paisley, £1, "the tenth for the children;" from Saltcoats, £2; from Wormit, £1; from Glasgow, £2; from a Sabbath School in Helensburgh, £2 5s 5d; from two workers, £1; from Bedford, £2; left at our City Home by a friend who refused to give his name, £10; from A. G. N., 5s; and £2, with the following letter, make up to-day's gifts:—"DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—In sending my contribution of £2, may I express my sincere sympathy with you in the loss of your excellent husband. I only once saw him in Glasgow, when he took an orphan girl under his care. His kindness and sincerity made an impression on me which have remained, and still make me thankful that I had that interview. I trust you will long be spared to carry on, along with your family, the great and good work which your husband began and left as a heritage to you."

Dec. 7.—A friend in the East of Scotland writes:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—Please find enclosed £2 to help on the work at Bridge of Weir—£1 for the orphans, 10s for the Sanatoria, and 10s for the Colony of Mercy. I usually send £1 in January, but feel led to send this now, when I have it saved up, as we get lessons every day not to put off what we have to do, and the time for helping may soon be past. I wish I could give more, but I am only a working girl. Still, it is sweet to deny oneself for the Master's sake. I received your report the other day, and it is particularly interesting this time, having Mr. Quarrier's portrait, and part of the narrative begun by him, which he never finished. He rests from his labours, and his works do follow him. The Homes at Bridge of Weir, as well as the hundreds of children all over the world who have been rescued by him, are noble monuments to his memory. I had the pleasure and privilege of visiting the Homes some years ago, and what I saw there made me realise more than ever the power of prayer, and what a life yielded to God can accomplish for Him. You must all miss Mr. Quarrier very much, yet it is blessed to know that God remains, though all else may be taken. May He indeed bless you all and comfort you in your deep sorrow, and may the work prosper as it has ever done. I would be very glad if you could send me another report, that I might lend round to friends, and it may interest some who have done nothing yet for the Homes.—Praying that in the days to come strength for the work and great blessing in it may be yours, I am, yours in the Master's service.

An anonymous note, "a little help for the little ones, for Jesus' sake, in loving remembrance of the departed brother in Christ," brings £5, and from other sources we have a total of £349 7s for the Homes, £258 for the Sanatoria, and 10s for the Colony of Mercy, the largest day's receipts for this year. With winter ahead of us and our family increasing, we are most grateful for the generosity, which removes our anxiety as to immediate supplies.

THREE SISTERS SENT TO CANADA IN 1883 AND 1884. ALL MARRIED A YEAR AGO, AND COMFORTABLY SETTLED.

Dec. 12.—£50 5s in money has come to-day, every letter expressing deep sorrow in the great loss the work has sustained, and the feeling of personal loss to the donors. Our valued helpers in the Apsley Place Sewing Meeting have to-day sent us three large hampers containing dresses and other garments, dolls, toys, etc., for all of which we are most grateful. A minister writes as follows:—"A dying mother asks me to offer her three children to you for good. The father is in an asylum with paralysis of the brain, and with no hope of recovery. He is practically dead to the children, and the doctor holds out no hope for the mother. She has been in delicate health for years, and has not been able to do justice to the children, the oldest of whom is ten and the youngest three, all boys. Should the mother die at this time there will be nothing for them but the poorhouse." (Both parents have since died, and the children are now under our care.) It is a great joy to us to help such, and to comfort the dying mother in her extremity. Another minister wrote recently asking us to take a boy whose father, an elder in the church, had died, leaving a widow and four helpless children, two of whom have been otherwise provided for. This boy we have also agreed to admit.

Dec. 18.—The friends who erected one of our Boys' Homes have to-day sent £180 for the upkeep for next six months, thus providing food, clothing, etc., for the 30 boys sheltered there. One other Home is provided for in the same way, and a third is partially supported by an annual donation from trust funds left by the donor of the Home. While it would not be possible for many to "adopt" the whole family of 30 boys in a Home in this way, there are doubtless scores who could easily defray the cost of maintaining one child, i.e., £13 annually, and thus have the joy of doing a bit of personal work for the Master. Altogether, we have received to-day £235 for the Homes, and £4 3s for the Sanatoria. One of a family of four children helped many years ago writes:—

MY DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I, a person whom you probably don't remember, hearing of Mr. Quarrier's death, write to sympathise with you. He certainly did a great deal of good in this world. I have thought, "Oh, if I could only do one-fourth as much good, and save as many children and souls as he did." I am sure he will win a rich reward in heaven. Although death seems strange to us, and is very hard to bear, yet we cannot call them back when the Lord has taken them away. I have been wondering if the Homes will be carried on the same as usual. I left there in 1888. I was at the Bridge of Weir about two years, I think, but I remember you all as if it had been five years. I have now been married four years, and have a happy home, and I have to thank you and yours, as it was through Mr. Quarrier's hands that I am where I am placed now, for I would have gone to wreck and ruin had there been no home for me there when I was young. What was the cause of Mr. Quarrier's death? I should like to learn; and how old was he? Well, it was a miracle how so much work was carried out by him, and in such a way that it seems most difficult to understand, and it takes quite a sum to keep such a family a year, and so many years. I will close for this time with love to you and regrets.

Dec. 23.—A Sabbath School superintendent writes:—"DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—It is with great pleasure that I forward you the sum of £3 8s, the contents of our S.S. Mission box for the year. I cannot tell you how grieved we were at the news of your dear husband's death. He could ill be spared, but I pray that God will strengthen your hands and heart to carry on the noble work of which he was the founder. His name will stand for all time as one of God's heroes, and eternity alone will reveal how he worked for the Master." Besides several parcels of clothing, we have to-day received 2 dozen warm undergarments for children, some dolls, a hamper of bread, a barrel of herring, 2 sheep, 16 bags of flour, also a barrel of paraffin oil. Of the latter, we are at present using 6 forty-gallon barrels per week, and could do with many more such gifts.

Dec. 25.—Christmas Day has brought us many evidences of hearty interest and co-operation. One friend has added £100 to his usual gift, in view of our special trial; a lover of little children sends £1; an unknown friend forwards another as a thankoffering; a working girl gives 2s for the Sanatoria; £10 was in the following letter:—"DEAR SIR,—The enclosed sum was left for the Orphans by my dear mother, who passed to be with her Lord and Saviour after months of sore suffering. She was only the wife of a poor labourer, but she counted herself one of the Lord's stewards. Wishing you every success in your noble labour of love for the Master." One feels such a legacy to be a sacred trust. Another letter of encouragement is as follows:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I have ventured to bring the claims of your great work before a few of my fellow-toilers on the railway, just to show that our dear departed friend is still being remembered. Mr. Quarrier will never be forgotten by any of us, I am sure. The enclosed £5 is the result of my little effort. I have still a few who will gladly put in their mite, and will send their offerings later. Kindly accept this meantime, and may God bless you all is the prayer of. An old friend and helper in Aberdeen, who has for many years done the same service for us, sends £8 11s 8d, collected in behalf of the Homes.

Dec. 26.—Receipts were £220 10s 6d for the Homes, and £7 5s for the Sanatoria.

Dec. 28.—£38 4s for the Homes, and £6 for the Sanatoria.

Dec. 29.—£85 4s for Homes, and £3 for Sanatoria.

Dec. 30.—£121 19s 5½d for Homes, and £21 7s 10½d for Sanatoria.

Dec. 31.—£126 5s 10d for Homes, £3 2s for Sanatoria, and £1 for Colony of Mercy.

These generous gifts enable us to close the month with £1500 on hand, just sufficient for another month's provision for the family. Several very interesting letters have come at this holiday season, leading us to thank God for giving us to see some fruit for the seed sown in former days. A friend sending a donation of £1 writes:—"It may probably give you pleasure to read the enclosed letter from one of your old boys. It must, I think, be six years or so since you sent him and his brothers and sisters to Canada. They were left orphans, and in a very poor way." The letter is a long one, telling of his conversion, and we give some extracts:—

DEAR SIR,—I must apologise for not writing sooner, but you will see that I have occasion to write now. I do not know exactly how to start, but a great change has come over me since I saw you last. I have been converted, and that's the news I want to write you about. I know how you will feel about it, because I remember how you used to teach me to know the Scriptures. I am so thankful that I was not disobedient to the Master's call, and to find out that John iii. and 16 included me. I am married now, and have a baby girl a little over four months, and, my wife being a true Christian, I was ashamed of myself to think that I was not leading a better life. I was very rough at times, and mingled with earthly pleasures, and knew by my early Bible teaching that I was wrong. Last February I was suddenly taken sick with fever, and I felt I would die, so I prayed to God if He spared my life, and restored me to my wife again, I would lead a better life, so in six weeks I was well again. Some time after, I was asked to go to a cottage prayer meeting, and consented, and, praise God, it was the means of my conversion. I did not sleep that night any, and joy came in the morning. I gave my heart to the Lord, and I am born again. I feel like a new person. Praise the Lord for His unspeakable gift! We have a prayer meeting in our house, and I trust we may grow stronger in grace, and be more faithful to the Master.—Your brother in the faith. This lad's two sisters are also converted, and both are married and have comfortable homes.

Jan. 1, 1904.—The special gifts received have made it possible for us to give all the members of the family a very happy New Year's Day. Stockings hung up the night before were found filled in the morning, and special fare was provided for breakfast, dinner, and tea. The Christmas Trees were laden with presents, and everybody shared in the joy of dismantling them. To the workers and older boys and girls the day had its sadness as we thought of our loved one absent for the first time from the festive gathering. £109 8s 11½d for the Homes, and £13 for the Sanatoria have come to hand from eighty sources in sums from 2s 6d to £15. A kind friend has also sent two cheeses.

Jan. 6.—Among to-day's donations is the following letter:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—This day last year our dear wee baby girlie was gathered into the fold by the Good Shepherd, and our hearts were sad at parting with her. A friend had sent £1 in a present to her, and we thought it would be nice to send it on to your late respected husband, so that it might minister to the comfort of some other wee sufferer. The words of loving comfort we received from him in acknowledgment of it were to us a deep source of strength in a time of sorrow, and were often referred to in our sadder moments. This year we send you £1 in memory of our dear wee lamb, and in doing so we feel that we can really share with you in the sorrow of bereavement. We felt very much for you at the time of your husband's death, and prayed, as so many others did, for your strength and comfort. Trusting that our little offering may prove of some small service to some little one in pain or want, and praying that God's continued blessing may rest on the noble work bequeathed to you and those around you.

Jan. 9.—Two separate gifts of £12 and £12 10s have come this week for the maintenance of one child. It would be a very real joy to us if many more of God's stewards would "go and do likewise."

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I have much pleasure in handing you my annual cheque for £17, being £12 for the maintenance of one child for 1904, and £5 for the Consumption Hospital. I desire to take this opportunity of wishing you God's blessing during the year before us. I can well understand how you will miss the strong personality and guiding wisdom of your late lamented husband; but who knows but that his spirit may be exerting a greater influence on behalf of the great work he initiated than he could possibly do when amongst us. I feel assured that God will be with you and your helpers, and although the great worker and the large heart is silent, the beneficent work of rescue will go on bearing fruit for eternity.

Another regular donor, sending £2 10s, says:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—Once again are we privileged to send our mite to help you in the Lord's work, which to you, now so single-handed, must be heavier. How grateful should we always be that nothing can take from us the Giver of our strength, for if anything is true it is that "God is our refuge and strength." He takes our earthly props to Himself, that we may lean the heavier on Him. Scotland cannot realise what she has lost in Mr. Quarrier's death, but perhaps God had come to the place in "the building not made with hands" that he was to fill, and the wise and loving Builder said, "Friend, come up higher." I pray God to dwell with you, to comfort and guide you in all His work, giving to you the wisdom needed for such an undertaking; and when at last you are called to join the loved one gone, may you, too, hear His voice say, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

From Winnipeg we have one hundred dollars (£20 10s 8d), and from Portland, Oregon, the following:—

DEAR MADAM,—In common with many all over the world, I felt a sense of great loss to the cause of Christ and of humanity when I read the news of your husband's death. Accept my sympathy with you and yours in your loss. Enclosed find draft for £2 10s, being a mite to help to carry on the work—to go to the General Fund—from one who is proud of his native land, and of such institutions in it as Quarrier's Homes.

A very acceptable gift this week is a large box containing 348 articles of clothing from Largs Mission Hall Work Party. If those who have helped to make up the box have experienced the truth that "it is more blessed to give than to receive," great joy must have been theirs.

