NARRATIVE OF FACTS.

THE forty-first year of the Orphan Homes has been, like the forty that have preceded it, a year of rich experience of the goodness and loving kindness of God, and we would be found among the number of those who return to give thanks. In looking back over the year we see many difficulties and trials, but much more to rejoice over, many disappointments but more encouragements, many defeats but more victories, and we cannot but praise God for His constant care and abundant provision. No one who has had any experience among children needs to be told of the endless cares and worries involved in bringing up even an ordinary family, and when the family numbers nearly 1,400, as ours does, it goes without saying that the cares and worries are multiplied exceedingly. In our experience the passing of the years does not make it easier to carry on work for the good of others, and we value all the more the devotion of our fellow-labourers who have had grace given them not to be weary in well-doing amid many difficulties that might well have quenched their zeal and enthusiasm. There have been joys to compensate for every trial, besides the great privilege of having any share in helping to bring health to the sick, succour to the distressed, and in training young lives for the Master's service. Throughout the past year we have again been kept without any anxiety regarding money matters, notwithstanding the increasing price of necessities, the coal strike, and all other adverse circumstances. We began the year with a balance on hand which seemed large as we thought of past years when the usual balance was a fortnight's provision for the family, and we closed the year with every need met without effort on our part and with the largest balance in the history of the Homes. Surely this is cause for thanksgiving to God, and we are grateful to the many friends who have made that part of the work their concern. The following are the amounts received between 1st November, 1911, and 31st October, 1912:—

I.	For the Orphan Homes,	£43,064 19 0
II.	For the Consumption Sanatoria, ..	4,876 17 11
III.	For the Colony for Epileptics, ..	2,049 6 5
IV.	For Home and Foreign Missions, ..	1,302 7 11
		£51,293 11 3

During the twelve months under review there have been in the Homes 1,731 fatherless boys and girls, 472 consumptive patients in the Sanatoria, and 100 epileptic men, women, and children in the Colony, in addition to the staff of helpers numbering close on 200. In succeeding pages reference is made to special incidents, gifts, etc., and the details will prove of interest to many friends. The Elise Hospital was opened and dedicated on Thanksgiving Day, and has already 15 of its 32 beds occupied. It will fill up a long-felt need in the village, and is a beautiful memorial of one whose sympathies went out to the suffering. The "Murray Brown" Home was also dedicated, and will be ready for occupation shortly. The enlargement of our water supply is a big undertaking, and the new reservoir to hold three million gallons will not be completed for some months yet. The extended playfields have already been of great advantage, and will be still more so in days to come.

In our City Home it has been thought desirable to make some changes in the hope that a larger number of working boys may be helped. This house will continue to be the receiving home for all the children for Bridge-of-Weir, but the rest of the building, including the hall and the rooms hitherto set apart for the Dispensary, will be used for the lads, of whom there are now over 60 in residence. The Children's Sabbath Morning Meeting in connection with the Foundry Boys' Society will be discontinued, also the Mothers' Meeting so successfully carried on by our Biblewoman, Miss Wilson. It is hoped that the children and the mothers and the workers associated with the various meetings will join other gatherings in the district. While many will regret the breaking up, we feel sure the devoted workers who have voluntarily given their services in the Mission will join us in praying that the enlarged effort for the boys may have God's blessing, and may be the means of saving many young lives.

For the sake of friends who have not seen previous reports of the Orphan Homes, the following states the basis upon which the work is carried on:—

In the year 1864, Mr. Quarrier began his public work among the street boys of Glasgow by the organisation of shoeblack and newsboys' brigades. Out of these developed the Orphan Homes, which to-day provide a Home and Christian training for 1,500 fatherless and orphan boys and girls of all ages. In the years between 1871, when the first Home was opened, and now, over 14,800 children have passed through the Homes, 5,973 of whom have been sent to Canada. Something like £930,000 has been received in voluntary gifts, of which £300,000 has been expended on buildings, land, etc., and £630,000 on the maintenance of the Homes and Sanatoria and Colony, and Home and Foreign Missions. The work is carried on in dependence upon God for daily supplies. No one is called on personally, nor do we send out collectors. The needs are committed to God in prayer, and we look to Him to move the hearts of His people to send all that is required. The aim of the Homes is to witness to God's faithfulness, and to provide for the fatherless children of Scotland. No payment is necessary to secure their admission. Any child in any part of Scotland, if fatherless and destitute, is eligible, and friends knowing of such should apply to us at once, and thus help to save the little ones from want and misery.

NOVEMBER, 1911.—The record of another year of our Heavenly Father's wonderful provision has just been closed, and once again we begin to unfold the story of His abiding faithfulness. The years roll on, and the work still grows, but amidst all the change "He changes not." We praise Him not only for the record of a changeless providence, but also for the joyful privilege of making it known. May the "Narrative" of this new year have a deeper and wider sphere of blessing than ever before.

The balance to begin with is somewhat less than last year, but every need has been bountifully met, and whether there be a surplus or not matters little since we can never overdraw His promises. The responsibility of managing the work and caring for the little ones is a heavy one, but by the goodness of God we have been kept free from all financial anxiety.

Good news from our old boys and girls is always cheering, and at the outset we want to pass it on. From the country in a district outside the Canadian capital comes the following:—

I am writing this letter to let you know how I am getting on. I am in a lovely home. I am so thankful that God has placed me in such a lovely home. Truly we have a lot to be thankful for. Thanksgiving has gone past this year again. It is drawing to the close of another year. I go to church every Sunday morning, and I am learning 600 verses. I have 60 said. Now I am trying to get 200 said for Christmas; then I get a diploma. My, I sometimes wish I were back again; but my mistress says I am always singing, and that keeps me from being so lonesome. But then when I look at your letters the very thought of being prayed for every day is lovely. I know although we are far away you always pray for us as a family. I remember when I was there how the preacher would remember in prayer to God those on the other side. I have been at the Lord's Supper once, and I expect to go two weeks from to-day. There is never a day passes but I pray for the loved ones over on the other side. We have a fine little church here, but not nearly as big and as nice as our one in the Homes.

From the opposite side of our Canadian field we have selected a letter from one of this year's party, a little girl of eleven. She says:—

I am writing to tell you that we are all well. My little sister is in the same farm as I am. We go to school together, and it is so nice for us to be together. We are getting a new school built just now. The men expect to have it done by next week. It is going to be the best school in the county. My sister and I were not sea sick on our voyage. I have a brother 2½ miles from us. We can speak to him through the telephone every day. We go to church every Sunday. My little sister has gained five pounds, and I have gained twelve pounds. The weather out here is getting very cold. We like Canada very well. I heard that Mr. Mackeith was dead, and I am sorry. We got our photo taken and I will send you one. Love to all in Homelea.

"A bright, Christian girl, one of the older members of the same party, writes:—

I received your letter and can't tell you how glad I was to get it. I hear from M—— occasionally. She is getting on fine. I saw K——. I went down to the station to meet her. She likes Canada, and like myself, says she would not like to go back unless on a visit. I like the Canadian people and ways. They seem friendly and quick in their ways. Mistress says she thought she would have to attach an electric wire to me to make me smart. I guess if the Canadians were as slow as the Scotch they would freeze here in the winter. Tell all the girls who think of coming to Canada to get a hustle on them, for the girls who came out before me all tell that the Canadians think they are slow. When I look back at myself I think I was pretty slow. I have to get new dresses, for I have grown so fat they are getting so short and tight that I can hardly breathe. I have not been sick a day since I have come. We had a mission band social this week and I recited. They want me to sing some Scotch pieces next social. I guess the girls and boys are looking for their Christmas presents. We are having very nice weather. We have had three little falls of snow, but the grass is green yet.

And now we must tell you about some of the month's gifts. The list of places from which they have come is a very long one, beginning at Bridge-of-Weir, covering the whole of Scotland, from Orkney and Shetland to Berwick-on-Tweed, crossing the Border and getting as far south as London, whence it leads us to New Zealand, South Africa, and Canada.

The largest gift, amounting to £150, is the half-yearly donation for the upkeep of our Invalid Girls' Home, with its happy memory of how God honoured our dear father for adhering to his divinely-revealed principle of daily trust without endowment. Five legacies have totalled £445 9s. 2d., and the sums specially devoted to the emigration work, £51. There have been quite a number of large gifts, but of those over £5, the most interesting is from one who writes—"Perhaps you will remember a few years ago I had the pleasure of sending you £10 from a poor, lonely widow who did not wish her name known. She has again asked me to send you £5." A guinea has come from "George and his sisters," for the orphan whom they have been supporting for a while; a lady in Roxburghshire has sent £6 to keep another for six months; and one of our old orphans has contributed 10s. Of gifts for the Home and Foreign Mission Fund, 11s. comes from Shetland; £2 4s. is a family gift from three generations; 3s. 6d., an uncashed postal order; £2 from a Dutch woman in South Africa; and £3 from two sisters in memory of their father.

Many friends would bless God for the life of our dear old friend Miss Richardson, whose home call was mentioned in last month's diary, and now we have to record some of the fruits of her labour. A friend writes, "In place of putting flowers on her grave I enclose a P.O. for 10s. for the work she had so much at heart;" and another says, "Enclosed you will find the last of her wool which I have knitted up before sending on. It was the last message she sent for."

Oh, scatter seeds of loving deeds
Along the fertile field,
For grain will grow from what you sow,
And fruitful harvest yield.

We are grateful to the many friends who make the secretary of the People's Friend Love Darg their almoner, and also to those old and new helpers who send to us direct such useful garments to help clothe our big family in these cold days of early winter.

With the same regularity with which the Great Provider supplies our daily needs, the children come unsought. Thirteen boys and ten girls have been added to the big family since this new year began, and twenty-one of those who have sojourned with us for a time have gone forth, some to relatives who have satisfied us of their ability and fitness to care for them, others to situations, and one of our James Arthur boys to sea.

The following extract from the Glasgow Herald of 30th inst., is inserted for the information of friends who were unable to be present at the annual public meeting in the city:—

The annual meeting in connection with the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Consumption Sanatoria of Scotland, and Colony of Mercy, was held yesterday afternoon in the Christian Institute, Bothwell Street, Glasgow. Pastor D. J. Findlay presided, and there were also present Sir Samuel Chisholm, Mr. James H. Dickson, Mr. J. P. MacLay, Mr. John Anderson, Mr. A. Birkmyre Scott, Mr. D. J. Knox, Mr. W. M. Oatts, the Rev. J. Bissett, the Rev. John Sloan, and Dr. Ebenezer Duncan.