Jan. 12.—A little over £100 has found its way to our exchequer to-day. £12 from Elgin for the support of a little girl the same age as one in the family which sends the gift. £12 from Coatbridge for the same purpose; anonymous donations of £5 from Reta, £5 from I. I. M., and 10s from Glasgow; fifteen contributions have come from Sabbath Schools, Bible Classes, employees, and Y.M.C.A.'s; a sheep farmer sends £13 15s, being part of prize money gained during the season 1903; four children forward their New Year's gift of 5s; a generous donor in the North of England remits £15, and from London we have the following letter:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—Will you kindly acknowledge the enclosed cheque (£10) by return of post. It is to me a great grief that one so disinterestedly devoted to God and the good of the destitute orphan class has been taken away in the midst of his years, and at a period when he seemed to be more than ever needed, and one is sorely tempted to repine and call in question the wisdom of such an event. It needs special grace to feel as we utter the submissive words, "Even so, Father, for so it seemeth right in Thy sight." This is your attitude, I trust, and that of all associated with you in carrying on the signally Christlike work of The Orphanage—one over which "there is joy in the presence of the Angels of God." May He prosper it, and richly comfort you and all who aid you! Many years since, your loved husband did me a great kindness. He took charge of a wee man of tender years, cared for his comfort and welfare, and sent him out to your home in Canada. In my occasional visits to your "model village" I was wont to learn something of the boy, in whom I still feel interested. But age and its accompanys have kept me at home for some years, and hence I have had no "crack" with my sainted friend about "the wee man." If you can get and give me any information concerning him, I shall be grateful, for I am interested in him, as "the only son of his mother," whom I very highly esteemed. At your leisure, if ever you have any, I shall be glad to have you send me a line or two.—With the best wishes I can breathe before the throne, I am, yours very faithfully. The lad referred to is now a man of 30, married, and comfortably settled in a home of his own. He owns and works a cheese factory, and is much respected in the district he lives in. He will be very pleased to know that his old friend has not forgotten him. One of our old girls, an earnest Christian, has less reason to rejoice in the renewal of correspondence with her mother, who for over 15 years had never inquired about her daughter. She writes:—

DEAR FRIEND,—I am writing to you for advice. My mother, whom I believed to be dead, has just written to me asking for help. I sent her some money, but did not think it wise to send her much, for fear it would only go for drink. She says she has been in the hospital sick, and is not able to work. I would be willing to send four dollars a month, as long as I have my health, towards her support, but I could not think of sending her money unless there was someone to look after her, and see that it was used for food and shelter. I have written my brother, asking him to help. He has a good situation, and makes over fifty dollars a month. He is married, and has a baby girl. The thought of mother has always been a great grief to me. I have always worried about her, and yet she may be brought to Christ. I was so sad the night I got her letter, and went over to prayer meeting. We sang—

"When through raging storms thy pathway shall lie,
My grace all sufficient shall be thy supply.
The flame shall not hurt thee. I only design
Thy dross to consume, and thy gold to refine."

It cheered me very much, for I always find trouble brings me nearer Jesus. Will you kindly let me know what will be the best way to help her. I have just heard of Mr. Quarrier's death. You have my sincere sympathy in your sorrow. I hope the work will grow and prosper.

Jan. 16.—Besides 12 pairs socks mentioned in the following letter, £21 9s in money has come in to-day:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I am sending you on to-day a small parcel of twelve pairs of boys' socks. Some of them were done some time ago, before my illness, and the rest, I am glad to say, I have been able to do since I have recovered to a certain extent. I do not think I will be able to do my usual quantity, but intend to go on in the work that has been to me such a great pleasure, and in my lonely life a great blessing. I will never forget the happy visit paid to you many years ago, when you entertained myself and friends at your own table; and, more than all, the blessed intercourse of all these years by letter with your beloved one, now gone to his rest and reward. Many a time, when my own faith was faint, the reading of one of the letters, and thinking of both the work and the worker, has given me a new inspiration to go on, nothing fearing or doubting, but sure that God was still the hearer and answerer of prayers.

Jan. 23.—A Sabbath School Secretary writes:—

DEAR MADAM,—We have pleasure in forwarding £2 for the homes. We do not say what purpose it is to be used for. You can put it to whatever fund is in most need. We are a little later in sending our contribution than last year, but the reason is that the teachers had a desire to send something more this year than last, so therefore we waited till the end of the year, to see how we stood, and we have something left after paying everything, so we have doubled our subscription of last year. We hope that God will still go on prospering the great work you have in hand.

"A Glasgow Postman" sends 10s as a thankoffering for blessings received during 1903. A widow forwards her "mite," 4s, and from Dollar we have £7, collected by seven friends there. Two grateful aunts of a family now under our care write from the United States:—

TO MR. QUARRIER—DEAR SIR,—We have heard that you have in your care four children belonging to our sister. We heard you at one time in Paisley, Scotland, and we are glad that the children have been left to your care. My sister, their mother, married a drinking man, and we believe she lost heart, and got careless. The poor children, we don't know how they have been brought up. Three of them we have never seen. We do pray that their young hearts may be given to Jesus. We are trusting in the Lord, and know He saves and keeps all those who put their trust in Him. Mr. Quarrier, my sister and myself are led of God to send you £1. It will help a little. We are only working girls, but God is with us, and helps us to give a little to help on His work. In doing so we are blessed. Dear Sir, would you be so kind as let us know how the children are getting along?

Jan. 26.—J. and C., unknown helpers, send 2s, also 12 pairs stockings, 6 handkerchiefs, 6 caps, and a quantity of needles, thread, buttons, etc., a very useful gift. "Hallside," also anonymous, sends 6s, and last night we had from "Nemo" £1, being the Lord's tenth of a gift received unexpectedly, and from a "Wellwisher" 2s 6d. The Master, who sat over against the Treasury and noted the widow's offering, knows the givers, and will reward them.

Jan. 30.—£23 12s for the Homes, and £2 14s 6d for the Sanatoria to hand to-day, and we close the month with hearts overflowing in gratitude to God for the bounteous supplies He has sent us. Our friends, Dr. and Mrs. Anderson, of the China Inland Mission, who, while on furlough during the past year, gave us valuable help, left us this month for their field of labour in the land of Sinim. One of our helpers, Miss A. G. Leith, who for five years had "mothered" one of our Girls' Homes, has also gone as a member of the same Mission. Many prayers will follow these dear friends, and our bairns will take a warmer interest in foreign missions because of their personal acquaintance with these missionaries.

Among the children admitted during the month are two boys, 10 and 8, from Govan. Father, a drunkard, disappeared 6 years ago, and has not been heard of since. The mother earns 10s a week, and has never applied for parish relief, but she now finds herself unable to maintain her boys. Three boys and a girl, ages 4 to 13, are taken on the recommendation of an Inspector of Poor. The father died from a fall, and the mother has given way to drink. Two boys, 7 and 4, and a girl, 8, come from Kirkcaldy, where their father died 3 years ago. Three fatherless boys, 12, 10, and 6, are brought from Edinburgh by their delicate mother. Three orphan children from Paisley, the youngest scarcely 2 years old, and three boys from Glasgow, also orphans, have all been added to our big family. Two of our old boys in Canada send the following letters:—

MRS. QUARRIER—DEAR FRIEND,—I received your letter in due time, and was sorry to hear that my kind friend, Mr. Quarrier, also Mr. James Burges and Mr. Thomson, were all dead. I don't know whether you will remember me or not. I was in the Homes, I think, about four years with you there at Bridge of Weir. I came to this country about eight years ago, and I am well pleased with it. I was a very small boy of eleven years old. I am not very large yet for my age, but still I have grown quite a lot; and I have learned a great many things in this new country. I am learning to do all kinds of farm work in the summer. Truthfully, I think it has been good for me. I have not made up my mind yet what I will do when I grow up. At the present time I am going to school. I am trying to get all the education I can. They tell me here I will need an education, no matter what I do. I have a pretty good home. There are not many of a family here. I have a very good time of it—not an awful lot to do, and all I can eat and drink of everything good, and lots of good clothes to wear. The people I am with are nice people. They are known to be nice all over the neighbourhood, and I know it. They are good to me anyway. There is a little girl here too. She came here a year before I did. She is a very nice little girl. It is not a big farm we are on—only fifty acres—but it is good land, a fine house, and a good big barn. It is easy doing the work around in it. We keep two horses and ten cows. I milk five most of the time when they are milking. We live near a railroad, and see the steam cars every day. Hoping you are all well, and thanking you all for your kindness in the past.—With kind regards.

DEAR FRIEND,—I now take the pleasure of writing to you to let you know that I am getting along well. I was quite surprised when I heard that Mr. Quarrier was dead. I was quite lonesome for a while. I am sure you will all miss him. He did do a lot for me when I was over there. He took me in when no other would. Only for him I would not be as well as I am. He is a man that I will never forget while I live. There would be quite a dull time in losing these three good friends. If ever I come over to Scotland, I will come and see the Homes of Bridge of Weir again. There have been a lot of changes since I came to Canada. The place that I am in now, I am here a little over seven years. It is a good Christian home. I like the country well. It has been very cold during the last month and half. Please give my sympathy to all the friends.—Your loving friend.

Feb. 3.—£22 17s 2d for the Homes, and £1 10s for the Sanatoria to-day. £6 11s 8d came from an Edinburgh Sabbath School, the Treasurer for which writes:—

It is with the truest pleasure that I again send you a contribution from our Sabbath school, which it has been our great privilege to do for so many years. Our joy this time, however, is touched with sorrow. Since we sent our last contribution, your husband, and the loved father of those fatherless children, has been called home. He was known personally by some of our teachers, and our scholars were always deeply interested when his kind and loving letters were read to them, acknowledging our little gifts. The memory of his devoted life shall ever remain dear to all our hearts. We rejoice to know that the work will still go on, and we would pray that God may abundantly strengthen you by His grace, and that His richest blessing may continue to rest on all the work throughout the future, as it has done in the past.

Feb. 4.—Among to-day's letters the two following were specially cheering:—

DEAR FRIEND,—Enclosed please find postal order for 10s, for any purpose you think best. Sorry we are so long in sending our donation this year, but we were not quite so able to send it, still we will manage a little. I have trimmed some hats, and am sending them. Will they be of any use? You are just to tell me if they are not. I'll not be the least offended, as there is no use sending anything that can't be worn. This is my work, and I might be able to send something like this when I couldn't send money. Trust you will have a good year. We have never got over Mr. Quarrier's death yet. How you will miss him! God grant that you may be long spared to fill his place, if it can be filled.—Trusting the blessing of God may rest on you all.

The hats are a very acceptable gift, and quite as useful as their money equivalent.

DEAR MADAM.—I enclose cheque for £4 10s for the Orphan Homes of Scotland. I never had the honour of meeting Mr. Quarrier, but have always had the deepest respect and admiration for him, not only for his world-wide work, but for a grace which touched me closely. A beloved nurse, who brought up all our children, who years before her death suffered from fearful rheumatism, as long as she could knit at all, used to knit little jackets for the Homes; and, in spite of dropped stitches and bad work from helpless fingers, Mr. Quarrier never failed to acknowledge. He knew their value in the sight of God. And his little notes were to her a treasure.—With earnest good wishes for your work.

Our loved one always appreciated the help of the old friend mentioned, and he often said he would rather have "the widow's mite" given in the Master's name and for His sake, than the larger gifts given to secure the praise of man.

Feb. 8.—From Musselburgh, £1; from Warwickshire, £1; from Wales, £50; from Grangemouth, 10s; from Aberdeen, 12s 6d; from a Sabbath School, 15s; from another, 5s; anonymous, a parcel of 32 hoods and underclothing; from Transkei, S.A., £1; from an unknown friend, Ayr postmark, £5. These are all included in the £62 17s 6d to hand to-day, also a self-denial gift from the Transvaal, with the accompanying letter:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—Be assured of our prayerful sympathy. You will value the enclosed £2 10s all the more for the fact that it comes from our S.S. children, and still all the more when you know that this sum is absolutely out of our poverty. We are practically without a church or school, are trying to raise £200 to put up a tiny place, and even this seems impossible. None the less, but rather all the more, because of these our own difficulties, we felt we should send you the enclosed. May our gracious God have you and all your dear ones in His holy keeping.

Feb. 13.—To-day's gifts, amounting to £15 14s for the Homes, and £10 for the Sanatoria, have come from Kilmarnock, Forres, Dunfermline, Dundee, Huntly, Slamannan, Bathgate, Tighnabruach, Edinburgh, and from "Meal Bag," an unknown donor, whose postmark is Glasgow. The following letter is to hand from one of our Canadian lads, taken many years ago from great poverty and evil surroundings:—

DEAR MRS. AND MISS QUARRIER.—I have not forgotten, although I have never written before. It is twelve years now since I left the Homes the 24th of this March. Well, I suppose you would like to hear how I have got along since I have come to Canada. I am farming all the time. I have grown up to be quite a man now. I weigh 156 lbs., and am about 5 ft. 3 in. in height. There are lots of Christian people out here as well as there. I have not saved up much money yet, but I am getting on now, that I am. I have taken great interest in reading your letters this year—in fact, every year that I have got them. I like to hear how the Homes and the work are getting along. I was sorry when I heard of Mr. Quarrier's death, but I suppose it was God's will. He did quite a lot for Scotland, I tell you, and I know that, for my part, he did for me. I did not think so when I was there, but I see it now since I have grown up. I don't suppose you remember much of me, but I remember quite a lot of you. Although I was very small, I remember coming across in the boat, and leaving the Homes in waggons, and where the church stands and the school, but I don't suppose I would know the Homes now; it has changed quite a lot, I suppose, since I left there. I wish I had the picture of the Homes. I would like to see them again, to see the change. If I ever go back to the old country (Scotland) I will visit the Homes, as I would like to see them. I hope I will be able to give something to the Homes sometime for the good it has done me. We had a very rough road since our mother died. We were very young too. I was in the Homes about two years, I guess, and came out here very small. I am twenty-two years old now. Are you sending out any boys to Canada now? Could you send me out one, or do you send them out in that way now? I am farming now, and I would like to get a good little Scotch boy, about ten years o'd. It would be a good home for him, if he has none. How much would it cost to bring him to Brockville from there?—Waiting for your answer, and wishing you all a happy year.

Feb. 22.—J. V. B. sends £2, to be divided between the Homes and Sanatoria; a Bible Class in Newcastle, £1; a preacher, 10s; a country

Sabbath School, 6s; and another 8s 6d; a donor in North Queensland, £1; and "a grateful patient" writes:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER.—I enclose £5 11s 7d, which I have collected among friends. I am so pleased I have been able to send you more than double this year. I was so sorry to see by the report that a charge has had to be made. I hope this year that more subscriptions will be sent you, and that you will be able to help those who aren't able to pay. I am so glad to tell you that I am keeping strong and well since I left the Sanatoria two years ago. It has been a great pleasure to collect this year, as people have given so willingly, and I have enjoyed the walks. Some days I covered a distance of seven miles.—With kind regards, I am a grateful patient.

Feb. 24.—An unknown friend in Edinburgh has to-day sent, through a writer, £200, with the request that £100 should be devoted to the epileptics. We are still looking for large sums for this new branch of the work, and are much encouraged by this anonymous gift.

Feb. 26.—"For the Orphan Homes, as a thankoffering to God for

THE CHILDREN'S CHURCH AND CEMETERY.

His goodness and kindness to me," £1; 6s from a Sabbath School; and £1 10s from other sources are the only gifts to-day for the Homes, but two friends have sent us £1000 for the Colony of Mercy, leading us anew to praise God for the tokens of His favour towards this new effort.

We close February with a much smaller balance on hand for the General Fund than we began it with, and with a larger family to provide for. Thirty-nine needy children have been taken in. Among them are two little girls, 8 and 4, whose father, once in comfortable circumstances, died a few days ago after an operation. The mother became insane, and in December had to be placed in an asylum; two boys, 7 and 5, whose father died of consumption; two little girls from Paisley, the eldest of whom is hopelessly ill with consumption; also five members of a family whose father is dying of the same dreadful disease, to which his wife and two other children succumbed within the past three years. Among recent letters from Canada are the following:—

DEAR MADAM,—I received the New-Year's letter, but have neglected answering for some time, but I always answer the letter from the Homes, as I always look forward with great pleasure for it. It has really been a year of mourning and loss for the Homes, but the will of the Lord must be done, and although we think such things are hard to bear, yet there is an overseeing Providence, Who knows and sees better than we do, and always does such things for the best. The men who have passed away have served their time in the service of their Master, and now He has called them to their reward. They will be sadly missed at the Homes, but God will have somebody to carry on His work. I am always glad to hear of the improvements made at the Homes, the Consumption Sanatoria, and the other institutions which Mr. Quarrier's pity for his fellow-creatures led him to found. I live on a farm out here. We have had very cold weather—30, 33, and 39 deg. below zero a few days ago. As soon as I am able I will send enough to pay for my passage out here, and trunk of clothes. I shall probably be over in the spring, and will pay the Homes a visit if I am, as I would like to see No. 6, where I used to live. I think I will close my letter now. If all the boys and girls wrote, I am sure you would be tired reading letters. I shall be glad to hear from the Homes at any time.

MY DEAR FRIEND, MRS. QUARRIER,—I was very sorry to hear Mr. Quarrier was dead, and I believe it will be a great loss to the Homes, and to the good work he carried on. He was the means of many a one getting a good home, and learning to do what is right. I was also very sorry to hear of Mr. Burges being dead. Last April Mr. Quarrier wrote to me, and was telling me that Mr. Burges was dead, but I never thought it was him. I remember him well. He was very kind to me when I was in Brockville. After I left there he came twice to see me, but the last time he came I was at school, so I did not see him, so when he is dead I feel sorry to think that I will never see him again. I am sure that you and Mrs. Burges will miss them both very much. I have a good, comfortable home. I have just the same privileges that the others in the house have. They get me all the clothes I want, and everything else that I need. I am in the fourth book, and I am still going to school. So you will know how kind they are to me, when they let me go to school, and do the work themselves, for they have no family. My sister Lizzie is keeping well, although she has a lot of work to do. We see each other very often, for we live very near. I think I have said all this time.—Hoping to hear from you soon.

March 2.—£4 from four friends in Greenock; £2 8s 7d from an Edinburgh friend, to be spent in the warehouse from which this has been paid to her as dividend; £60 from "Sympathy;" £5 from Howwood, Milton of Campsie, and Dunlop; £4 from Edinburgh; 10s from an orphan girl helped; 6s from a regular donor for Sanatoria; 10s from Stirling; £1 from London; 5s from East Linton; 2s 6d from Tobermory; and donations from Sabbath Schools in Hamilton, Dunblane, and Campbelltown have reached us to-day.

March 5.—A lady calling left £10 for the Sanatoria, and another old worker and friend brought £1 for the Colony of Mercy. A Nairn Sabbath School sends 13s 4d; a friend in Crieff £1; another in Edinburgh £5; and from a Church Sewing Society in Dunfermline we have £6 and a box containing 191 garments, all of which will be useful in clothing the needy little ones. A lady in Fife also sends 10 pairs stockings and 12 articles of clothing, the work of her two maids.

March 11.—£1, part of money belonging to an only child whom the Good Shepherd has taken to Himself, and who in her lifetime used to send her pennies to help orphan boys and girls; 6s for the Sanatoria, a farewell gift from a frequent donor who is leaving Scotland; 2s from a wellwisher in Edinburgh; £2 2s from Bournemouth, and donations of clothing from Newport-on-Tay, Bathgate, Largs, Kirkliston, and Edinburgh have all come to hand to-day.

March 16.—"An admirer of the noble and devoted work carried on by your late husband on behalf of poor and suffering humanity," 5s; "Elsie and Aimee," £1; a friend, "with love and prayer," 1s; anonymous, £1; ditto, 3s; a Coupar-Angus Bible Class, £1; one in Airdrie, £1; one in Tollcross, 10s; a Glasgow firm, £1 1s; and a Sabbath School, £1 4s 3d; one pair of stockings and one nice jersey for a little boy came with the following note:—

DEAR MADAM,—This is two small articles for some wee boy in Quarrier's Home. They were knitted by a lady who is almost powerless in the left side. It is pitiful to watch her left hand when she tries to hold the wires, but we thank God that her power wasn't taken away altogether.—Wishing you all success in your good work, I am, one who loves the bairns.

March 19.—Only 30s for the Homes, and 5s for the Sanatoria to-day.

March 22.—£19 9s 8½d came yesterday, £3 of it from South Africa, and £1 from New Zealand, and to-day £38 11s 9d has reached us; £2 in memory of a beloved only son whom God took home a year ago; £20 from an aged friend now one hundred years old; and £12 from friends in Leith, who have undertaken the maintenance of a boy in the Homes.

March 26.—£10 6s 1d came to-day, and by the late post a most welcome gift of £300 from friends who have often helped the work, but never before so largely.

March 29.—£20 from Illinois, U.S.A.; £2 from New Zealand; and £5 from a missionary in Natal have come to hand, also 35s, with the following letter:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER—I have much pleasure in enclosing a postal order for the sum of thirty-five shillings. It is the proceeds of a little sale that we had in our house on Saturday. For several months past four little girls and two of my daughters have been sewing and knitting every Saturday afternoon with this end in view, and the result of their labours and a few donations from their friends amounted to the sum above stated. It was a great pleasure to the children, and I hope and believe the seed that has been sown by these sewing meetings will bear more fruit in the future. Their ages are from nine to twelve years.

Among the 38 children added to our number during March are two sisters and a brother from Edinburgh, a boy 12 years of age, a brother and sister, 10 and 8, three brothers and a sister from 6 to 14, all of whom have lost one or both parents through consumption. Three children were brought to us by the agent of the S.P.C.C., who found the children neglected, the father being dead and the mother living in a caravan. A little deformed boy, 8 years of age, was brought from a Home in Greenock, where he had been under medical treatment, but the Home being for adults, he could not be kept longer. An orphan boy, 10 years of age, whose father, a missionary, was accidentally drowned, is also among the number taken in. One of our old boys writes:—

DEAR MRS. QUARRIER—I now take the pleasure of writing to you, and am sorry I did not write before. I was sorry to hear of your sad bereavement, but Mr. Quarrier has gone to realms of glory, and he will be looking down on the Homes, and watching their development. He has left a record behind him which few men have ever done. The Homes stand as a monument of God's grace, and of His devoted servant's ceaseless prayers and work and ministering to the Saviour's little children. I never realised the blessing which was in the Homes until I left them. I have been saved from poverty and want, and have been enabled through the teachings received there to live a Christian life, and I shall pray with all my heart for the Orphan Homes of Scotland. I should like a glimpse of them now, with their peaceful quietness from the outer world. How many boys and girls have been saved from the evil influences of the world through the Homes. I will write regularly, and hope to send some money yet.

In the midst of busy toil helping others, it is cheering to hear of good results from past seed sowing.

April 30.—The contributions this month have been less than in any previous one of the year, and but for the balance over from March we would have been in difficulties. Every day, however, brought some gift.

sometimes as little as 2s 6d for the day when we need £60. We were not without anxiety, lest we should be unable to meet our responsibilities, but we were able, by God's help, to do this, and to praise Him again for His faithfulness. With the summer before us when gifts usually fall off, we seek for grace to roll over our burden on Him whose instruments we are, and whose glory we desire, above all things. Only 15 children have been admitted during the month, an unusually small number. Not that we have refused any really deserving applicants, but there have not been as many seeking help. One of our old girls writes:

MY DEAR FRIEND,—I have been a long time in writing to you, though by my silence you must not imagine I have forgotten you. I often feel a "wee bit home sick." All the sorrow that has befallen the dear old home has been my sorrow too, for I did not live there so long and so happily to forget readily all the love and kind thought bestowed on me by one and all. I hear there is to be a memorial erected by the workers in the village for the dear one who has passed away. I should like to help, if I may, for, though far away, I still feel I belong to you all. I am doing the best I can to put a little sunshine into the lives of others. I cannot write more, my heart is too sore. You will accept my heart-felt sympathy, won't you? It is another link to bind us to a better country where there will be no more partings.

We thank God for the many who received their early training in the Homes who are now striving, in various corners of the great Harvest-field, to shine for Jesus. We are apt to feel discouraged at times when gratitude is wanting and our work seems fruitless, but it is not enough to do—one must keep on doing and leave results to Him who has bid us sow beside all waters, and whose patience and long-suffering toward us should produce in us the same patience with others.

May 2.—£7 6s for the Homes, and £5 for the Sanatoria.

May 4.—From Crosshill, £1; from Falkirk, £1; from Leith, £1; from Ayr, £1; from London, £1; from Raeberry Street, £1, of which 10s is for Sanatoria; from Elgin, £5; from R. S. and two anonymous donors 1s each; from Downhill, 3s 6d, "regretting it is not more;" from Govan, 6s; from a grateful relative of children helped, 10s; from Scotstoun, 12s; from a few S.S. children near Jedburgh, 5s, and some flowers; from two Sabbath Schools, £1 1s each. These sums, with £14 8s 4d forwarded by the hon. treasurer of the S.S. Union from fourteen Sabbath Schools, make up the provision for to-day, the largest amount for maintenance received for many weeks.

May 7.—"A thankoffering for blessing received" from a widow, £5; £1 from a frequent donor in Crieff; 5s from a class of working girls; 10s from York; £2 from Kelvinside; 10s from a S.S. in Brodick; £1 from one in Edinburgh; 5s from one in Caithness; and £2 0s 8d from one in Cathcart have come to-day. Yesterday two old friends sent us £50, and from other sources we had £14.

May 10.—£18 has reached us to-day from three different parts of New Zealand, showing that warm hearts across the sea are moved with compassion for the fatherless bairns in the homeland. One friend writes:—

MY DEAR MRS. QUARRIER,—I should like to tell you how much I sympathise with you in your sorrow. It is a bereavement unlike all others. It seems to stand alone, and only those who have been called on to experience such a loss can know what it is. Your thoughts in the midst of your own loneliness will turn to the thought of his blessedness. They are blessed indeed to whom our Lord shall say, "Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me," but to your husband it will be, "Inasmuch as ye have done it to so many of these." It must comfort you to think of the great amount of good he has been able to do, and the great amount of evil he prevented, and you with him. I trust you will have much comfort in the work so near his heart, and which he has left to you to carry on, and that the realised guidance and presence of the Father of these little ones may be felt to be very near you always. I enclose my small contribution, and I wish it were very much more, if only I could.—With much sympathy and regard to you and your children.

Altogether, £69 7s for the Homes, and £11 8s for the Sanatoria to-day, besides a legacy of £90 left by a lady in Belfast, of whose interest in the Homes we knew nothing until this came to hand. Valuable contributions of clothing have come from Moffat and Cupar-Fife Y.W.C.A.'s.

May 14.—£1 from China; £150 from Switzerland, for six months maintenance of our Invalid Home; a legacy of £18 left by our old friend Miss Mary Gebbie; and £27 from other sources have gladdened our hearts.