The chairman said that forty years ago there were 50 children in residence at the end of the first year; to-day there were 1,400, and the whole population of the village was about 1,750. The income of the first year was £1,400; now it exceeded £40,000. The past year had been in many respects one of the best of the forty. Some £20,000 of building contracts had been in progress, the forty-first cottage was opened, and the third house for epileptics had been built.

In the annual report for the fortieth year it was stated that the year had been an arduous one in many ways, but there had been no financial burden to cause anxiety. They began the year knowing that £40,000 would be required for daily maintenance and other expenses, and, without personal solicitation or appeal, that sum had been sent in. The figures were—For the Orphan Homes, £30,860; Consumption Sanatoria, £5,501; Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, £2,084; and Home and Foreign Missions Fund, £1,568. Throughout the year they had had on an average 1,750 children, patients, colonists, and helpers depending on the daily supplies, and they had lacked nothing. The additions to the numbers during the year had been 361 children, 340 patients, and 23 colonists. In the matter of buildings the year had been a busy one. Barnhill Home and the superintendent's and workers' houses had been completed; the "Elise" Hospital was roofed in; and the new Murray Brown Home was also in course of erection. The new home in the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics was ready. In the years between 1871, when the first home was opened, and now, over 14,500 children had passed through the Homes, 5,789 of whom had been sent to Canada. Something like £879,000 had been received in voluntary gifts, of which £290,000 had been expended on buildings, lands, etc., and £589,000 on the maintenance of the Homes and Sanatoria and Colony, and Home and Foreign Missions.

Sir Samuel Chisholm, in moving the adoption of the report, said he was struck by the large number of children in Scotland who endured and suffered the sorrows and temptations of orphanhood, and worse than orphanhood, and by the wonderful provision that had been made in the Homes for the rescue and the redemption of the children. Sir Samuel also spoke of the miraculous way in which all the needs of the children were so continually and unfailingly supplied.

Mr. John Anderson seconded, and the report was adopted.

Dr. Ebenezer Duncan spoke with regard to the medical reports, and said that in regard to consumption their experience had been that the sanatoria had done a great work in the direction of educating public opinion to the necessity that there was for isolating the sick from the healthy. There was no doubt that one of the parts of the Insurance Bill that had met with the greatest acceptance by every part of the community was the proposal to found consumption sanatoria at public expense all over the country. He thought, perhaps, the authors of the bill had expected too much in the way of curative action. He was quite satisfied that they would do very good work in the public interest, not only from the point of view of taking these patients out of their homes and giving them a chance to recover, but also in the direction of diminishing consumption. The promoters of the bill were giving a certain amount of assistance to a very large number of people, but they were not going down to the class of people which had to be dealt with in the slums. The bill would never reach these people in any way whatever.

Mr. Birkmyre Scott also addressed the meeting.

DECEMBER, 1911.—Of the ten children whose stay in the Homes has ended this month, two have followed the example of the one who left last month to become a sailor. For all of these, together with the great multitude of those who have passed from under our care in days and years gone by, we daily pray that they may be “kept by the power of God;” and it is such a joy to know that many friends unite with us in this important service; but we long for many more to take a real prayer interest in our boys and girls, not only while they remain with us, but more especially when they go out to face life’s battle. Applications for admission to the Homes have been very numerous, and in all thirty children—just about enough to fill a house—have been received.

What a grand testimony it is to the widespread influence of the Gospel, with its story of the first Christmas, that so very many still make it the season for giving their gifts. Nearly a thousand separate donations of money, not to speak of those in kind, almost as numerous, for the Orphan Homes alone, have come to hand at this time, bringing with them much appreciated words of cheer. It helps greatly in the compiling of these diary notes, to hear from such a large number of friends of blessing received and pleasure derived from the printed account of God’s dealings with His work here during another year.

Gifts from Northumberland, Cumberland, Lancashire, Yorkshire, Cheshire, Gloucester, Worcester, Bedford, Warwickshire, Rutland, Hampshire, London, Surrey, Sussex, Dorset, and Devon, show that England has been very fairly represented on the month’s donation list, and several from Belfast and district bring practical demonstration of the sympathy of Irish friends. Coming back to our own beloved land, Shetland has sent £1 from one friend, £10 from “K,” £2 from the Parish Sunday School in Lerwick, and this explanation regarding part of another gift—

Two-and-six of this is from my oldest boy, five years old, and was a birthday gift, but he wanted me to send it for the poor children whom he prays for every night. Can you put it towards their Christmas treat?

To the happy mother who penned these words we can but pass on the old promise, “Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it.” Praise God for such mothers, and may He grant to us as a nation, mothers who, mid the turmoil and rush of modern society, will find and take time to teach their little ones of Jesus and His love. The sender of 5s. 6d. saved pennies of three boys tells that one Sunday evening a friend met them and gave G— a penny, and having about 1½ miles to walk, we thought of taking the car. So G— told me he would walk and send the car fare to your boys with the rest of his pennies; so his mother and I accompanied him. So that was three pennies for your boys.

“A little child shall lead them.” The mother of three of our boys sending 3s. says—“It will put something on the tree;” £1 is from a wellwisher to help with what will be done for the dear bairns at Christmas time; another friend writes, “When remitting for enclosed account deduct £1 and place it among whatever money you receive for the children’s treat at the New Year;” £2 is “to help your Christmas dinner;” and £25 comes from a lady in London who has again remembered the loading of the Christmas trees. The month’s largest gift—a family one—amounting to upwards of £500, will be used in part for these special treats. How mindful our Heavenly Father is of the things—not necessities—which go to make the children’s lives so full of happiness. Three little girls have sent 18s., the proceeds of their cake and candy sale; and a boy sending some stamps says, “This is a shilling’s worth of stamps which I bought with one I got from my father, so I want you to use it for the little boys and girls. I hope they will have a merry Christmas.”

Along with £1 from the grateful mother of one of our sailor lads have come 13 useful articles of clothing; another £1 from one who has contributed for a quarter of a century; and yet another £1 from a grateful heart “as a thankoffering for not needing a doctor for a year.” £3 for the Sanatoria, with 10s. for the Homes, is from a young women’s Bible class, one of whose members is presently a patient at the former; £5 and £1 17s. for Sunday extractions, from a dental surgeon; £40 from another friend, with £30 from her son and his wife, to be divided equally between the Homes and the Sanatoria; £180 from the two donors of one of the boys’ Homes, with £10 for the Sanatoria; £20 from a friend who wishes £5 of it to help with the proposed swimming baths; £30 for the Homes, with £20 for emigration expenses from our old friend “Dumfriesshire;” £29 10s. from readers of The Christian; £1 from an aged widow; 2s., “an old worker’s mite;” and a host of other money gifts, many of which are memorial ones. The children of the Portuguese Sabbath School who have remembered the Scotch orphans for many years, have again contributed £5; two friends with their daughter in Maritzburg, £3; another in B.C. Africa, £1 10s; one in Natal, £1; one in Egypt, another £1; a helper in Ohio, £5; and several others from Montreal to Vancouver, something over 22 dollars; whilst one of our own dear girls sending £1 from Australia writes:—

I wish you all a bright Christmas and a happy New Year. I am getting on very nicely in my place, with Jesus as my Guide. I always put Him first in my life.

Perhaps the most gratifying gifts are those from our old boys and girls whose thoughts are so prone to turn back to the old Home at this season, so full of happy memories. 10s. is the gift of one of our girls; 10s. and 2s. for the Mission Fund, of another; 15s. of a third; 2s. of a fourth, with 10s. from her mistress; 25s. from one of our boys, his wife and children, on the anniversary of their wedding; 10s. from another old girl; 5s. from yet another; 15s. from two sisters; £1 from another who with her brother and sisters was with us for a long time; £3 from an old boy in Alberta; 5 dollars from one of our girls in Montreal; 2 dollars from one in Kingston; and 3 dollars from another in Ontario.

The following extract is part of a letter from one of our boys now resident in the United States:—

It is with great pleasure I now write to you, even if it is just a few lines, for, indeed, I am no hand at writing letters. I’m getting on pretty fair. I am not working on a farm now as — has sold his farm. I am now working as a groom at 15 dollars a month and board and lodging. I thank you for the report and letter you sent me some time ago. It’s very interesting to read about the dear old Homes and its growing prosperity, and I did enjoy reading about it very much; but I was very sorry indeed to read in your letter that I had no relatives living. Still it’s a great blessing to know I have a few kind friends who love and pray for me. You will be glad to hear that I have joined a Sunday School for young men, and the first Sunday I was there the preacher offered a prize to the one who could repeat all the names of the books of the Bible by heart, so I stood up and repeated them from Genesis to Revelation without a mistake, and I got the prize ; so you see I haven't forgot what I was taught at the Home. I often think of the happy days I spent there.

Last year's dux girl writes from Canada :—

A letter in answer to yours which I received some time ago. I have been very busy the last three months, and that is what prevented me from writing sooner. Haying, harvest, corn-cutting, and apple-picking are some of the big things we have in the fall. Though I did not help cut hay we had more cooking and more house work during that time. I like Canada better the longer I stay in it, but yet my heart often wanders homeward. We, that is my two brothers and I, seem to be very fortunate, for I live in the same farm as one, and the other is just about three miles distant. There has been some pretty cold weather, but the winter cold has not yet set in. My master has promised me a lot of sleigh rides when sleighing time comes. I suppose the Girls' Guildry has started again for another session. I wish there was something like that round here to go to. Mr. Winters was round visiting me this fall, and the three of us all got a splendid character from our respective masters. I am well, and I trust this letter will find you the same.

Reference has already been made to the gifts in kind, and we said they were very numerous, but that does not convey any idea of their variety. Here are some of the articles received, viz. :—Fifty-five dozen currant loaves, scones, pies, cakes, preserves, butter, two cheeses, tea, five bags oatmeal, fowls, including a goose from one donor, and six turkeys from another, rabbits, a box of sweets for each girl in "Bethesda," a packet of sweets for each child and patient in the Homes, Sanatoria, and Colony, two sheep, five barrels of apples, and five cases of oranges, a perambulator, 1,000 motto cards for the children on New Year's morning, pieces of cloth, over 1,600 ready-made garments of all sorts and sizes, books and toys of every description, including amongst many other delights three dolls, which we make mention of because they were the gift, along with half-a-sovereign, from the workmen at the new "Murray Brown" Home. A startling miscellany to be sure, but very useful in a family of thirteen hundred children during the Christmas week.