May 18.—Within the past week legacies of £500 from the late Miss Inglis, Kilcreggan; £100 from Mr. John M'Farlane, Edinburgh; £202 2s 6d from "Thirlestane;" and £225 from Mrs. Macgillivray, Inverness, have been paid, and our treasury is fuller than usual. £50 from an old schoolmate, and £5 from Linlithgow were also welcome gifts.

May 24.—Only 5s yesterday, but to-day a friend who desires to remain unknown has sent £100, and another has given £50 to the Homes and £25 each to the Sanatoria and Colony of Mercy. We have also £2 from Helensburgh, 5s from Fife, and 16s from a Young Men's Bible Class in Galashiels.

May 31.—This month has been one of unusual prosperity in the matter of gifts, and we close with a balance of £2,565 on hand. Doubtless we shall need it all before the summer is over, and we see in this provision a fresh evidence of our Father's care over us. "Before they call I will answer." Thirty members have been added to our family, among them two fatherless girls, 13 and 8 years of age, from Edinburgh; two children, 4 and 2, also from the same city; the mother having a younger child to support, cannot maintain these two; a delicate, deformed boy of 9 was brought by his sister, there being no relatives able to keep him. It is impossible to give anything like a true picture of the condition of many of the children brought to us. Some, of course, have been in comfortable circumstances, and through the death of the parents have been reduced to the verge of starvation. Oh! for more of the spirit that dwelt in the Master, that as we look out upon the multitude we may, like Him, be moved with compassion and give ourselves to help them.

June 2.—10s "in memory of a beloved son;" 5s, an anonymous gift from "one of the Lord's people;" 1s in stamps; a doll's house; £1 7s 9d from a Boys' Brigade B.C.; £1 from Wales; and £1 from Strathblane; with 15s from a Sabbath School in Perth.

June 8.—£2 from one who has recently lost her husband, who was a warm helper of the Homes; £2 from Fife; £33 from one who desires to remain unknown; £2 from Paisley; £1 from Stromness; and the following from an orphan girl helped have come to-day:—

DEAR FRIEND,—I have never taken the pleasure of writing you before, which I should have done, and thanked you for your kindness to me and the rest of the family. I can never thank you enough for what you have done for me. I enclose those shillings to help to carry on the Lord's work. I like my place very well. The people are very nice to me. I am sure it takes a lot of money to keep so great a work up from year to year. May the Lord bless you, and give you long life to carry it on. When the great day of reward comes, no one is more certain of the Master's commendation—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me"—than Mr. Quarrier.—With love to all from one of your girls.

A lad helped, who had evidently not heard of the death of his old friend, writes from California:—

DEAR FRIEND,—Could you kindly give me any information that would lead to some definite knowledge respecting my parents? Perhaps you will remember me as one of your boys that sought shelter in your Home about the year 1882-83. I fully realise that requests of this nature must reach your office daily, and sincerely trust that I shall not appear inconsiderate of your time and patience. I am glad to report that I am getting along nicely, being at present engaged in fraternal work. Have recently been married; therefore the desire to learn more about my past history. I feel that you are the only one that can assist me in this matter, and I trust you will do so, no matter how unpleasant the news may be to me. I received a letter from you about nine years ago, in which you stated that an aunt of mine was still living, also an uncle. Could you kindly give me their address? Are you in possession of any photographs of any of my people? If so, I will gladly send you the money to have them reproduced.—Trusting that you are still alive and well, and with deep and lasting gratitude for past favours, I remain.

We had no satisfactory news to send him of his relatives. In his case "yea they may forget" had been all too true, and we could only remind him of the Friend above all others who had, when father and mother forsook him, taken him up.

June 11.—Through a writer, £100; from Crathie, a thankoffering of £1; from an Elgin S.S., 17s 5d; for mercies received, 10s for the children; from Kilmarnock, £2, half for consumptives; from Crieff, £1; from Edinburgh, 10s; from Scotstoun, 12s; from Scone, 10s; from an unknown giver in Strathaven, 10s; a dear old friend, sending £3 from his wife and self, says—"I need not say how much we miss the voice that was ever pleading with God and men on behalf of needy ones. May all abounding grace be continued to you all."

June 18.—£5 from "Emma," who gives no other name or address; £1 from an "Isolated Farm House Sunday Class." Among the contributions to hand this week is a legacy of £100 from the late Mrs. Corbett, whose husband was the donor of the £2,000 which in 1871 led the beloved father of the Orphan Homes to consecrate himself to the work of child rescue. The friends of these old days are one by one passing over, and in the mansions above there will be happy re-unions of those who were "labourers together" in the Master's vineyard here.

June 20.—A dear friend writes:—

DEAR FRIEND,—I have just received the occasional paper, and read it with interest. Both my husband and I are pleased to see that the work is prospering in your hands, and that you are getting the daily strength for the day's work. We are also glad to see that the health of the children is good, and that they have been doing good work at school. We often think of you, and commend you, your fellow-workers, and all in the Homes to our loving Heavenly Father. I have much pleasure in sending you Postal Order — for twenty shillings for the Homes, as "thankoffering for twenty-five years' happy married life." Goodness and mercy have followed us all the days.—I am your loving helper.

How much we owe to the constant believing prayers of God's people we shall never know here, but the assurance that we are so remembered is very sweet and precious to us.

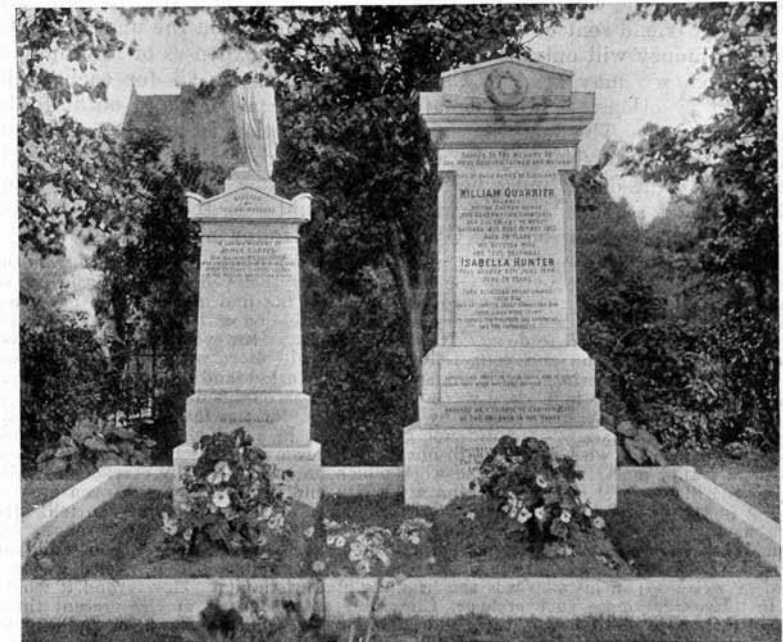

The following letter from one of a family helped 18 years ago is encouraging:—

DEAR FRIEND,—It is with pleasure I am writing to you. No doubt you will be somewhat surprised to get a letter, as, being a stranger to you, I expect I am quite forgotten by this time. It is quite a few years since I came to Canada, but I never regretted coming here, as I have a home of my own and two dear little girls, and I am also comfortable and happy, and I really do hope that you are still prospering in that great and wonderful work which you have undertaken. As I have been out in the world myself, I have seen so many dear children with no one to look after them or care for them; but, as for me, I must say there always was a protecting hand over me. I am sure I shall never repay for all the care and kindness which you have done for me and for my brother and sisters. No doubt, we are all indebted to you, but may God's blessing be ever upon you and your Christian work. My sister Katie is dead, and she left five little children, but they are pretty well off. I have no great riches, but I am comfortable; and I really wish that the rest of the poor little orphans may prosper as well as I have done. Mr. Quarrier, dear friend, I have one great favour I would like to ask of you, and, no doubt, I will some day repay you for your kindness. It is this—I have one sister in the old country yet. She is the youngest. She is very delicate, and has been for months. She seems to be quite forsaken; no one even to give her a drink of water; no money; and it is very hard to get along in this hard world without money. She seems to be all alone—that is, in worldly matters, but not spiritually; and there is no doubt that the spiritual life is worth more than all the world and its wealth; but I would love to have her with me. She would have a home as long as she lived if she would be only strong enough to stand the voyage over, and if there is any way she could get across. Dear friend, would it be possible that you could get her over the ocean, as I am not very rich, but I could pay her way.

June 22.—Early this morning our precious mother fell asleep in Jesus. "She was not, for God took her."

June 25.—The dear mother was to-day laid to rest beside her husband in the quiet cemetery at the Children's Church. We had hoped to have had her presence and help for many years yet, but the Heavenly Father saw otherwise, and in the midst of our sorrow we praise Him for His tender love towards her. Her last day on earth was spent, as all her life was, for others. Few outside of her own inner circle knew what she was to the Orphan Homes, nor how much they owe to her efforts. She was the best of mothers, and her heart was big enough to mother and love all the needy ones who found shelter in the Homes. In the early days of the work, when helpers were not so plentiful as now, she cut and made with her own hands scores of garments, visited the Homes, comforted the sick and feeble, and spent many an hour reading to lonely ones. Like her husband, she was "given to hospitality," and from the beginning of their married life their home was consecrated to this service. In all parts of the world there are workers for God and friends who, when they hear of her home-going, will think of the happy hours spent around her table.

Faithful in little, she was given great things to be faithful in also, and her reward will be the "Well done" from the Saviour she loved. Our stricken hearts feel overwhelmed, but in seeking to carry out the wishes of the dear ones into whose heritage of blessed work we have entered, there will be comfort and consolation.

It is to us an unspeakable joy that the dear mother was privileged to see all branches of the work prosper under her care, and we are grateful to all the friends whose gifts and fellowship comforted and helped her in her loneliness and sorrow. Now she is with the Lord and re-united to him whose devoted helpmeet she was for close upon 50 years.

July 12.—Shortly before our beloved mother's home-going, a good friend in London wrote to her offering to give £2,000 for emigration if the Trustees saw their way to resume this part of the work. After due consideration the Trustees felt that it would be a right step to take, and to-day our friend sent us £500 as a first instalment, on the understanding that his money will only be used to pay half the expenses of any number of children we may send to Canada. This leaves £5 for each to be provided by others, as we estimate the cost of passage and outfit to be £10 per head. The fact that our accommodation is taxed at present, and that applications for help are more numerous than ever, makes it plain that some outlet must be found, and this unasked and unlooked for offer, coming at this time, is without a doubt "of the Lord." Among recent letters from our boys in Canada are the following:—

MRS. WILLIAM QUARRIER.—MY DEARLY BELOVED FRIEND,—If you will scan the names of those who have written you and your dearly beloved husband, who has so lately been laid at rest, in the last two years you will not find my name. I neglected writing, and for this I am now very sorry. I intended writing my late friend, Mr. Quarrier, but I failed to do so. It is too late now. However, I ask your forgiveness, and trust that you and your fellow-workers will meet with unlimited success in the grand and glorious work so successfully started and carried on by your gracious husband. If there ever was a man who was qualified for the Kingdom of Heaven, it was he. A man chosen by God to care for the fatherless of Scotland; and he was a true father. He did not go about it in a half-shod way; he put his whole heart into the work, and he will not lose his reward. That I am sure of. Bless his name; and, mark my words, the work which he so successfully carried on while on earth will receive the Master's kind attention, and it will meet with even greater success in the future, by God's help. To him I owe more than tongue can tell. He brought me out of the miry clay, and set my feet on solid rock. He brought me from darkness into light. Bless his name, and bless it ever. Many a poor child he saved from the grave. In his face was the look of kindness; in his voice was the word of welcome; in his step was the firmness of Christianity. How grand it would be if there were more such stalwart Christians than there is at the present time. Mrs. Quarrier, let me tell you, the children which Mr. Quarrier cared for and sent to Canada have grown up to be a fine lot of young men and young women, going right out to face the world. I see them day by day, and out of about fourteen or fifteen that I know of, only one or two have failed to show themselves noble and intelligent young men and women. The Lord does everything for good, not for evil. I am quite confident that God will stir up well qualified men to take their places. I have a sister and a brother in this country, and they are getting along well. My sister is married, and has three children. Well, my dear friend, I think I will close this letter, and wish you all kinds of success. In the meantime I am, to remain your friend and well-wisher.

DEAR FRIEND,—It is quite a while since I have written to you, so I thought I would write to-night. I was very sorry to hear of the death of your husband. One cannot help but wonder why such men are taken out of the world. He was one of whom it could be truly said "that he hath fought the good fight; he hath kept the faith;" and we know that he will wear the crown of righteousness, which the Lord shall give unto all those that love Him. I was going to join the Church at the last Communion, but was prevented on account of illness. I am the only one from the Home around here now. I was at a church bazaar last Thursday afternoon, and had a real good time. I think the plan of erecting a cottage in memory of Mr. Quarrier a real good one. I will give as much as I can towards it, and I think all those who have been benefited by the Homes ought to do the same. I suppose the children had a fine time on May-day. I know I used to look forward with pleasant anticipation to the good times in store for us. I have not been going to school for some time, but have got nearly all the education I can get there, and will likely take a business course. Wishing you all success in your great work, I am, yours sincerely.

An anonymous contribution of £1 came with the following:—"I enclose £1 for your work among the Orphans, in remembrance of Mr. and Mrs. Quarrier. When I came to Glasgow a young servant, an old woman told me how Mr. and Mrs. Quarrier asked her and some others for lunch at their house in St. Vincent Street, because it was too far for them to go home between sermons on Sabbath. 'Oh,' said she to me one day, 'it's not the food, but the kindness of it and the company that elates me.' Since then I have followed them in all their work. Now they have gone to their reward. May the Lord be with you as He was with them prays your humble servant." Another writes:—

DEAR SIR,—It is with a sad heart that we write these few lines to send our sympathy to you and the Orphan Homes in the loss of Mrs. Quarrier so soon after her husband. How much they will be missed. But they have finished their work, and gone up to receive their reward. What a happy reunion. They worked the works of Him that sent them while it was day, and I believe they could say with Paul—"I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course. I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day." Praise God for such men and women. Dear Sir, would you please let us know how the children are getting along. We thank God they were led to the Quarrier Homes. Our hearts are full of prayerful sympathy for the noble work. We are only working girls, striving to serve the Master. We feel constrained to help a little as often as we can. We will send with this letter a money order for five dollars. Please receive in the Master's name.

August.—Generous friends having provided means to give all our boys and girls a day at the seaside, we arranged for the 600 girls to go to Port-Bannatyne on 2nd August, and the 700 boys on the 5th. It was no small undertaking, and our hearts sank when the morning of the 2nd broke with rain falling in torrents. It was impossible to postpone the outing, and the only other course was to telephone for brakes to drive the whole party the two miles to the station. Our friends and neighbours, farmers and others, kindly came to our help, and the procession started. As we left our own gates the rain ceased, and soon after the sun smiled on us. A finer day could not have been desired, and our hearts rose in gratitude to God for His goodness to His little ones. For the boys' trip also we had good weather, and the happy day's excursion will long be remembered by the whole family.

This month there was placed in the cemetery by the boys and girls resident in the Homes a beautiful granite stone in loving memory of the beloved father and mother. We were greatly touched by the spontaneous generosity of the children as they brought their saved pennies—tokens of their love and gratitude.

In Loving Memory of William Quarrier, of the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge-of-Weir.

And can it be—is William Quarrier dead?
Gone from our midst for ever, evermore?
'Twas all of sadness when the word was said.
It seemed so far away, that other shore,
When we compared it with our hearts bereft,
And gazed bewildered on the blank he left.

And can it be that that great throbbing heart,
Full of compassion and a mighty love,
So boundless, that it seemed a very part
Of His who "so" loved—the great God above—
Is still, with such a stillness to us here,
But yet expandeth in a brighter sphere?

Can it be true that ne'er on earth again
We shall behold that dear, familiar form;
Shall listen for that well-known voice in vain,
Which, in the midst of all life's stress and storm,
Spoke comfortable words of hope and cheer
To countless sad, world-weary toilers here?

How eager were his hands, his feet, his brain,
Just to keep pace with his great loving heart;
How oft, while others told their grief and pain,
The sympathetic tear would quickly start;
Nor that alone—but timely aid would give
New life to those who scarcely cared to live.

The "little ones" were his peculiar care,
A dear especial treasure from above,
Sealed to him by the God who answers prayer,
Encircling them in arms of tender love,
Supplying all their needs in fullest measure,
From His own boundless, never-failing treasure.

So now he from his life-long labours rests,
And he beholds his Master face to face,
Who answered so completely all his quests,
Which ever and anon kept steady pace
With sin and suffering, and a world of need,
Till others through his faith were blessed indeed.

Truly "abundant entrance" had been his,
And Heaven's joy-bells had been ringing clear
When he had "crossed the bar" into that bliss
Of seeing Him whom he so trusted here;
And now life's sails are furled for evermore,
And he has anchored on that other shore.

Farewell! But only for a little while,
Oh heart so leal and true, so strong and brave;
And though we miss thy face, thy voice, thy smile,
We look beyond the cold and silent grave
To that Homeland, where He who answers prayer
Has changed thy faith to perfect seeing there.

Perchance thou still wilt carry on thy heart
The friendless bairns thou lovedst passing well,
Perchance thou still wilt bear thy noble part;
No answer flashes back—we cannot tell!
But this we know, they have not lost their friend,
Because that dear one to the Lord we lend.

For the same God who was the strength and stay
Of their dear earthly helper, will provide
Their food and raiment still, from day to day
His love will guard them whatso'er betide;
While circling round them fragrant memories
Of their "Greatheart" will crown their common days.

MINA MOIR.

September has always been a special month in the history of the Homes. As our biennial Thanksgiving fell to be observed this year, it was decided that the 29th being the anniversary of the beloved father's birthday, that day should be the one fixed upon. It was with mingled feelings we looked forward to it, as a Thanksgiving Day without the inspiration of the founder's presence was unknown. The following account of the proceedings, taken from the Glasgow Herald, will be of interest to friends who were not privileged to participate in the service:—

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Yesterday was the 75th anniversary of the birth of William Quarrier, founder of the Orphan Homes and Consumption Sanatoria of Scotland. The occasion was fittingly marked at Bridge of Weir by special services of thanksgiving, which were rendered more than usually impressive by the fact that this was the first thanksgiving day since the revered father and mother of the homes had passed into their rest. In another respect the gathering was a notable one, for it witnessed the laying of the foundation-stone of the first Colony of Mercy to be reared for the treatment of children afflicted with epilepsy. This project was the last that occupied the mind of the late Mr. Quarrier, and yesterday's ceremonies, peculiarly appropriate as they were, gave abundant proof that no scheme in which he had been engaged in his long and unique career had been dearer to his heart. A large company travelled from Glasgow and elsewhere to join in the tribute to the memory of the founder of the Homes, special trains being run from St. Enoch to Bridge of Weir, and when the principal ceremony of the day was entered upon, there were considerably over 1000 persons present. Among those who accompanied Mr. Cameron-Corbett, M.P. (who presided), to the platform erected at the new building, were:—Sir Samuel and Lady Chisholm; Principal Hutton; Dr. Ebenezer Duncan; Dr. Fraser, Paisley; Miss Mary Quarrier (daughter of the late Mr. Quarrier); Mrs. Burges; Miss Quarrier (sister of the late Mr. Quarrier); Mr. J. P. Maclay; Pastor Findlay and Mrs. Findlay; Mr. Bryden, architect; Mr. W. A. Campbell; Mr. Robert Binnie, Gourrock; and Ex-Councillor Robertson. After the singing of the Paraphrase, "O God of Bethel,"

The CHAIRMAN, in an introductory word, said that every work of mercy, every effort for the relief of human suffering and sorrow, which was so near to the heart of their friend, Mr. Quarrier, must be of interest to all of them. He called upon Mr. Bryden to place the records in the cavity, and to present a silver trowel to Miss Quarrier.

MR. BRYDEN said it was his privilege to call upon Miss Mary Quarrier to lay the foundation-stone of the first Home for Epileptics in Scotland. There was nothing nearer to the heart of the founder in the last days of his life than that effort to help poor epileptics, and he was sure Miss Quarrier was glad that that house had now been begun, and would have much pleasure in laying the foundation-stone. Mr. Bryden mentioned that the records to be embedded beneath the memorial stone embraced a narrative of the work of the Orphan Homes of Scotland for last year, a programme of the day's proceedings, photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Quarrier and Miss Mary Quarrier, and copies of the newspapers. There were no coins of the realm in the jar—(laughter)—because they could use any coins sent to them in a better way. Mr. Bryden presented Miss Quarrier with a silver trowel, and Mr. Newton, the mason, gave her an ebony mallet.

MISS MARY QUARRIER said—Dear friends and children—I consider it a great honour and privilege to do this little service to-day, in memory of my beloved father and mother. The work we are inaugurating was very dear to their hearts, and we trust that the rich blessing of God will rest upon it in the days to come, as upon all the work with which they were connected.

The stone having been placed in position, Miss QUARRIER said—I declare this stone to be well and truly laid.

On the call of Mr. BRYDEN, three ringing cheers were given for Miss Quarrier.

The Treatment of Epileptics.

DR. FRASER said he had been asked to say something on that occasion, because he had been in much sympathy with Mr. Quarrier in all the work he had done, and because he had been, for a good part of his life, in touch with the institutional treatment of epilepsy. It would be wrong to say that that ceremony was the beginning of the work which they were considering. It was begun years ago, through the faith and hope of the man to whom they owed that garden city for homeless children, and to whom they owed the help for the consumptive. Mr. Quarrier knew that we in Scotland were behind England by at least sixteen years, and many more years behind the Continent of Europe and America, in making provision in home and colony for the proper treatment of epilepsy, and to him that neglect appealed very strongly. He was then the pioneer in Scotland in that as in all his other work, and that day, through him, they were about to wipe out the reproach that Scotland, with its 6000 or 7000 epileptics, was behind the times. They must remember how great was the need for that particular form of charity. The epileptic might live long and be bodily robust, and, though not now regarded, as of old, as possessed by a devil, he was, with a few brilliant exceptions, condemned to a life of idleness, and too often to an almost pariah-like existence. Those afflicted with that terrible disease had no help and no hope, and yet, though they could not work, they might live long, shunned by their fellows. It was said that charity of that kind sometimes was not at all in harmony with political economy. However that might be, they knew that, although much of their charitable work was in danger of being at variance with the dismal science, they had to do it all the same. The model of that home had been taken from the best institutions of the kind in England and elsewhere. There they hoped to build up a colony which would return to healthy family life the victim of that disease.

Thanksgiving Service.

After the ceremony at the Colony of Mercy was concluded, the visitors walked to the church, where a thanksgiving service was conducted. The beautiful edifice was crowded in every part. Mr. Cameron Corbett again presided. After the singing of the hymn "O God our help in ages past," prayer was offered by Rev. Geo. Green.

The CHAIRMAN, addressing the gathering, said that sometimes when people were speaking of no man as being indispensable, because the work went on, they were apt to feel as if that really reduced the importance of the individual worker, and made the responsibility of those who led in philanthropic movements less vital than it was; but it seemed to him that, when those who had led them in a movement of that sort, like their friends Mr. and Mrs. Quarrier, were taken from them, and the work still went on—every duty efficiently discharged, as in former days—that rather made all human responsibility greater. It let them see that all work that was nobly and truly done did not come to an end when the friends who had done it had passed away, but that the foundations which were truly laid could still maintain the work. (Applause.) Their friend, Mr. Quarrier, was a strong man, if ever there was a strong man, self-reliant and great; but he had in him veins of the finest fibre. He (Mr. Cameron Corbett) only heard, after Mr. Quarrier had gone, that for over twenty years—unknown, at least, to some of his family circle—he had gone every year to his (Mr. Cameron Corbett's) father's grave, and laid there a tribute of flowers. That trait of finest sympathy was, he believed, the note of all the men who had done the biggest things in public philanthropy, and who had been the most devoted to the service of mankind. If large things were to be done for humanity, they could only be done by the men and women whose hearts were touched by the simple and fine obligations of human feeling as well as by the larger. The work in which they were engaged was one to which he thought no objection could be taken. What was done for the children was good all round. They could feel, with regard to the 1500 children who were at present under their care, and who had come from almost the worst conditions, that they had a better chance of being good and useful men and women than the average of any class in the general community. Well might such a society as that have a profound claim upon all Christian sympathies.

Financial Position of the Homes.

Mr. J. P. MACLAY, the honorary treasurer, said that during the past year the work had never lagged. Every want had been met, every need supplied, and not a month had passed without at the end of it a credit balance to each account. Mr. Quarrier very often spoke of friends who seemed to doubt what the future of all the work which he had undertaken should be, and he had been in the habit of replying that the work was not his work; it was God's work, and if God took the worker, He would take very good care to carry on His work. So it had happened. Day by day the money had come in to help them. It was now ten months since he was asked to take up the position of honorary treasurer, and it was a very great pleasure to him when he entered upon it to find everything in a perfect condition. Strange things had been said about the conduct of the Homes. He had heard it said that no books were kept at Bridge of Weir. He wished some of the friends who had made these remarks had seen what he had seen. Never had books been kept in a more perfect condition. (Applause.) There was absolutely nothing left to be desired. How Mr. Quarrier accomplished it all was very hard to explain. For the ten months of the current financial year the sum of £19,800 had come in for work in connection with the orphan children—something like £2000 more than in any previous year. Never before in the history of the work had there been so many children under the care of the institution. The expenditure this year had been relatively up in consequence of the increased number, but everything pointed to their funds meeting all demands at the end of the financial year—31st October. With regard to the sanatoria work, it was always one of the regrets of Mr. Quarrier that the general community did not support that as they might and certainly should have done. He took up that work because no other would, and since then the movement had become almost general throughout Scotland. Funds were now coming in to carry it on in a better way than it had ever done before. The Corporation of Glasgow had recognised the work, and had very generously gifted £1000 per annum for five years to help to carry it on. Well they might, because the Consumption Sanatoria of Scotland Trustees had done practically all the work which had been done in Glasgow up till the present moment. Every week in the city, apart from the sanatoria work done at Bridge of Weir, there were something like sixty patients treated, to whom free medicine was given. With regard to Mr. Quarrier's death. Twelve months ago the sum at the credit of the colony was £1000. It had now reached £3000, and as the first building would cost only £4000, the trustees felt it was their duty to begin the work, so that day they had laid the foundation stone.