What a busy place is ours in these closing weeks of 1911 ! We have to discover what will bring most pleasure to the bairns, and then do our best to procure it. When all the loads of stuff have arrived, the various gifts are selected, made up into parcels, and labelled for the recipients so that everything may be ready to hang upon the trees and boat on New Year's morning. But this is only one of the many necessary preparations which keep every member of the staff hustling, and make the short winter days seem shorter still. A full stocking and a special dinner and tea, followed by a lantern lecture in the Church on Christmas day, begins the festive season for the children. They too are busy in their way, and the daily increasing excitement reaches the fever level on Saturday night with an intervening Sunday before the great day on which their minds have been focussed for so long.

JANUARY, 1912.—Sunday has gone, taking with it all the opportunities of the old year, and now with the dawn of a new day we stand confronted with a fresh responsibility. May the errors and discipline of the departed days help us to be more faithful and lean less to our own understanding.

Long before daybreak all the little folks are astir to make this memorable day as long as possible. A real "tea" breakfast with the added luxury of ham and egg begins the feasting, the second instalment of which consists in the turkey, roast beef, pie and plum pudding repast at mid-day, and the third in the special tea with cakes, buns, and shortbread. The interval between the first and second is given over to the final joys of anticipation and the energetic rather than careful performance of the necessary housework. At two o'clock everyone assembles in the Church for the event of the day—the dismantling of the huge Christmas Trees and the boat—which follows immediately after the opening prayer and hymn of thanksgiving, in which all our radiantly happy multitude pour forth in song as with one voice, their sacrifice of praise to the God of love who cares for little children. Four hours later in the same building we meet again for our annual family reunion, for, though only a small portion of the many thousands who once participated in these New-Year gatherings have been with us to-day in person, a great host have been present in spirit as their thoughts turned homeward from every point in the compass. The evening's entertainment of the children's own providing is brought to a close as usual with family worship, when each member of the great family on land or sea the world around is anew committed to our Heavenly Father's care. To-day's mail has brought several communications that are specially encouraging. A bright boy of fourteen years left us less than three years ago and to-day his letter reads as follows :—

No doubt you will think me very neglectful in taking such a long time to write to you, but I got my pen to the paper at last. Well, Miss Quarrier, I have been getting along well since I came into this country. M— is still in his place and is getting along well. J— is working in Ottawa now and likes it well. We are all in good health, and fine and strong. I am sure you would not know me now. Jesus is helping me every day to look to Him, and my prayers are for the boys and girls and friends in the dear old Homes at Bridge-of-Weir. Is A— coming out to Canada in April, as Mr. — wants to get another boy ? If it was possible for A— to come out I would write to Mr. Grierson and tell him to send him beside me, so that I could teach him and take care of him. Mr. — said I could make this my home, so I would be delighted to see A— here with me. I still keep going to church.

One of our old girls in a situation in this country, enclosing a donation to help on the work in her old home, misses very much the New-Year's gatherings, but is able to tell us that her brother who left us last spring "is liking his new home in Canada very well." The husband of another old girl sending £1 writes :

My wife, one of your large family who came to Canada in the summer of 1885, has wanted for a great many years to send you a small gift to help your enormous family along. We enclose our little mite, and trust that by next Christmas we will be able to double it up and make it an annual gift. We will be married ten years on 4th June, and have been very happy building up a little home together. We had a trip to the coast three years ago, and my wife had the pleasure of visiting her brothers whom she had not seen for a great number of years. They all belong to your family. When I was in Scotland with my father and mother we had an uncle who lived in Kilmacolm, and your lovely Home impressed me then, and I can see the beautiful spot to-night, and my wife can describe the entire place as it was 26 years ago. Now we want to wish every member of your large family a very very merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year.

Another gift from Winnipeg has amounted to 10s., and 5 dollars have come from Edmonton, besides the usual donation of 20 dollars from the children and grown-ups of a Montreal Mission, and 10 dollars from a lady in Prince Edward Island. From across the line we also have £4 from Oregon and 10s. from New Jersey. A friend in Switzerland has sent his cheque for £3, another in Queensland one for £5, one of our old workers, now a missionary in India, £1, another old worker 15s., and a member of the present staff £1. "The Lord has guided me to send you 5s. as part of a little money I have saved for Him," says one who is "just a working girl," but has proved "it is indeed more blessed to give than to receive." One of our own old girls has sent 10s., and 5s. is "from an orphan for the orphans." 2s. is a boy's first pay. God bless the boy and give him to know by personal experience that "there is that scattereth and yet increaseth." 10s. is from the collecting box of two children, and 5s. from a Junior Christian Endeavour Society, whilst about 225 different Sabbath schools all over the country have sent money gifts to swell the children's treasury since the year began. Two of our own invalid children also have contributed their gifts of one shilling from a boy and four shillings from a girl, who sends with the order this delightful little note to say :—

Here is a little gift from one of the children you have done so much for. I have had a great many presents lately, and this is my second postal order, so I thought I would send it to you to help in this great work of the Lord's. I have been here for three years, and this was the first year I was able to go out and see the Christmas tree. It was most beautiful. I never imagined it was half so nice. It is not much, but when given with a willing and cheerful heart I know you will accept it.

Quite a number of large sums have come to hand, the largest amounting to £1,400, of which £1,000 is for the Home and Foreign Missions Fund. £200 of a £700 gift is for emigration work, as also the half of a £500 one. £50 from Fife is to be equally divided between the Homes and the Sanatoria, and £20 is to be halved between the general fund and the emigration fund. £20 came to help with the New-Year dinner, and a special uplift took the form of an anonymous New-Year's offering of £200. Such gifts as this bring with them a blessing peculiarly their own in that we must look direct to our Heavenly Father as the donor. £100 is from a friend of long standing, £500 from the Corporation of Glasgow for the Sanatoria and the City Dispensary, £20 from the trustee of the late Miss Farquharson, who was our fellow-helper for a number of years, and £25 to be divided equally between the Homes and the Colony from a lady who has added this remembrance of the work amongst the epileptics to her usual donation, which goes to support a child, as "a thankoffering for the recovery of my little boy from a serious illness." Several other gifts have come to pay for the support of individual children for the next twelve months, £12 being from a gentleman in Paisley, other £12 from Peebles, £6 10s., a half-yearly amount from Dundee, and £24 with the following :—

I have much pleasure in enclosing my annual contribution of £12 for myself and family for the maintenance of our little girl. As the Lord hath prospered me during the past year I add another £12 to my usual contribution to pay for another child—what I would fain hope is turning "gold into life," as it has been aptly designated.

A lady in the north interested in one of our older girls sends £5, and a gentleman sending a like amount says, "I had a note from the — family from Canada the other day. The boys are all doing well."

The school vacation was finished off on the evening of Monday, the 8th inst., with a display of specially-selected cinematograph films. The school year closes with the end of January, and consequently the prize list has loomed largely on the horizon of many of the boys and girls of ambition during these past three weeks. Two of our city lads, now in a position to provide for themselves, have gone into private lodgings, and still another of the James Arthur boys has gone to be a sailor. One child has been received for every day in the month. Thus day by day, as the big family is augmented and those who leave us go to swell the greater family, our influence widens and the memory of this God-blessed village is borne to the uttermost parts of the earth. By that memory may He give the increase in many hearts in which we have faithfully sought to sow the good seed of His Kingdom.

FEBRUARY, 1912.—Friends on the mission field have been mindful of our needs this month. One of our own missionaries has sent £1; several others, all members of the Qua Iboe Mission, where there is such an eager desire on the part of the rising generation to hear the Gospel, have sent a united contribution of £3 10s.; a lady member of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in China has given £1; a minister in South Africa another £1, which has been put to the account of the emigration work; and £31 3s. 5d., to emigrate three boys, has come through a gentleman in London from a lady missionary, also in China, who writes as follows :—

A few weeks ago I had intimation of a small legacy which is to come to me shortly. I wrote to the executor asking that one-tenth and £2 be sent to you for the Homes. I think it should be about enough to emigrate three children, and I should be glad to have it used in that way. Will you let me know the names of the children you choose for me, as I would like to be able to pray for them definitely and intelligently.

This gift has been a great joy to us, because it completes the £1,000 necessary for the outfit and passage of the 100 boys whom we wish to send to Canada next month, and also since we have been able to find three orphan brothers, aged 14, 12, and 10 years respectively, to comply with the closing request of our generous and thoughtful friend's letter. The names of the two eldest boys were already on the provisional list when this gift reached us, and while we waited before deciding as to which names should be sent to our friend, a request came that the youngest boy should accompany his brothers, so that they might all be together. Their names stand together on the list of the 1912 Boys' Canadian Party, and also on the prayer list of a missionary in far-off China. God grant that very soon they may also stand side by side in the Lamb's Book of Life. They are three specimens of splendid boyhood with good promise for the future. If it be His will, may all three be missionaries of the Cross. From one of our Canadian boys who gladdened our hearts by joining the Church a few days before his departure three years ago, we have two and a half dollars and the following letter :—

It is a long time since I wrote you last, but I have not forgotten you. I received the New Year's Letter, and am glad to see how everything is going on so well, and how bountifully God has supplied every need in the year that has just gone. My only regret has been that I have not been able to send something to help, but I am thankful that this time I am able to send a little. I belong to the Men's Union of — Church, of which body I have been made treasurer for this year. My brother went out West with the harvesters' excursion and has since come back. My sister is getting on very well. It must have been a great treat for the children to have a week's holidays at the seashore. I can imagine how delighted I would have been had that treat been when I was in the Homes. The new gymnasium looks fine. I think that the "Old Boys' and Girls' Cottage" is an excellent idea. I thought of it myself before I knew about it, and will do my best to help it along. Now I think I will close, hoping that the year 1912 will bring prosperity, both spiritual and temporal, to the Orphan Homes of Scotland.