Other Remarks.

Dr. EBENEZER DUNCAN, in the course of an address, referred to the beneficent effects which had resulted from Mr. Quarrier's labours on behalf of the consumptive, and incidentally remarked that it was high time the Corporation of Glasgow were doing something for the consumptive. He thought it was a shame that they had only now recognised it. He believed that in the long run the Corporation of Glasgow and every other Corporation would be bound to provide sanatoria, and maintain them out of the rates.

Sir SAMUEL CHISHOLM, who spoke next, impressed the boys and girls of the institution with the duty that lay upon them after they went out into the world, pointing to the honourable places to which those who had been trained there had risen.

Pastor FINDLAY dealt in a general way with the work during the past year, which he said had been one of peace and prosperity. He recounted some of his experiences in Canada lately, whither he had gone to inquire about the prospects for lads from the Orphan Homes. As a result of his investigations, it had been decided to send fifty lads away in the course of a week or two. The cost of their passage and outfit had been fully met. In the spring they hoped to relieve the pressure upon the accommodation of the homes by sending another number of emigrants to the Dominion, where so many men and women who owed their training to Mr. Quarrier had gone and prospered.

At the conclusion of the service many of the visitors took the opportunity of inspecting various parts of the institution, and the work done by the boys and girls.

October.—The last month of the financial year brings special anxieties with it, and this one was no exception. The sending to Canada of the party of 55 boys was no light task, although a fortnight before the day of sailing the money part of the burden had been lifted through special gifts sent in. There were plenty of boys anxious and willing to go, but relatives in some cases objected, and in others the boys' character or health did not come up to the high standard we have always set for our Canadian parties. However, 55 were selected and given a well-filled box of clothing, in addition to many other special gifts, including a good reference Bible, kindly donated by a friend to whom all our young emigrants in past years were indebted for a like gift. The company sailed on the 15th under the charge of Rev. E. P. H. and Mrs. King and Miss Burges, and we have since heard of their safe arrival in the new land. Many prayers follow the lads, and we trust they will not only become good Canadians, but true followers of the Lord Jesus. The closing days of the month brought us many tokens of our Father's loving care, and no words can express our gratitude to Him for His gracious dealings with the work in this year of trial and bereavement.

"How good is the God we adore,
Our faithful, unchangeable Friend."

FAIRKNOWE H ME, BRACKVILLE, ONT.

EMIGRATION WORK.

SEVEN years ago the Emigration Department of the work was discontinued—not entirely, as no year has passed without some of the children crossing the ocean to the land of the West to join friends who had gone out before them—but, as a prominent feature of the great work at Bridge of Weir, emigration came to an end in 1897. The reason for this, as our friends will remember, was the passing of the "Ontario Act" in that year. This law was enacted "to regulate the immigration into Ontario of certain classes of children," and to some clauses of the Act Mr. Quarrier took strong exception, so strong, that he decided to send no more children to Canada until some alteration was made in the new law. During the intervening years our friends on the other side have been carefully watching the working of the new Act, with the result that we have gradually come to the conclusion that its effect on the conditions of child emigration is, in the main, to their advantage.

The Trustees of the Homes being of opinion that the time had now come when the question should be considered afresh, and as various indications pointed to the desirability of re-opening this department of the work, it was thought well that the writer and Mrs. Findlay should make a visit of inspection to the field of operations and form an unbiassed opinion on the spot regarding the whole matter. Accordingly, we crossed the ocean at the end of July and spent the month of August in Canada. A large portion of our time was devoted to visiting children who had gone out from the Homes, interviewing friends of the work, officials of the Government, and others interested in the matter. Without one dissenting voice—from the Premier down to the humblest person conversed with—all were decidedly of opinion that it would be well to begin again the emigration of our children. The testimony on all hands was that the Scotch boys and girls had been a most desirable class of immigrants, and we were assured that they had made for themselves such a good reputation that there would be no difficulty at all in our finding desirable openings for as many children as it might be possible to send out. Indeed, when our presence in Canada and the purpose of the visit found announcement in the newspapers we were immediately made the recipients of such a correspondence from all parts of the province—and beyond—each writer urgently wanting one or more boys or girls, that had we had a large party of children with us we could readily have had them all placed at once in apparently desirable homes.

Of course, those good farmers and others who are so eager to obtain the children do not profess to be philanthropists, it is because the children are profitable to them quite as much, at least, as from any desire to help them that they are anxious to get possession of them; and so we were quite as desirous to know what the conditions of the children's lives were in the homes of their adoption. This we ascertained by surprise visits paid to a goodly number of our old boys and girls in different parts of that great country. Almost everywhere we went, in city, town, or hamlet, from Montreal on the east to Chicago on the west, we came across some of our old children, most of them now grown to be men and women, and almost all of them doing well. Indeed, we wondered what had become of the "5 per cent." of more or less unsatisfactory cases of which Mr. Quarrier used to speak! We did hear of a very few out of the more than five thousand who have gone to Canada who have done badly, but we failed to see any of that class. The universal testimony amongst those we talked with was to the effect that, while some of them had been home on visits and others hoped to go, none of them had any thought of remaining in the home land. Our own conviction, based on all that we saw and heard, is that for many of our children—boys especially—we cannot do better than to help them out to that great new land, where there is room to breathe, and grow, and expand, and where, as one who knows has well said, "an average boy has more than an average opportunity of doing better than averagely well."

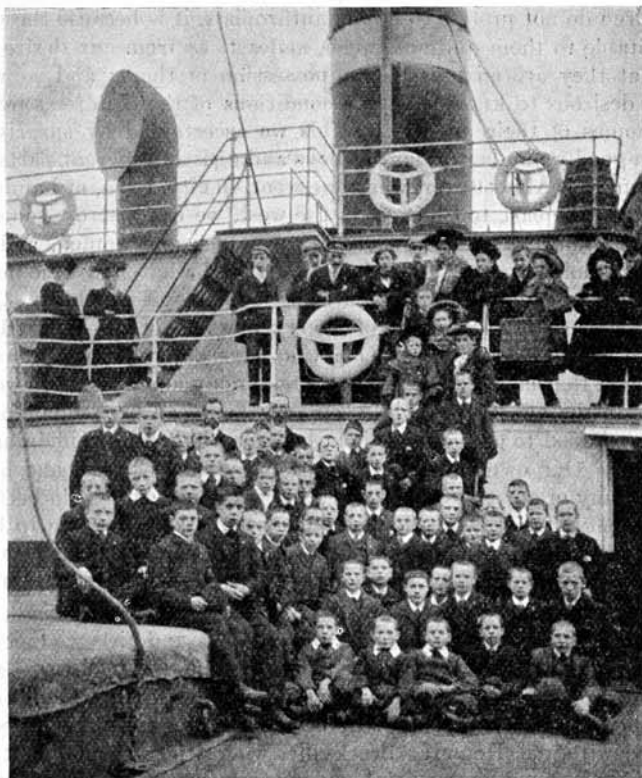

A few sample cases from amongst the old boys and girls we met may be of interest to our friends. Here are two little girls—twin sisters—who left the Homes so long ago that they have no recollection of the old country nor of the voyage across the great ocean, their earliest memories being connected with our Home at Brockville, where they spent about a year before being adopted by two neighbouring farmers. Both are now married to earnest young Christian farmers, living in excellent homes on their own freehold farms, and doing well. It was a great pleasure to us to visit these girls and see how much they were loved and valued, both by their husbands and their adoptive parents.

K. is on another farm a few miles away, where she has been for eleven years. Here she is greatly prized and is treated as a member of the family. It was good to see the look on the face of the farmer's wife as she put her arm round K.'s neck and remarked—"I may as well say it before her, there is not a better girl in the country, and no daughter could be dearer to her mother than she is to me."

M. went to Canada in 1895. She is adopted by a retired farmer and his wife, who are in good circumstances—own their house and grounds, and confess to a good round sum in the bank, all of which, they assured us, would by and by come to her, whom they treat in all respects as if she were their own child. She has been well educated, and is reported to be an excellent musician.

M. and J. are two sisters whom we well remember as little girls in Newstead Home long ago. They went to Canada in 1876, and are both in situations in Toronto, making good wages and doing well.

In a quiet, out of the way village near Lake Simcoe, we met three of the old girls, two of them in good situations, and the other married to the local postmaster and storekeeper. One of these girls insisted on our taking 10 dollars to help the work at the Homes. Most of the girls we saw who were not adopted were either married or in domestic situations, and in Canada the "help" is usually very much better off than at home, both as to the matter of wages and treatment.

Now for some of the boys. Nearly all our boys are placed at first on farms, and probably most of them continue to the end as cultivators of the soil, but a great many have gravitated, as at home, to the large centres of population, and now follow various trades in the cities. We visited a number of lads working on farms, and found most of them in good homes, making good wages, contented, and well spoken of; indeed, in most cases the farmer presented an eager request for another boy just like "——"!

In one town we found the Deputy Sheriff an old Cessnock boy, who went out twenty-five years ago. He is much respected, and is an earnest Christian worker.

We shall not soon forget walking down a main street in Toronto one night at the close of a service we had been taking in a Baptist Church; our companions were a fine young man and his wife. We came to the corner where our ways parted, and as we stood under the lamp our friend, with pale, earnest face, said:—"I have a good wife and three fine children; I own my own house, and am doing well at my trade; best of all, I am a Christian, and am humbly seeking to follow the Saviour, and all that I have and am I owe to the training I got in the Homes at Bridge of Weir."

Do any of our friends wonder that we came home convinced emigrationists, and that one of our first pieces of work was to help to get ready a small party of lads to send off to walk in the path that so many have found a good way? Another fact that helped us to this decision was the offer of a generous donation from a friend in London to be spent on emigration, and to be used to pay half of the expenses of any party we might send out to Canada. A fine party of boys, 55 in number, were quickly outfitted and got ready for the voyage, and on Saturday, the 15th October, they set sail on the Allan Liner "Corinthian." Letters have just come to hand descriptive of the voyage, and safe arrival at our distributing Home at Brockville-on-the-St. Lawrence. The passage money and cost of outfit for each boy averaged £10, and the whole amount—£550—was provided before the day of sailing.

We look forward to sending two larger parties out next year, if the Lord will, probably one in the early spring and the other in the early summer. This will be absolutely necessary to relieve the pressure at Bridge of Weir, as some of the cottages are at present much overcrowded. This fresh departure will appeal to many of our friends who are specially interested in emigration, and there will be plenty of scope for the manifestation of their generosity, as we shall require £2,000 upwards to meet the outfits and passages of the two parties referred to.

D. J. FINDLAY.

N.B.—Since above was written we continue to receive good tidings of our children beyond the sea. The 55 boys just sent out scarcely had time to get acquainted with Fairknowe Home and the good friends there before they had to go off to the farmers who were eagerly awaiting them. Although no formal announcement had been made of their coming, there were, on an average, five applications for each boy. Then amongst the good news just to hand regarding old boys we hear of two who have recently been ordained to the ministry of the Gospel, and a third who is filling vacant pulpits "with a view." We have no greater joy than to know that our children walk in truth, and it is a cause for praise to know that so many who have gone to the new country walk in the "old paths."

CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND.

£6,000 required for maintenance during the coming year, £10,000 for each additional Sanatorium.

DURING the past year full advantage has been taken of the entire accommodation of the Sanatoria, which meantime consists of 80 beds, and we have been greatly encouraged in this branch of the work by the increased support received from the public, and from legacies, and we record with special gratification the donation of £1,000 per year, promised for five years, from the Corporation of Glasgow. No Sanatoria in the country are better situated or more completely adapted for the treatment of consumptives, and the report of the Medical Officer gives full details of what has been accomplished. It is gratifying to find that the large majority of patients discharged as cured, or relatively cured, during past years, have done well, notwithstanding that home surroundings, in many cases, leave much to be desired. Few days pass without applications and appeals for admission to the Sanatoria from men, women, and children, and it is with pleasure the Trustees are now arranging to build a third block to accommodate 40 patients, which has been rendered possible by a legacy of £5,000, recently paid, which, added to former gifts, gives the sum of £8,578 5s 6d now in hand specially for building purposes.

A very important work in connection with the Consumption Sanatoria is that carried on at the Dispensary in James Morrison Street, Glasgow, where a larger number of outdoor patients are now being treated than ever before. The record of attendances during the past year is 2,366 of men and women, and, in addition to advice, treatment, and medicines given free, a large quantity of useful literature has been distributed. The working expenses of the Sanatoria have been considerably reduced during the past year by an alteration in the food scale recommended by the Medical Advisory Board. Less butcher meat is given, and the diet, which has been more varied, has proved fully adequate to meet the requirements of the patients.

There is ample accommodation in the grounds at Bridge of Weir for a number of additional blocks, each of which cost about £10,000, and we would welcome with great joy gifts, small and large, to carry out the scheme Mr. Quarrier had in view to provide 200 beds for men and 200 beds for women.

We rejoice that in some parts of the country efforts are being made to minister to the needs of the Consumptives, but, so far, the fringe only has been touched, and we hope some of those who have the heart to give will listen to our appeal for those sad sufferers who come to us from all parts of Scotland. About the saddest part of all our work is to inform so many despairing victims of the dreaded disease that we are unable to receive them.