During the first quarter of the present year there were no deaths in the village, but this month three of our family have been called beyond. No less than thirty-nine have been added to our numbers during this short month, making a net increase of twenty-two. Just thirty-five years ago on the 10th inst. the first stone of the Orphan Homes was laid, and year by year as this anniversary comes round still the wonder grows. Truly in the words of the Psalmist we can say, "The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad." To help clothe the bairns 2 pairs of socks are "for one of your big boys with all good wishes;" 218 articles from our old friends of the Phoebe Band; 174 articles from a sewing society, who send a money gift as well to be divided between the funds of the Homes and the Sanatoria; and 85 Tam o' Shanters from a firm with whom we deal for woollen goods; and to vary the daily fare the friend who last month sent the price of an orange for each child has repeated his gift; a firm in Glasgow have forwarded a case of oranges; and one of our old workers other four cases. £2 is from a lady in Queensland; 10 dollars from San Francisco; £10 from a lady in the Isle of Wight; 2s. 6d. from a frequent donor in Tewkesbury; £3, "a thankoffering to God for preserving my cattle from tick fever," from South Africa; £1 from the Transvaal; 2s. 6d. from Sussex; 5s. from Kensington; 2s. 6d. from a lighthouse in the south of Scotland; 5s. from one who signs as "Neighbour;" and 5s. from one of our old girls. The mistress of another, enclosing a donation to the work, speaking of her new maid, says, "She is giving every satisfaction, and will become with further experience a capable servant." Another of our girls now in domestic service writes:—

Just a few lines in answer to your letter. I am so sorry for not answering it before this, but you will please excuse my delay. I hope it will find you all in good health, as it leaves me. I was down and spent New Year's Day among the dear children, but oh, how I was wishing I was back again! I must say that I spent my happiest days in the Homes. I shall never be able to pay back all that was done for me. I never turn into bed at night without praying for you and all the dear children, and I am sure that you will remember me in your prayers, for we know that God hears and answers prayer. I will always be glad to hear from you and to hear what is going on in the village, for my thoughts turn towards them a great deal.

It is not only our old boys and girls who cherish the recollection of what they have seen and heard here, but many who at various times have been the Lord's messengers to us have written in the same strain as one who says, "I enclose a cheque for £1 1s. for the Orphan Homes, which I hope to make an annual contribution in remembrance of a very inspiring visit I paid you in October, and with best wishes for God's blessing on your wonderful work." Another friend writes, "The wonderful way the Lord provides for this large family of children is a lesson to all of us, but then He is the unchangeable God and can equally supply the need of the two millions in the wilderness, the five thousand on another occasion, or the one needy prophet who could not see whence the supply should come." Our experience cries out in the words of the hymn, "Elijah's God still lives to-day."

MARCH, 1912.—To replenish the stock of the drapery store a branch of the Y.W.C.A. have sent 72 articles of clothing with the donation from their treasurer amounting to £6; the additions of branches of the Scotch Girls' Friendly Society in Callander, Bathgate, and Stewarton have totalled 423 garments; a girls' work party has sent 19 articles of clothing; friends in a church in Glasgow, 170 articles; the Onward and Upward Society, 44 articles; a gentleman, per the sewing society which he thus helps, 98 articles; and the old friends of the Apsley Place Sewing Meeting, the last of their winter's work numbering 63 articles. A goodly number of Bible classes, both senior and junior, and a far larger contingent of Sabbath schools ranging from Wick, Dingwall, and Beaully, southwards to Berwick-on-Tweed and across country from Rosehearty and Arbroath to Ayr and Bute, have added to the general funds, whilst one Sabbath school, anxious to have a share in the new "Sabbath School" Home for Girls, has asked that its gift of £2 11s. be laid aside for this purpose, which is every year approaching nearer to realisation. £7 is from a Women's Foreign Missionary Association; £2 from a Women's Own; 25s. from a girls' industrial class; £1 6s. 9d. from a company of the Boys' Brigade; £1, "as a thankoffering for the baby girl" adopted recently; £2 from a mother in memory of her son; 5s., a thankoffering from the grateful mother of a girl who sojourned with us for a while, saying "she is still doing well"; 12s. from the grateful mother of one of our boys; 10s. from another grateful mother of another boy; and 10s. from the aunt of two of our old children now in Canada. The following letter from the mother of a boy who went to Canada last year, in reply to an intimation that her other boy wished to be included in this year's party, expressing as it does the deep gratitude of her heart, has been most cheering mid the strain and overwork of preparing everything for the exodus of the boys:—

Have just received your p.c., telling me my other boy will be leaving on the 30th of this month. I am very glad he is getting out, as he has always had a wish to go since his brother went last year. I have written these few lines. It is all I can do, and it seems so very little for all your kindness to my boys, but God knows it is the truth, and I am living in hope that in some future time I will be able to do more. The boys and I are looking forward to that time. I was down a fortnight ago seeing my boy. He was looking so well and happy, and he was telling me he was going away, he thought, and I have promised to go out to my boys as soon as I can. I have not much to spare, and I would like, if possible, to get a pound or two in my pocket before going out to a strange land, and I feel if we were all near each other we might be able to send a little along to the place where my boys have been fed and nourished. However, what I have been unable to send God has perhaps sent from another. I see by the paper this week a kind gentleman has not forgot you. How my heart rejoices to think some are good and generous that are gifted with money, and it will do a lot of good and save many from shame and misery. Again thanking you for your goodness to me and my two lads. With every good wish that God will bless you and yours in the good work you are doing.

This letter has done us far more good than if the poor but grateful woman had sent the £10 necessary to pay her boy's expenses. "She hath done what she could." "The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of Hosts." On the 18th inst., the school year having closed some time ago and all arrangements being completed, every class room was thrown open for the annual inspection by fathers, mothers, and friends of the children at work in the several departments of the school. The best specimens of the year's work in kindergarten, sewing, writing, drawing, painting, cookery, woodwork, and clay-modelling were on view and made a most creditable exhibition. In the evening, honoured with the company of Sir William and Lady Bilsland, Sir Samuel and Lady Chisholm, and others of the school managers, the prize-giving and demonstration took place in the Church, when the happy dux boy and dux girl were each presented with a silver watch to carry with them wherever they go as a proof of their scholarship. In due time their names will be added to the roll of honour which hangs in a prominent place in the School Hall. Four legacies for the Orphan Homes and one for the Sanatoria have amounted to £1,686 16s. 1d. From the remainder of the donation list we mention:— 1s. 6d., "an invalid's mite;" 10s., the familiar fortnightly amount from "Alice, Willie, and Jessie;" 10s., "a birthday thankoffering;" £4 2s. from a number of friends among the railwaymen at Greenock; 10s. from Suffolk; 5s. from London; £1 from Illinois; £1 from Pennsylvania; 5 dollars from Hamilton, Ontario; £3 from Wellington, N.Z.; 15s. from New South Wales; and £12 from Leith friends to continue the support of a little girl. £5 comes from one who "hopes that there are stores sufficient to tide the Homes over these troublous times," and a lady, sympathising like many others with us during these trying days of the coal strike, passes on the encouraging message, "God is over all and we can trust His love." Along with three shillings for the neediest part of the work comes the expression of our only and all sufficient hope—Dominus providebit—the Lord will provide.

Though last month all the money necessary for the emigration of the boys' party was to hand, the girls' one is still to be provided for, and a number of gifts have been received for this branch of the work. £1 is "to help one girl out;" £30 from a Greenock gentleman for the outfit and passage of three boys; £1 more from another source; £20 from an ardent supporter of emigration; and 10s. from one interested in one of the prospective emigrants, with other 10s. for the boy's personal use.

The latter half of last and the whole of this month have been devoted to the arduous task of preparing the future Canadian citizens for leaving the old home in a creditable way, with a varied outfit of clothing which should make them independent of the tailor for a year at least. As one examination succeeds another, and time after time the long list of aspirants to a home in the Dominion is reduced to the required limit, excitement becomes prevalent in a high degree amongst all the children, some of whom are doubtless disappointed as the day of sailing draws near with no prospect of their being of the party. On Friday evening, 29th inst., the big family assembled in the Church for another of those memorable valedictory meetings which never fail to make a lasting impression on the mind. After the accustomed manner the emigrant band filed up one aisle and down the other to the front seats, and as the tones of the organ died away the solemn parting service proceeded. Sound advice was given to the boys as to how they should conduct themselves in the big world in which so soon they were to find themselves unprotected by the barriers of a good environment, and each was urged to definite decision for Christ—to "seek first the kingdom of God." For the last time we all sang together our evening prayer-hymn, and when the rest of the congregation had dispersed, each emigrant was presented with a copy of the Pocket Testament League's regulation Testament in tasteful leather binding, by a friend who longed that all might make God's word their guide.

TWO SISTERS WHO LEFT THE HOMES LAST YEAR.

Early on the following morning the party of one hundred bade good-bye to the old place so as to reach Glasgow in time for the early sailing of the Allan Line's s.s. Scotian, on which they embarked a few minutes before the gangways were lifted at 9.50. We had time to inspect the splendid dining and sleeping accommodation reserved for the boys, and also see them partake heartily of their first meal on board ship as we accompanied them down the river to Greenock, where we bid Godspeed to Mr. W. Douglas and Mr. W. D. Mackay (our honorary dentist) and their precious charge.

This exodus, together with other fifteen dismissals during the month, have made a much-needed reduction in our numbers to allow room for the constant inflow, which has averaged one for every day.

APRIL, 1912.—Leaving Greenock about 3 p.m. on Saturday, 30th ult., the Scotian, with its precious burden, sailed round to Liverpool to make a further embarkation, thus enabling our friends to send news of the first part of their journey and interchange a parting greeting ere they steamed across the ocean to Halifax, whence after an expeditious rail journey the whole party arrived safe and well at Fairknowe on the forenoon of Wednesday, 10th inst. How much cause we had for thanksgiving we learned only a few days later when there fell upon the world's startled ear the awful news of the Titanic's loss at a spot past which our party had been safely guided.

On the second evening of the month the winter's work of the Girls' Guildry in the village was brought to a close with a social function in the Central Hall. We were glad that Dr. Somerville—the founder of the movement—and Mrs. Somerville were able to be present, and feel sure the fact of their being with us did much to make our girls feel the importance of their branch, though only a unit of a larger body.