ANNUAL REPORT OF MEDICAL OFFICER.

THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE ADVISORY BOARD.

GENTLEMEN,—The following is my report for the year ending 31st October, 1904:—At the beginning of the year, 1st November, 1903, there were 62 patients in residence, but the Trustees, having resolved that the entire accommodation (80 beds) of the Sanatoria should be taken advantage of, the remaining beds were rapidly filled up, and there have been constantly cases waiting for admission. During the year 187 female patients have been admitted, and 166 discharged. It has also to be mentioned, however, that the arrangements made with the Paisley Branch of the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption have been completed, and that twelve beds have been provided for male patients from Paisley in an adjoining house, which has been altered to meet the requirements of modern treatment. This house was opened a few weeks ago, and seven male patients have been admitted.

Duration of Residence.—The average length of stay for those discharged was 143.3 days, or approximately  $4\frac{3}{4}$  months, the maximum being 304 days, and the minimum 15 days.

Results.—The results obtained during the year are as follows:—

Cured.	Relatively Cured.	Very much Improved.	Slightly Improved.	Condition Unchanged.
30 (18.07 %)	39 (23.5 %)	52 (31.3 %)	25 (15.06 %)	20 (12.04 %)

Thirteen patients who were admitted are not included in the above table. Six of these died, two from sudden and severe hæmoptysis, one from coma, due to tuberculous meningitis, and three from asthenia, consequent on the advanced stage of the disease. Five patients remained only a few days, two of these were unsuitable, and the remaining three left of their own accord, as they declined to submit themselves to treatment. In two patients admitted suffering from mitral stenosis, no evidence of phthisis could be detected, and they were accordingly discharged after a brief stay. In addition to the seven male patients at present under treatment, two others were admitted, one of whom died from asthenia the second day after admission, and the other, at his own urgent request, was allowed to go home.

Regarding the classification of results, the following definitions will explain the various headings under which those discharged are placed:—The term "Cured" is only applied to those cases in which the physical signs of active lung mischief have disappeared; the pulse, temperature, and respirations are normal, and cough and expectoration are absent. The general health is excellent, and the patient is fit for work. Under "Relatively Cured," physical signs are still present, but greatly modified, cough and expectoration are slight, and no tubercle bacilli were found in the sputum when examined a few days before leaving. The general health is good, and the patient is generally able to take up some form of employment. Under "Very Much Improved," the physical signs of active disease, though somewhat modified, are still marked, but the general condition has greatly improved. In the majority of cases tubercle bacilli were found in the sputum when examined a few days before leaving. In many of the cases belonging to this class the disease appears to be temporarily arrested, and the patient is able to do light work. "Slightly Improved" is applied to those cases in which there is some slight improvement in the general condition, with increase in weight, but the physical signs remain unaltered, and tubercle bacilli are fairly abundant in the sputum. The heading "Condition Unchanged" explains itself, the absence of improvement under treatment being due to the advanced or acute nature of the disease, or the presence of some complication.

The Stage of the Disease.—The various stages of the disease from which those discharged suffered at the time of admission are shown as follows:—

1st Stage (Early)	2nd Stage (Intermediate)	3rd Stage (Advanced)
40	85	41

It will be seen from these figures that only about 24 per cent. of those discharged were admitted in the early stage. While this is to be regretted it is not easily remedied, for in a large proportion of phthisical cases the general health is not much impaired during the first few months, and it is not until work becomes impossible by reason of loss of strength or the severity of the symptoms that advice and treatment are sought, by which time the disease has, in all probability, passed beyond the early stage. It cannot, therefore, be too strongly emphasised that it is during the early months of the disease, when the general health is not much impaired, that admission to a sanatorium will give the best and most lasting results.

46 " " " " 1 "	In 2 " the weight remained unchanged.
44 " " " " $\frac{1}{2}$ "

Treatment.—On the advice of the members of the Advisory Board the subject of the diet in phthisis has been carefully considered during the past year, and the daily amount of meat given has been reduced from one pound to eight ounces. At the same time, the diet has been rendered more varied by the addition of soups and vegetables. The heat equivalent of the full diet at present in use is a little over 3,000 calories, and this has been proved to be sufficient to meet the requirements of female patients suffering from phthisis. The male patients are generally allowed a larger quantity, and the heat equivalent of their diet will approach 4,000 calories.

After History.—We have thought it desirable, in the present report, to give some facts regarding the subsequent history of patients who have been under treatment and have given evidence of marked improvement. For this purpose we have followed up the after history of those patients discharged as “cured” and “relatively cured” during the three years 1898-1900. In all, 142 patients were discharged during that time, of whom 56 were returned as “cured” or “relatively cured,” and of this number 38, or 67.8 per cent. were known to be alive and in good or fair health three years after leaving the sanatorium. Particulars were also obtained regarding the duties or employment in which they were engaged as follows:—Seventeen were married and able to attend to their household duties, seven were at home doing housework, thirteen were earning their livelihood by various forms of employment, and only one was unable to work. These figures are very satisfactory, more especially in view of the fact that in many of the cases the home circumstances were not all that could be desired.

LAYING MEMORIAL STONE OF THE FIRST HOME IN THE COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS, 21TH SEPTEMBER, 1904.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS OF SCOTLAND. TO COST £20,000; ALREADY RECEIVED, £13,000.

As the above picture indicates, a start has at last been made with the first building in the Colony of Mercy, and since this snapshot was taken good progress has been made, so that as we write the roof is being put on part of this first house. The stone laying took place under most auspicious conditions on the 29th of September, the anniversary of the birth of the beloved founder of the work. As mentioned in last year's "Narrative," one of the last transactions of Mr Quarrier's life—and one that gave him no little pleasure—was the completion of the purchase of Hatrick Farm, comprising 213 acres of freehold land, for a sum of £9,800. On a splendid site on this farm, commanding a fine southern outlook, the first voluntary door of hope for the poor epileptics of Scotland is now in course of erection, and will, we trust, be ready for occupancy sometime in 1905. About £3,000 have been received towards the estimated cost of £4,000, so that there is still opportunity for those whose hearts the Lord may touch to have some bricks in this first building, which will, we hope, be the forerunner of many more. Whereto this thing may grow we cannot attempt to forecast or prophesy; its future is with Him who put the inception into His servant's heart. There is both room and need for large expansion, and as the dread disease to be dealt with invades all classes of homes—those of the wealthy as well as of the poor—that need should make its appeal felt by all classes of the community. £2,500 to £4,000 will build a house to accommodate 24 to 36 men, women, or children. It is hoped that a period of residence on these breezy and healthy uplands will have a beneficial effect on the condition of many of the poor sufferers from epilepsy, and that He who can do all things for those who believe may graciously vouchsafe entire healing to some.

THE INFANT CLASS.

School Managers, { Mr. R. A. BRYDEN, Chairman, Sir SAMUEL CHISHOLM, Bart., Mr. J. P. MACLAY, Mr. ALEX. P. FORRESTER PATON, Mr. ROBERT BINNIE, and Mr. R. LOCKHART BRYDEN, Clerk.

REPORT ON SCHOOL.

THE Board of Management for the School beg to report as follows:—During the past year the School has been in a transition stage between the former state of affairs arising out of the deadlock with the Kilmacolm School Board, and its present position as a Code School under Government Inspection.

On 30th October, 1903, which was the month in which the present Headmaster, Mr. J. Gordon Kennedy, M.A., assumed charge, the figures for the School stood as follows:—Average attendance, 826.3 out of a roll numbering 886 children. On the 28th of October last the number on roll stood at 993, while the average attendance was 917.2. During the year the number of the staff has been increased to the present staff of thirteen certificated teachers and eight assistants, while since July last four Monitors have been indentured as Pupil Teachers, a department of the work to which it is proposed to pay special attention. The first School period, which is to end on 31st January next, has not arrived, and the Managers have, as yet, no official report on the work done, but, from the visits of the Inspectors made during the year, the Managers gather that they are, on the whole, satisfied with the progress made.

The Managers are not in a position to say anything definite about the Government Grants for Education, as the time has not yet arrived for a grant being fully earned.

The number of scholars in the School has greatly taxed the available accommodation at the main School and the central Building, and the Managers have been under the necessity of applying to the Department for sanction to use a Class Room for Cookery, situated above the Laundry, and a Senior Class Room in a hall behind the Church. One of the greatest needs of the Homes at present is an addition to the existing Class Room accommodation to meet the growing wants of the children and to obviate the present scattered situation of the Class Rooms.

Physical training has had special attention under the Code requirements, and the good effect of this is already evident in the scholars attending the School.

Religious Instruction has also been duly attended to, Religious Exercises and Bible Reading being engaged in at the School before each day's work is entered upon.

In the interests of those senior scholars who are over 14 years of age, a series of classes under the Continuation Classes Code has also been organised. The total number under instruction during last session was 222. Classes for "the completion of General Elementary Education" were held under Division I., and, in addition, 41 senior girls attended a Cookery Class and 35 a Class for Laundry Work, while 16 lads resident in the ship on land studied "Navigation" under Captain Aikenhead—all under Division II., and 26 lads were instructed by him in Band Music in an Auxiliary Class under Division IV.

The following excerpt from H.M. Inspector's Report, of date 30th March last, on the Division I. Elementary Classes is of interest:—"Considering the circumstances of the School, and the previous attainments of the pupils, the progress made may be considered satisfactory." Following on visits to the School on 20th June and 7th July last, H.M. Inspectress reports regarding the Laundry Work Class:—"The practical results were good," and "every opportunity is given to make the lessons of great practical value to the girls." Referring to the Cookery Class, she states:—"The practical class was well conducted. Altogether, the work is very promising."

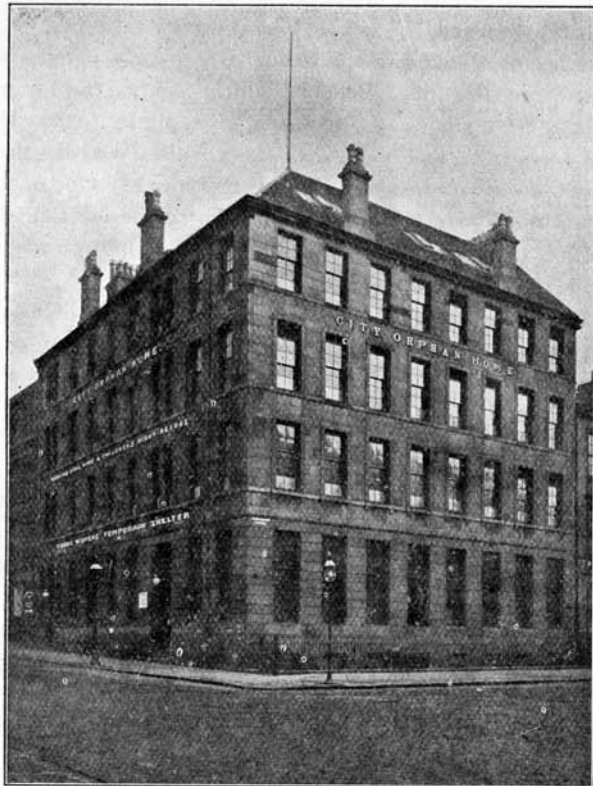

On the evening of Thanksgiving Day prizes were presented to those scholars who stood highest in order of merit in the various Day and Continuation School Classes.

Under the whole circumstances, the School can be said to have made good progress during the past year, and the thanks of the Managers are due to Mr. Kennedy, the Headmaster, and the Teaching Staff for their able co-operation in the working of the School.

R. A. BRYDEN,

CITY HOME—SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

How rapid seems the flight of time, for another year of active service is gone, the results of which have passed beyond our reach, recorded in the unerring and immutable Book of Life.

All have felt a great blank, but, according to the prophecy of the God-sent founder, the work has gone on, and has not been lacking in tokens of divine blessing.

The number of mouths to be filled has considerably increased, but with the increased requirements has come the corresponding increase of supply with an exactitude that has surprised us, and afresh fulfilled the promise, "A Father of the fatherless is God."

When the year began, Mrs. Quarrier was striving, far beyond her strength, to take the place of her beloved husband, to whom she had been so long a real helpmate in the truest and highest sense. During his life her devotion to him and entire confidence in his ability made her take an obscure but none the less influential place in the counsels of management, but on his removal she stepped to the front, and in the eyes of all showed herself not only a source of strength in quiet inobtrusiveness, but a true Christian heroine. She had a great desire to see the alterations made after the fire in the City Home, and personally enter into the details of daily routine, but before her wish was gratified her day of toil here ended, and now she is in the company of loved ones gone before—away from the city with its sins and sorrows, away from the centre of the work so dear to her heart, away from her loving family, who would have kept the wind from blowing on her if they could, and away from the head of the workers who one and all loved her without a shadow of reserve, and admired her invariably gentle, gracious, and considerate control of affairs.

It may be of interest to know some particulars of the new members added to the large family during the year, many of whom were much in need of help, both on physical and moral grounds. Minute comparison has not been made, but it seems as if a much larger proportion than formerly are children of tender years, which means a longer responsibility, but we trust will prove a blessing in their future life. We think it a sign of the times which speaks well for the energy put forth in dealing with destitute and neglected children that the number of older ones found in need of assistance is much less than was the case twenty years ago. In fact, the majority of those "running wild" either have parents who ought to control them but do not, or are young persons with such strong natural evil tendencies that every effort has failed to cure them, not a few having passed through some institution.