The sailing date for the Girls' Party having now been fixed for next month, we have no sooner got over the busy spell attendant on the departure of the boys than we are again overwhelmed with the work of outfitting and arranging for the girls. When the month began we had a balance of £195 6s. 2d. standing to the credit of the emigration fund after paying all the expenses of the Boys' Party, but £30 of this sum was to be used for boys only, leaving sixteen and a half passages and outfits paid for girls. During April as much as provides for other sixty-one has come to hand from various sources, so that not more than £50 is now required to cover the cost of sending the number who will probably be on the list when the time of departure has arrived. The smallest sum received for emigration this month is £3 from Grangemouth; £5 has reached us from Middlesex; other £5 from a "Helping Hands' Society;" £12 from two friends as a memorial on the birthday of their departed boy; four separate gifts of £10 each (which is just the amount required to pay the expenses of one child), two of them from friends in the capital city, one from Kilmarnock, and the fourth from Irvine; and £500 from the generous donor who has for several years taken such a substantial interest in this method of helping our boys and girls to a position where they will soon be able to help themselves. With forty years' experience behind us, we feel perfectly sure that when the beloved founder decided in 1872 to begin the work of child emigration to Canada he did the right thing. It has been an unspeakable advantage to the thousands of boys and girls who have left these Homes to be placed within easy reach of the priceless opportunities of our vast Dominion across the Atlantic, and the economics of emigration are perfectly sound. Our readers will be sure to appreciate the following letter from a smart, tidy little fellow of only eleven years who has only been a few days in his new Canadian home, but is evidently quite delighted with his surroundings. As is usually done, the few shillings he had saved from his reward money while here, changed into Canadian currency, had been tucked away in an envelope in the locker of his box, where he would find it on arriving at his new abode. It amounted to only sixty-three cents, his all however, to which his new friends added enough to bring it up to a dollar bill, which he has sent in the self-same envelope with his most touching little note, which reads thus:—

I hope that you and Mrs. Burges and Mr. Douglas are all keeping well. Mr. and Mrs. — are very kind and do their very best for me. On Sunday I went to church. It is a lovely little building. It is just about the same size as the new part of your church in the Homes. Mrs. — is going to frame the Band of Hope pledge that you so kindly gave me. My home is a most comfortable little place. It has a summer kitchen and a winter kitchen. It also has three upstairs bedrooms and, altogether, is a very nice home. I'll never forget the training I got down in the Orphan Homes. Every night before I go to bed I pray God that He may give a blessing on the Homes. One thing that I have never forgotten is my manners, and I try to be as good as ever I can. In the home I help Mrs. — by getting water, fetching sticks, and helping her with the dishes. On the other hand, I help Mr. — by feeding the calves, cows and hens, and fetch in the cattle when it is time. I think that by your doing so much for me that I should in turn do you something, so I send you my reward money. It's not much, but it may give you some help. I now close by sending it willingly and cheerfully with all my heart.

"The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." How good of Him to give us such a reward of our labours on behalf of His little one, on whom we earnestly pray, "The Lord make his face shine."

We have now to record the remarkable fact that our dismissals for the month, numbering eleven, and including two cases of adoption, have exceeded by three the number of admissions, which is the lowest for a very long time. In the small space still at our disposal we turn again to the donation list.

Some memorial gifts are £1 1s.; £1 in memory of a sister; 10s. for the Sanatoria; £1 from a sister in memory of her brother; and legacies, four in number, totalling £2,422 14s., with a fifth amounting to £189 12s. 8d. for the Sanatoria. £1 has been received "from two servants;" £1, with 7s. 6d. for the Colony; another £1. "In gratitude for God's goodness to me a widow;" 5s. from the Guildry Girls of a Glasgow Church; £1, a thankoffering from an old worker; £2 10s., a worker's thankoffering; £1, a bank draft from a Scotch Presbyterian Church in Buenos Ayres; 5 dollars from Philadelphia; other 5 dollars from a friend of one of our earliest girl emigrants, who has passed on the gift; 5s. from two grateful girls; £2 from Natal; £1 from a Kirkwall Bible Class; and 10s. from "Inasmuch," who frequently remembers our needs, besides £31 16s. collected and sent by friends in Campbeltown, successors in this special bit of service of one whose interest has continued from the beginning of the Homes until now.

MAY, 1912.—North, South, East, and West, in instalments of from two to ninety-seven, come over eight hundred articles of clothing to help with the outfitting of the girl emigrants and to fill the many gaps left on the shelves after fitting out both boys and girls. Two tons of potatoes have come from Prestonpans; 5 bags of oatmeal from a lady friend; and 40 sacks of flour and 2 sacks wheaten meal, which we had ordered from the firm we deal with, are to hand free of charge "with our compliments." A virtual gift in kind is £6 10s. from a lady who wishes to pay for the Bibles given to the girls shortly sailing for Canada. Another lady friend sends £5 "to help some girl to go to Canada when the next lot are sent." The following extracts from letters give in their own words reports of some of our children's doings in the land of their adoption. One of the 1911 boys writes:—

I received your letter a few days ago and was very pleased to get it. It is just a year ago to-day since I reached here. I have a very good home and most people tell me to stay here. You can tell — that I am very thankful for the training he gave me. My sister is in a very good home. She says she is going to school every day she can get there. I would like you to send me one of last year's reports. I must send you some money when I get rich enough.

One of last year's girls says:—

I received your letter. It brightened me up to hear from the dear old Homes. By your letter there must be a great change in the Homes. I never heard about the old boys' and girls' "Canada Home" until I received your letter, and I will really try and give a small contribution. Every boy and girl in Canada from the Homes ought to do their best to show thanks to you. I can't help thanking you first for sending me to Canada, and then Mr. Grierson for sending me to such a lovely Christian home. I am at home here. I eat with the family and am treated as one of them. I went to church regularly in the summer and when the roads were good in winter. I am only three miles from my brother, so he comes to see me often, and stays for tea. I send my love to all — cottage girls.

Another girl writes from the extreme end of another section of our emigration field:—

I am writing this letter to let you know I received your kind and ever welcome letter. I do love to hear from any one at Bridge-of-Weir. It puts me in mind of the good times I had. Dearest friend, I hope to try and help the Homes when I can, because I think I am greatly in debt to the Homes. I thought it was lovely to think about having a Canada Home. I gave a dollar to it, and I know it is going for a good purpose.

One of this year's boys, asking us to send out his younger brother with the next party says, "I am very pleased with you for sending me out here to this beautiful home." Good news comes from another boy, who tells that both he and one of our girls have been recently led to give themselves to Christ under the preaching of Gipsy Hawkins, the English evangelist, who was at one time a deserted waif on the streets of London, but rescued by friends in a kindred institution where, during a wonderful revival among the youthful inmates, he himself was led into the light. In a newspaper cutting, after the truly American journalistic fashion, headed, "Climbed the Ladder of Success," and beginning, "In a series of articles on 'prominent men' The Cobden Sun has the following to say of the efficient manager of the Pine Grove cheese factory," there is a lengthy account of the career of another of our boys since his arrival in Canada in 1888.

Amongst the month's legacy payments is £7,200, part of the legacy of £10,000 mentioned in last Report, the largest bequest ever made to us, and also £200, with an equal sum for the Colony of Mercy, to which there has also been given 5s; 10s. from a Young Women's Bible Class; 30s. from near Dundee; £5, with £5 for the Homes; and £1, along with

£2 for the Homes and £6 for the Sanatoria. 1s. "for your Homes, with love and prayer," is a very familiar gift; the sender of sixpence writes, "This is another sixpence to help a wee bit with your work in rearing the children to serve our dear Saviour. May Jesus prosper you more and more." Two missionaries in China have sent £1; some one near Oldham, two guineas; an old worker, 10s., "of Thine own;" two old workers, other 10s.; an anonymous donor somewhere in Lanarkshire, £4; a Border farmer's Sabbath School, 6s.; and a few Edinburgh friends, £4. From New Bedford, Mass., we have £5, "half of an offering taken up by our Sunday School for the Müller and Quarrier Homes." £10 has been paid to our account in the Union Bank through the Dundee branch; a friend who felt the services in our church "most impressive," and enjoyed them much, has sent £5; postal orders for 40s. is an appreciation of kindness shown to one of this year's Boys' Canadian Party; and one who long ago was a James Arthur boy, but now a fully-fledged master mariner in a position of trust and an honour to the old brig on which he received his early training, has sent a substantial donation of £25. Here is part of his most interesting letter:—

The London agent of this firm will send you a cheque for £25, which please accept as a yearly donation of £5 for the past five years arriving in a lump sum. I hope to be able to continue this in future. I will be happy if I can double it. I am afraid you will look upon me as one of the boys who has forgotten Bridge-of-Weir, but it is not so. I often think of the happy days spent there. I would like to see the dear old place again, and I intend to soon if I am spared. How time flies! It is 23 years this month since I left the James Arthur to join my first ship. I have been to Bridge-of-Weir since then, but it is a long time ago. What an enormous place it is now compared with the time when I was there. I don't believe I ever wrote to thank you for the book "The Life of Mr. Quarrier" that you gave to a lady friend to give to me. Old Captain Blanche sent me the annual report. On looking through it, it brings back many pleasant recollections. Some of the names mentioned are quite familiar. I suppose there are many changes amongst the workers. How is the old James Arthur? I would enjoy a few days on board there now. I have been connected with this firm for fifteen years, the past seven years of which have been spent in this part. My home is in Australia, where my wife and three children reside. Hoping this will find you quite well and everything flourishing at Bridge-of-Weir.

This marks the first of three successive red-letter days this month. The second was celebrated as the King's birthday. It was a school holiday, of course, and the afternoon was given up to a long programme of sports in the extended playfield, which, with its artificial lake of an acre in extent, will be a great source of delight to both boys and girls in summer and winter alike. Instead of going home with the other children when the National Anthem had been sung, the emigrant band proceeded as invited guests to partake of a special tea on the lawn at the Colony. After sometime spent in out-door games the whole family were re-united for the last time in the Church for the farewell meeting, which partook of the same nature as the one already mentioned some weeks ago, and where we trust many of these dear girls silently resolved to take their stand under the banner of the Cross. During the day we received a sum of twenty pounds from a kind friend, who wishes the money divided amongst the girls as a little personal and parting gift to each to be something to start with in the new country. On the following afternoon the eighty-two girls composing this year's Girls' Canadian Party waved farewell to their old Homes and began the long journey to their new ones beyond the ocean. Embarking with them at Glasgow on the s.s. Hesperian, of the Allan Line, we convoyed them as far as we could, bidding good-bye to Pastor and Mrs. Findlay and Mrs. Roberts and the girls at Greenock, where we have parted with so many of our bairns, breathing in prayer to our Heavenly Father the desire of our hearts, that as He has always led, still He may lead in safety to their desired haven and grant to us all to meet one day around His Throne in Glory.

In the course of the thirty-one days in May eighteen boys and seven girls have been received into the Homes, two have died, and another of our sailor lads has gone to sea.

JUNE, 1912.—Thirty-five new names have been added to the family register during June, and several names of old boys and girls have appeared on the donation list. A grateful girl sending £1 says, "Here is a little gift to help with the work of the Homes;" a boy in a situation in this country has contributed 30s.; £1, with 5s. for Missions, from another grateful and liberal girl is "to be added to the little folks' gift when the time comes round to send it out;" 10s. from another girl is followed by a testimonial from her mistress to this effect:—

She has been in my service ever since she left the Homes, and I have found her very diligent and always willing to learn, and she is proving herself a credit to the good influences and training she has received from your institution.

One of our boys in Canada encloses 25s. with the following letter:—

I was glad to receive your last letter, and I think the postcard of the church that you sent me is very nice, and I thank you very much for it. I'm sending you a little present, and I know you will be glad to get it. I'm going to send a present to you every year because you were all good friends to me when I was in the dear old Home. You did all you could for me every way, so I think I should try to return thanks to you for all your good work. I will be glad to hear from you soon.

Another of our contributions to the welfare of Canada says in his letter:—

I am very sorry I did not write sooner to you. I worked three years for ——. When he sold out I went away down to a place called —, and worked for a year with —. I am now working in —. It is a busy little spot. My sister is working in —. I was down to see her once, so I got her a place here to keep house for a minister. I am very thankful to the Homes for starting us out in the world. We had always been looked after with the best of care from the time we went into the Homes till we were put into our new homes in Canada, and even then we are looked after. Every summer a gentleman comes around to see how we are getting along and to see that we are treated right. This is a thing we should really be grateful for. I think I will draw to a close for the present.

Two friends from Vancouver visiting the village on the second day of the month when we were entertaining the members of the Women's Own in connection with the City Home Mission left £5; 2 dollars has been sent by another friend in British Columbia; £17 10s. by "Strathblane and other friends" for emigration work; £5 by a frequent helper, who has recently seen some of our work in Canada; and £1 by another friend shortly sailing on a vessel which has borne many of our boys and girls across the Atlantic. Two gifts are to hand from Australia. The first amounting to £5 is from "Christian," and the second, a £20 cheque, is accompanied by a letter, which says, "As our wee Scotch lassie's birthday will be round about the time this reaches you we feel we should like to send a thankoffering." Another thankoffering is £6 10s., being 25 crowns to represent a semi-jubilee of happy wedded life, from two friends who pray "that God will use your work more and more for the blessing and ingathering to His fold of the poor children, and through them spread blessing wherever they go." £5 comes "in memory of little Alick;" and 10s. from a dear old friend recently taken home in her eighty-seventh year. Her daughter writes:—

Mother had always a little fund laid aside for giving away, and out of that I am sending 10s. to help on your work, in which she has from the very first taken such an interest.

Ten shillings comes "on the anniversary of our darling boy's birthday;" £1 from a couple who recently adopted a child; another £1 from a worker in another institution similar to our own; £10 collected from Annan friends; £2 10s. from a young women's class in Dunfermline; 10s. from a Christian Endeavour Society on the West Coast; 2s. 6d. from Galashiels, and 5s. from Yetholm; £1 from a friend who daily remembers the work in prayer; and £1 14s. from some factory girls. The sender of this gift says, "It has been put aside week by week in pennies and half-pennies. It represents a good deal of self-denial." "I pray for you daily," is the encouraging message sent by a retired minister of the Gospel in the United States. Though in his seventy-fifth year he is still seeking to further the Kingdom of Christ and retard the progress of the materialism which is so rampant in that great Republic by making known the wonderful stories of God's dealings with His honoured servants, the late George Müller, of Bristol, and our own beloved founder. Among the large gifts this month are £150 for the upkeep of "Bethesda;" £180, also a second moiety towards the expenses of a Boys' Home; £50, part of which is to be spent on a little invalid boy in whom an Ayrshire lady is interested; £30 from another Ayrshire lady; and £25 from an old friend in Harrogate.

After a rather tedious sea voyage, with a great deal of fog, the party of girls whom we despatched last month arrived in time for breakfast at our Canadian Home on Wednesday, the 5th inst. Some days later the diary of their journey reached us, bringing the story of all their doings and of the awful monotony of fog which has been such a bane to mariners and passengers alike this year. Our hearts are full of gratitude to God for His protecting care which has borne our dear ones safely by the many unseen dangers that beset them. The necessary number of homes have been selected from a very large list of applications by our friends at "Fair-knowe" after much prayer for guidance, and we trust each girl will by this time have found herself in the place where it is God's will she should be. Prayer will follow them that each may keep looking to Jesus, not only in the immediate future, which doubtless to many will bring loneliness and home sickness, but also in the days which will soon follow, when, having got accustomed to their surroundings and made lots of friends, they may be tempted to forget the Guiding Hand of their Heavenly Father.

Three days after the receipt of this glad news we had Sir Wm. A. Smith, the founder of The Boys' Brigade, inspect our company in the big playfield. It was quite a momentous occasion for the boys, who acquitted themselves in a manner that was highly satisfactory to their own reputation, acquired under the inspection of Lord Shaftesbury in Glasgow, and elicited the commendation of our distinguished visitor.

Through God's unfailing and increasing bounty there has never been any retrogression even in the line of special treats for the bairns, who so much enjoyed last year's holiday innovation that, although no extraordinary gift had come for the purpose, believing it to be the right thing to do, we determined to repeat it when we were again offered the use of the same premises at Ascog and had enough money in the general treasury to defray the cost. Accordingly, all arrangements completed, it was a beaming band of two hundred boys, with their six "fathers" and six "mothers" that set out from the village on the morning of Friday, 28th inst., for a glorious week by the sea.

JULY, 1912.—There has been a red-letter day for every week this month, as each Friday one-sixth of our entire family, with their "fathers" and "mothers," returned from and another sixth departed for their long-looked-for holiday. What cheering and waving of handkerchiefs there was when the steamers carrying the outgoing and the incoming parties crossed between Princes Pier and Gourrock, the one longing to know all that had happened, whilst the other would fain have sent their story across the intervening water. To some friends who have seen our big family looking healthy and happy amid the delightful surroundings of their own beautiful village, sending them to the seaside may seem extravagant and unnecessary, but the children love the change, and to see them return with legs, and hands, and faces burned in every shade from the bright red of the proverbial "beet" to the dusky hue of copper, no one would doubt the wisdom of it. A friend in Rothesay writes, "I herewith enclose a P.O. for 5s. to help a little with your holiday fund. I was speaking to some of your boys when they were here last week. They looked well and very happy."

Before the first party of boys had completed their week we were greatly cheered by a gift of £150 from the anonymous friend who has for many years made an outing possible. The letter which accompanied this most welcome cheque says, "If the holiday fund is not yet supplied, I will be very pleased if it should be devoted to it." This will defray the expenses of travel by road, rail, and steamer, and of the charter of motor boat, besides going quite a long way towards covering the additional cost of the children's living away from home.

While the boys and girls benefited by their sojourn near the queen of Scottish watering places, the older lads from the City Home breathed the bracing air of Pittenweem, in Fifeshire, during the exceptionally fine week of the Glasgow Fair. Many kind friends thought of the boys' needs. Several firms in the city made liberal additions to the provision store, other friends in the East and West sent money gifts to help, and after the company had returned to Glasgow, Pittenweem itself sent on some money that had been given to help to defray expenses.

The following letter from one of our old girls, now a married woman with a family, is sure to be of interest. It is in reply to one from us asking her opinion about placing her nephews near her home in Canada.

I am ashamed to say I have delayed so long in answering your letter. Intended writing at once, but we had to pack up in order to let other people come into our house, and so things got mislaid, and many things are only coming to light now that we are settled, and your letter among them. I have a lovely home and two beautiful children, a boy five years old and a girlie two years and four months. They are our pride and joy. My husband is a good Christian man and is a joy for any woman to have. I feel that the Lord has been good to me in giving me such comforts and such happiness in Himself. You asked me if I knew any place for my nephews in —. I really do not, and as I have little ones of my own could not take one, but if they come out here would like to know their whereabouts so that I could give them some assistance if necessary. Now I will close, hoping to hear from you soon.

The first donation on our books this month is one of 5s. from five young friends in historic Scone; someone has sent eight shillings' worth of postage stamps, which will prove a very useful gift in our office, where there is such a large correspondence in connection with all departments of the work; other 8s. is from a mother in London in memory of her little daughter; another memorial gift of £5 comes from France; 5s. is to help with a family who have not been long with us; £1 from the grateful mother of one of our boys; £2 from two friends who love to worship in Mount Zion with the bairns; 10s. for the general fund, with other 10s. for Missions from Shetland; £6 10s., a half-yearly amount for the support of a boy; £40, an anonymous gift posted in Glasgow; and £20 from Ayrshire. An old girl sends 5s.; the first wages of one who has been a long time with us amounts to 10s., which she asks us to receive as a token of gratitude; for the same reason an invalid boy has given sixpence; 18 dollars, says the donor, is "my first earnings in the big world;" and another dollar comes from one of the 1911 Boys' Party. A girl, who is one of the very few who has not yet learned to love the country of her adoption as well as her native land, sending five dollars from her brother along with a dollar from herself, writes:—

I trust all is going on well at the Homes. I often think of the dear old Homes and wish I was back in them. I love my own native land far better than this country. Some people think this country is beautiful, but I love Scotland and think it is far more beautiful than Canada. I suppose the girls' party will be out and into their new homes by this time. It is five years last Saturday since I came out to this country. I remember all about leaving the village, the sailing and my journey right through to the end. My brother was at Toronto Conference this spring. Then he and I were at C—— Conference at the beginning of this month. I like going to conferences. You are getting a rest and at the same time hearing God's word ministered. We get to meeting every Sunday almost. My brother and I are thinking of getting our photographs taken soon. We will send you one. The children will be looking forward to their annual trip. I tried to persuade my brother to write you, but he is not much good to correspond. Herein you will find a money order for six dollars, five of which my brother sends, and the remainder is from me. Use it for whatever you like. Hoping this finds you all in the best of health.