The School Board, through its members and officers, exercise a strict but humane control, and call into requisition every available means of dealing with difficult cases, and we have been pleased to assist. A good many cases have been received at the request of the N.S.P.C.C., especially the Edinburgh Branch, where they seem to be broader in their action than merely to prosecute and then deal with the children. There, too, there seem to be many institutions for the upper and middle class, but very few for the lower stratum of society.

It has always been, and still is (through the liberality of donors), the proud boast of the Orphan Homes of Scotland that the only plea for admission is to be fatherless and needy, and to be resident between John o' Groats and the Solway Firth.

In not a few cases the relatives are barriers to the children's future welfare by unwise counsel and otherwise, and sometimes we envy the arbitrary control that Parish Councils seem to be able to exercise over those under their care.

Of the 331 admitted, 135 are orphans, and 125 the children of widows, and the remaining 71 are made up of those whose fathers have been in desertion for years or are in mind or body permanently disabled, while a few are illegitimate children either beyond the control of their guardians or very young, and received with the view of being adopted.

From Glasgow and suburbs, including Govan and Partick, 167—just half the admissions—have come; from Edinburgh, 32; Paisley, 20; and Greenock, 11. Almost every county has sent its share—from Wick in the North to Newton-Stewart in the South, and from Stornoway in the West to Fraserburgh in the East.

The youngest received was ten months, and the oldest nineteen years. Those under five were 16 per cent., and over fourteen years 10 per cent. of the whole, leaving 74 per cent. or 245 children of school age. In spite of the powers of School Boards, we are often surprised how deficient in education many are when received, but this, no doubt, may partly be accounted for by the degeneracy of physical and mental capacity for generations. The necessary inquiries in relation to these cases, and keeping a record of the facts of each for present and future guidance, along with necessary cleaning and clothing before being sent to Bridge of Weir, would alone justify the existence of the premises as a receiving home; but, in addition, there has been in residence an average of 66 lads and 25 young women to be provided for and guided at an age when control is often entirely resented in any grade of society. The former are rather fewer than in some years, and may be still lower, owing to our supply from Bridge of Weir being cut off through the re-establishing of emigration. During the year several of the older lads have gone to lodgings, being able to keep themselves, and an unusual number have been for lengthy periods working in the country—sent there by their employers. These things have tended to reduce our income from wages by some £21. Nothing out of the usual has transpired among the boys or girls. On the whole, all have been very free from sickness, and their conduct, as formerly, quite up to the average of young people of similar age and conditions of life. The Fair Holidays, being almost their only change, is always long looked forward to. This year the girls, as usual, spent the time at Bridge of Weir, but the boys, who for many years have gone to Cockenzie, found fresh camping ground at Ballantrae. They made strenuous efforts beforehand to save from their small incomes not only sufficient to pay the greater part of the extra expense incurred, but also to enable them to have something to spend like other people on holiday. Mr Wright, who very kindly gave the use of his farm buildings and fields, as well as many other friends to whom we were strangers except in name, showed us the greatest kindness by material help as well as sentiment, and we are sure this year's holiday, spent in such delightful weather, and in the midst of such beautiful and health-giving surroundings, will remain a bright spot in many lives for years to come.

The Mission Work has been carried on by the official staff, assisted by a goodly band of voluntary workers. There have been no remarkable visible results, but in every possible way, and through the instrumentality of a great variety of speakers and singers, both ministerial and lay, of various denominations, the Gospel—the seed of the Kingdom—has been faithfully proclaimed, and doubtless the day will declare such labours not in vain in the Lord. The attendances at young people's and other meetings have rather increased, but not to the extent we had looked for. Our Bible-woman has been indefatigable in her efforts to reach the people in their homes, and also to persuade those who have no Church connection, or a mere nominal one, to come to the meetings. In both she had considerable success, and a short summary of her reports may be of interest. The district, which is visited systematically—not a door being missed, exclusive of the common lodging-houses, the work in which is looked after by the Bible-women of the Glasgow Lodging-House Gospel Union—comprises about 2000 houses, but a considerable proportion are those of Roman Catholics, Jews, and Italians. Among the former it is difficult to do much, as very often the door is shut in her face, and even the tract used for introduction as well as sowing the seed is refused. But some even of these have become quite friendly, and she has been able to read the Word and pray with them in their own houses. In the farmed-out houses, which are on the increase in the district, the same people are seldom seen twice in succession, with the exception of the woman in charge, and, as a rule, she is as hard as flint. These houses are hotbeds of iniquity and imposition. It is sad to find so many homes blasted by drunken wives and mothers, who, after going so far, seem next to hopeless. They keep the whole family in constant trouble and semi-starvation, unable to procure the necessary clothing to attend any place of worship. An alarming proportion of the sober, well-doing class in comfortable circumstances have a mere nominal Church connection, only attending occasionally on Communion Sabbaths or when any benefit from church ordinances, such as baptising a child, is sought. The varied excuses these find for non-attendance clearly show their utter indifference to vital religion. The life of pleasure, with its attendant excitement, has been so strengthened by indulgence that, unless something extravagant is added to the plain message of the Cross, they cannot be induced to come out; but often they show there is a consciousness of right left by their repeated promises. It has often been a cause of wonder how people who know very little about her will unbosom themselves, and make her their confidant and friend, and reveal tales of sin and woe which they would not like their next-door neighbour to know, simply because she goes as an ambassador of Christ, who sympathises with human life in all its phases. Surely in this we see how the world all unconsciously pays homage to the name and work of our risen Lord. In spite of discouragements, there is much to praise God for. Many doors have been opened, and the way seems clearing for more. At their "ain firesides" the real man or woman appears without the cloak of pretence too often put on in public meetings. The privilege has been given and used to have many apparently profitable talks. Several have made professions of faith in Christ, and many are in the valley of decision. Our prayer, in which we ask every helper to join, is that these and many others may be won for the Saviour, and then we will not have to lament empty churches and mission halls.

DAVID DOUGLAS.

IN MEMORIAM.

Friend after friend departs, and the number of those who have passed over to the other side from the company of Home helpers grows larger year by year. Besides the beloved "Mother," we have lost many whose friendship we valued, and others of whose interest in the work we only knew after they had gone from us. Among the number are:—

Mrs. R. A. Bryden.	Mr. Wm. Kelly, Airdrie.
Rev. Dr. Hood Wilson, Edinburgh.	Miss M. Gebbie, Helensburgh.
Miss L. H. Cowan, Edinburgh.	Mrs. Rutherford, Belfast.
Miss Catherine Dick.	Mr. John M'Latchie, Ayr.
Mrs. Maclaren, Bridge of Allan.	Mrs. John Sanders, Lochmaben.
Mrs. Barr, Crosshill.	Miss C. M'Fadyen.
Mr. A. Niven, Rutherglen.	Mrs. Agnes Dunlop.
Miss Kerr.	Mr. Wm. Johnstone, Edinburgh.
Rev. George Alison, Kilbarchan.	Miss Jane M'Allister.
Mr. Henry Carr, Carlisle.	Mr. James Stewart.
Mrs. A. Parker.	Miss J. Norris.
Mr. G. Ramsay, Greenock.	Miss Margaret Stewart, Dundee.
Mrs. Thos. Corbett, Edinburgh.	Mr. David M'Kenzie, Nairn.

Rev. Dr. Henderson, Paisley.	Mrs. J. Baird.
Mrs. John Boyd, Largs.	Mr. John Pairnie, Scone.
Lady Pullar, Perth.	Miss Purdie, Lanark.

To all the sorrowing relatives and friends our prayerful sympathy goes out. We shall miss the help these dear ones were wont to give to the work, and their places will be hard to fill. While writing this, a fresh bereavement has come to us in the death of Mr. Peter Whytock, of the R.B.M.U. On a recent Sabbath he ministered in spiritual things to the large congregation of children and workers in our village Church, and in the Sanatoria, and as we listened to his message from the text for the day, "If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him," we little thought that ere another Sabbath dawned we would have to "comfort one another with these words"—

"Brief life is here our portion,
Brief sorrow, short-lived care;
The life that knows no ending,
The tearless life is there."

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND, BRIDGE-OF-WEIR, AND CITY ORPHAN HOME, GLASGOW.—On 1st November, 1903, there were resident in the Homes 1,290 boys and girls. During the year 331 new cases have been admitted, making a total of 1,621 dealt with.

These have been disposed of as follows :—Outfitted and sent to domestic service, trades, and situations, 57 ; outfitted and sent to sea, 6 ; outfitted and sent to Canada, 71 ; deaths, 17 ; children under 5 years adopted, 9 ; returned to relatives now in a position to provide for them, 101 ; left and dismissed, 33 ; sent to other institutions, 3 ; leaving in the Homes on 31st October, 1904, 1,324, of whom 727 are boys and 597 girls.

From the above it will be seen that 143 boys and girls have been given a start in life and placed in positions to make their own way without any further expense to the Homes. The older girls having been trained for domestic service, situations were found for them, and the older boys were apprenticed to trades, sent to sea or to Canada. Amongst the others returned to friends many were old enough to work, and, where necessary, we helped with outfits, so that a large proportion of these might be added to the number of the permanently helped.

CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND.—256 patients were treated during the year, and there were 2,366 attendances at the Dispensary, showing a large increase over previous years.

YEAR'S INCOME.

The amount received during the year in answer to prayer is as follows :—For the General Fund, which includes the keep of the Homes at Bridge-of-Weir and the City Home Refuge and Mission, including £1,077 13s. 4½d. earned by working boys, and sundry amounts, as per Cash Statement, £22,477 14s. 5½d. ; for Consumption Sanatoria maintenance, £5,377 17s. 1½d. ; for Sanatoria Building Fund, £5,560 19s. 1d. ; for the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, £2,213 8s. 6d., making the total amount for all purposes, £35,629 19s. 2d., besides large quantities of clothing, provisions, and other useful gifts.

In connection with the City Home work, regular Sunday and Week-day Gospel Meetings have been held in our own Hall, and thousands of tracts have been distributed ; 402 nights' lodgings were given to homeless wanderers, and many visits were paid to the homes of the poor by our workers. Sick and ailing ones have been provided with lines for Infirmarys and Convalescent Homes, and many others have received help and advice in their time of need.

For the work accomplished we are, under God, indebted to fellow-labourers, and to the practical generosity of friends throughout the country ; to ministers, evangelists, and others who have aided in the Gospel work ; to Sabbath school superintendents, teachers, and scholars ; to ladies who have made up garments for our little ones ; to the accountant who audits the books ; and to the Press which has given notices of the work.

Their ministry and helpfulness have brought joy and blessing to many lives, and we trust the record of what has been attempted will add glory to our Lord and Master.

CONCLUSION.

IN summing up the year's work, uppermost in our hearts is the feeling "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." There has been much seed sowing, and we hope for and expect a harvest in lives blest and souls gathered into the kingdom. One does not need to go far afield to be convinced that there is need in our beloved Scotland for the Orphan Homes and Consumption Sanatoria. Applications continue to reach us in behalf of needy children and suffering adults, and we look to God's people to make it possible for us to feed the hungry and clothe the naked, and to bring hope to the despairing.

Many of our friends will no doubt be interested to know the estimate of our needs for the coming year.

About £18,000 will be required for maintenance alone of the Orphan Children, apart from repairs and other special charges.

About £2,000 is required for Emigration.

Additional School accommodation is required, estimated to cost about £3,000.

We are anxious to have a Gymnasium and Swimming Pond for the older boys, which would be of great service.

Additional Homes for Children—costing £2,000 to £2,500 each. All our accommodation is at present taken up.

Additional accommodation is required for Teachers.

For the Consumption Sanatoria £6,000 will be required for maintenance, and about £1,500 to build the third block, which is to be begun shortly, and for which we have already £8,578 on hand. When this block is finished we will have beds for 132 patients and be able to relieve more of the many sufferers from Consumption.

For the Colony of Mercy we require at least £1,500 to finish the first Home and make the necessary alterations in grounds.

£4,000 is also wanted for an Executive Block.

Already enquiries are reaching us as to when Epileptics can be admitted, and it is quite evident that this new effort, which was so much on Mr. Quarrier's heart, will fill a long-felt need.

We are still hoping that some good friend will add to the beauty of our beautiful church by putting in electric light.

Besides money for the various departments of the work, we trust to have the continued co-operation of the "Dorcases" who make garments for our bairns. With so many to provide for of all ages and sizes, there can be few articles of clothing sent to us that would come amiss. For the boys going to Canada we will want 1000 shirts, and as many pairs of stockings and socks. Gifts of provisions will also be acceptable towards spreading the table for the family. The silver and the gold are the Lord's, and the work to be done is His also. Will our friends continue to pray for this corner of the great harvest field, that God may give us not only temporal blessings, but spiritual ; that the children, while here, may get to know the Lord Jesus as their Saviour and Friend, and by-and-bye go out to make the world better for their being in it ; that the work may increasingly be a testimony to the faithfulness of our covenant-keeping God ; and that all who help it forward, whether by gift or prayer, or personal effort, may "be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord ?"