Very few of the present family will remember the farewell to the two parties to which these young folks belonged. The writer of the letter was one of the first band of girl emigrants to go to "Fairknowe" when emigration had been resumed in 1905 after a suspension of more than seven years. Our family might well be compared to a lake with its constant supply from the waters above and the equally constant outflow. The addition of seventeen boys and ten girls to the family register scarcely fills up the places vacated by the thirty dismissals, half of whom have been returned to relatives now able to provide them with suitable homes. Of the remaining fifteen, six have been placed in situations, one of the city lads has gone into private lodgings, a little one has been adopted, and one has died.

AUGUST, 1912.—The third party of girls with their “mothers” left on Friday, 2nd inst., for Ascog, and with their return a week later the holiday trips were practically at an end. A few of both boys and girls, who for various reasons were prevented from going with their own families, spent their holiday at our own seaside Home, Benthead, at Ardnadam, where during the summer we have been sending some of the children so that all might get away before school re-opened, after a six weeks’ vacation, on 13th inst. It would be difficult to say whether the children enjoyed the lodgings at Ascog or their own Home on the beautiful Holy Loch more. In both places the holidaymakers were supremely happy, and enjoyed many treats which the mere word “holiday” scarcely covers. The shopping days and the motor boat days were probably the events of the week, but all the days provided materials for the happy recollections that will arise for many months. Every incident and circumstance have combined to make these last six weeks indelible in the memories of the happy multitude once more safely housed at Bridge of Weir. The weather record was not quite up to that of last year, but, notwithstanding, our blessings were numerous enough to make the minor defalcations in the weather conditions negligible. Now that the holidays are all past for another year, and the school again in full swing, our vision is fixed on the fast approaching Thanksgiving Day, and grown-ups with little folks are all doing their share in the preparations.

Other two gifts are to hand this month to help with the children’s outing; two parties visiting the Homes have sent tokens of their appreciation; £1 is to celebrate the fourth birthday of a dear little girl who has come as a real gift from God to her adopted parents; the warehouse girls in a Southern factory have again remembered us with £1 6s; a friend has sent 20s., “being got for damages in a case at court;” two Boys’ and Girls’ Religious Societies in Helensburgh and Crieff have sent £2 3s. and 10s. respectively; a Sunday School in Manchester, 6s. 2d.; another in Montreal, 10s.; a Gourock friend, £5; a Bank of England £5 note anonymously from Glasgow is enclosed with a half-sheet of notepaper, at the foot of which are the words, “No one;” and 5 guineas is the gift of an anti-suffrage society. “A thank-offering from a troop of Boy Scouts for a good time at camp” amounts to 5s.; a lady with her daughter unite to send £55 from Surrey; other friends, £22 6s. 6d. from Largs; and one who, having the means, has the will to give, sends £250 for the Sanatoria, with £100 for the Homes. For the Sanatoria also comes £40 from another liberal donor; whilst one in much lowlier circumstances sends £10 for emigration work in a letter, from which we quote the following:—

I enclose one ten pound note to fit out and send one of your boys to Canada. I sent you two pairs of stockings eight years ago to a boy the name of ———. You said you had a boy of that name, aged six, so if you have him still he will be fourteen. If he is going I would like to send him, but if not, some other. It was my beloved husband’s name. He departed this life within a few days of your revered father. I was left very lonely. We were working folk, but God has been good to me. I have to work hard still, but I have good health and am strong for my years. I meant to leave it at my death, but I have been able to keep what we were able to save and what the State has provided for me. I hope you have a successful year. I meant to have sent a little for the day at the coast, but have not been able. May send it later on.

May God’s enriching blessing and His choice reward be the portion of this dear old lady who, out of her little store, has given so much. Another dear old friend with a keen spiritual vision, but for many years deprived of physical sight, has sent twelve shillings through a friend who says she is “living on a pittance of parochial relief.” Three of our old girls have aided us with gifts of twenty dollars, ten dollars, and half-a-crown; and from one of our old James Arthur boys, of whom we have had good reports recently by another channel, comes the following letter:—

I am so thankful to our Heavenly Father for the many privileges He has given me for telling others of His great love. I am looking to the Lord for guidance and wisdom, and also asking Him to prepare me for future work in some part of His vineyard, and I earnestly request you to pray for me that the Lord in His own time will send me forth as one of His labourers. I will probably be attached to this work for about two years from present date, and then I intend to pay a visit to Glasgow and see dear old Bridge-of-Weir again and have another look at my old ship, the James Arthur. I suppose there will be some big changes in the Homes now. The last time I paid a visit to Bridge-of-Weir was in the year 1904, but the Lord has continued to provide on both sides. I have met a few old boys in different parts of the world, and have heard from them how the work has been carried on, but I would like to see the dear old place once more before I settle down to the work I hope to be called to. I am at present thinking about the Mission field, and again I implore you to pray for me that the Lord may guide very definitely in this undertaking, and that no mistakes might be made. Before offering I intend going through a training home for the term of at least one year. I don’t know whether the Home will be in Scotland or Australia, probably the latter country, but it will all be a matter for definite prayer, and that His will be done is my one great desire. I think I have given you all the news up to date, and will close by wishing you all success in the Lord’s service. Please give my very best love to all the dear friends at Bridge-of-Weir.

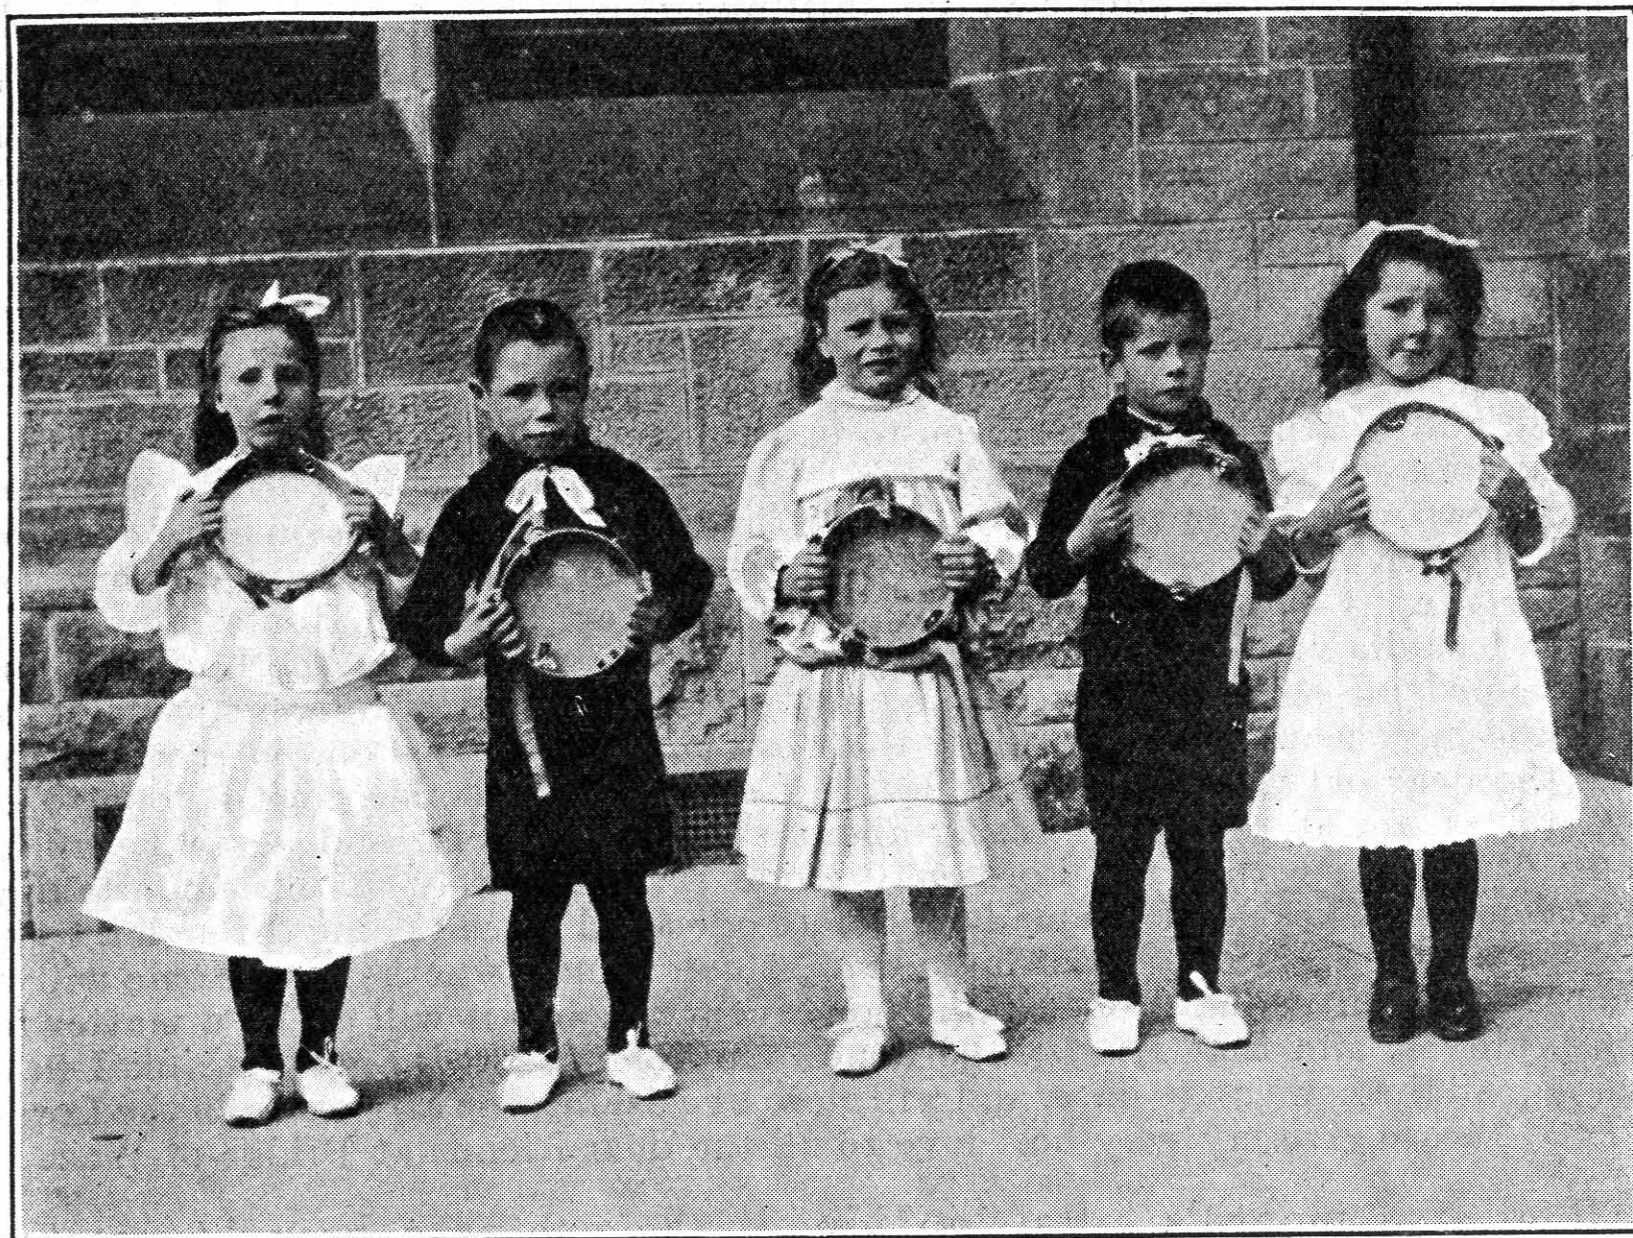

Of all the month’s gifts “in kind” the one that brought greatest happiness to the greatest number was a flat-bottomed boat for use in the new lake, which was planned for model yachts, but is quite deep enough for a craft of this description. On a Saturday afternoon now anyone seen crossing the park in the direction of the water and carrying the oars is followed by a throng of eager boys and girls that would have roused the jealousy of the piper himself. You could hardly credit how many it is possible to row round our acre of water in the two or three hours of a Saturday afternoon with only one boat.

Once more the number of admissions has tallied with that of the days in the month, and yet another little one our Father has seen fit to remove to His bright world above.

SEPTEMBER, 1912.—Among gifts from beyond the Atlantic is £1 from a Dunoon friend presently in New York; 15 dollars from British Columbia; 1 dollar from a lady in Manitoba for the mission fund; and twenty cents in a letter from one of our own little girls. Several others on this side have sent tokens of gratitude, and from one of our old sailor boys we have the following letter:—

I now take the pleasure of writing to you these few lines, hoping that this finds you in the very best of health, as it leaves me at present. I received your very welcome letter some time ago, and I was very pleased with the two leaflets that you sent to me. I often look at the photographs in the New Year's Letter, and my thoughts often turn to the happy days that I spent at the Orphan Homes. You will all be quite busy just now preparing for Thanksgiving Day, and I sincerely hope that you will have a splendid day. You will see by the address above that we have arrived home again after a splendid voyage which lasted for seven months. I have been to sea now for nearly two years and I like it fine. I am learning as much as I can, for one has always to look forward to the future. I don't think I can say much more just now, but I would be pleased to hear from you at any time.

Other two of our boys have gone to be sailors this month, three little ones have been adopted, other three of the family have been placed in situations, and for another one the earthly pilgrimage has closed, after a sojourn with us of more than two years, most of which was spent in great suffering and distress. His spirit, no longer trammelled by a poor, frail body, has winged its way to the better home above, leaving a bright testimony behind. How our own dear father would have rejoiced in the privilege which is ours, this memorable month, of receiving thirty-seven new children, of whom twenty-nine are boys.

The occasional paper recently sent to donors has brought many acknowledgments from every part of the country, and indeed of the United Kingdom, with gifts from friends regretting their inability to be present at our Thanksgiving services therein intimated, but all assuring us of their interest and promising their remembrance and fellowship. One says, "I think of you all especially on Fridays—the day that some old friends have a prayer union for the young, and all who teach or care for them in any way." Another dear old friend looking for the "home-call" sends £50; the women's own of our mission in the city, £3; the Church in Glasgow, of which the beloved founder was a member, two cheques for £4 13s. 1d. and £2 19s. 2d.; an old lady in her eighty-fourth year, 2s.; a dear old friend who has followed the work from the very outset by prayer and gift, £5; a hitherto unknown donor, £100 in memory of his wife; two friends labouring unitedly for the Lord, a £25 "drop of sympathy;" one of our own helpers, £4, "in loving memory of loved ones;" another, £1 in memory of a loved one gone home. £4 is from the Killearn Women's Guild for the "Killearn" Home; £4, with other £4 for the upkeep of the Canadian Home from one who thus remembers the outposts of the work; and £5 15s. 6d. collected in a box at a Glasgow warehouse. The sender of the last gift says, "I told them I wanted £5 before I started my collection, and that I was sure I would get it, so £5 15s. 6d. is surely the Lord's good measure." The Lord's measure is always "good," even to "running over."

The dawning of the 17th inst. carried our thoughts away back to that day thirty-four years ago when the formal opening of the Orphan Homes took place. Ten days later, when we held our Biennial Thanksgiving, and commemorated the birthday of the beloved founder, quite a few of the large concourse of friends who came to rejoice with us who had so much cause for rejoicing, were able to contrast the small beginning of 1878 with the great things that have sprung from it. At this point we insert the Press report of the day's proceedings as given by the Glasgow Herald on 28th inst. :—

The feature of the "Thanksgiving Day" observance at the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge-of-Weir, yesterday, was the opening of the Elise Hospital. The hospital, which has cost £10,000, is a handsome building occupying a commanding site, and provides accommodation for 30 patients in two large wards, each of which has 15 cots. In addition, there are two single bed wards for serious cases. The hospital is designed in the Elizabethan style, and the architect is Mr. Andrew F. Bryden, of Messrs. R. A. Bryden & Robertson, Glasgow. The front entrance forms a memorial porch, and contains a marble bust in low relief of the late Lady Glen-Coats, with a monogram in bronze, both the work of Mr. Alfred Drury, of London. There were also dedicated yesterday the following additions to the Homes—the Murray Brown Home (the gift of an Edinburgh lady, and intended for the accommodation of Edinburgh children); workers' cottages, an enlarged play-park, and an extension of waterworks.

A large company of ladies and gentlemen shared in the "thanksgiving," and the proceedings began with a service in the Church. Lord Rowallan presided, and among those present were Sir Thomas Glen-Coats, Bart., and Miss Glen-Coats; Sir Samuel Chisholm, Bart.; Dr. W. L. Reid; the Rev. Professor Denney, the Very Rev. Dr. Wells, the Rev. Hector Mackinnon, the Rev. Mr. M'Cracken, and Messrs. J. P. Maclay, A. P. Forrester Paton, Alloa; W. A. Campbell, Miss Quarrier, Mrs. Quarrier Burges, and Pastor Findlay.

The chairman referred to the discussion that had taken place at the recent meeting of the British Association as to the beginnings of life, and said some people managed to interest themselves very much in the question as to whether life was ever originated, or could be originated in our own time, or in the future, by laboratory experiments. Those experiments might be very interesting, but to him, at least, they had absolutely no bearing upon anything connected with large philosophy or with religious truth. What he was concerned with was not the way in which the Almighty had worked out His creative purpose; the question for us was, that God the Eternal Father could hear our cry, and communicate Himself to the hearts of men. Whether life was being originated to-day out of dead matter did not concern him at all in the argument for our common faith; that argument was to be found within that settlement of the late Mr. Quarrier. Those who knew him before these Homes were begun, knew that he had no explanation as to what he was accomplishing except his prayers to God, and the answer which God gave to his faith. That was the only conceivable hypothesis. He emphasised the fact that no applications were ever made to individuals for money. Mr. Quarrier refused legacies if it was a condition that they had to be invested, and only accepted them when he was allowed to spend them at once. The Orphan Homes of Scotland were a glory to our country, and a stimulus to our common faith.

Pastor Findlay gave some interesting statistics for the period that had elapsed since last "thanksgiving" service, two years ago. There had been received for the Homes in gifts, £36,808; in legacies, £25,677; and with various other items the income of this department of the work had amounted to £69,013. The income for the Consumption Sanatoria had been £10,725, and for the Epileptic Colony, £4,423, the gross income for the various schemes amounting to £84,163. The income was quite unaffected by good times and bad times. During those two years, there had been 719 patients received in the Consumption Sanatoria, 64 in the Epileptic Colony, and they had received 697 orphans and fatherless children. At the present moment the population of the village was 1,700, and it cost £80 per day to provide them with their daily bread, and not a want ever went unsupplied.

After addresses by the Very Rev. Dr. Wells and the Rev. Professor Denney, the company proceeded to the new hospital.

Sir Samuel Chisholm, in opening the proceedings, said the marvel, almost the miracle, of the Orphan Homes grew greater as the years went on. But although marvellous, there was nothing of mystery in it. The entire enterprise was founded on the faith that God is; and that beautiful and model village was the reward of those who had diligently sought God. The Orphan Homes were as near perfection as anything could be in this imperfect world. With so large a population, it was necessary that provision should be made for the sick, the infirm, and the helpless, and that hospital (the gift of a generous friend of the Homes) was an important addition to the other facilities already existing for the treatment of those afflicted ones.

Sir Thomas Glen-Coats referred to the interest which his father, who was one of Mr. Quarrier's warmest supporters, had taken in the Homes. He himself was deeply interested in them, as who would not, or could not be, who had knowledge of them.

Mr. Bryden, the architect of the hospital, on behalf of the contractors, tradesmen, and measurers, presented Miss Glen-Coats with a golden key.

Miss Glen-Coats, in returning thanks, said she would always hold it in memory of the occasion, and it would be one of her most valued treasures. She formally declared the hospital open, and the company afterwards made an inspection of the building.

In the course of the afternoon there was an exhibition of drill by the boys and girls at the school, and a display of life-saving drill by the sailor boys.

From the foregoing notice friends who were unable to be here will get a concise account of the programme, and thereby be in a better position to join in heartfelt praise to God for the fulfilment of all His good promises. The new Elise Hospital, a gift to which we have looked forward for a long time, and the elegance of which is unsurpassed by any other building in the children's city, is practically completed, and in a few weeks its first patients will be enjoying all the comfort and convenience it affords. September has ever been marked by special gifts. This year is no exception, for a generous lady calling the day after the big gathering to see the hospital more minutely than was possible on the busy opening day, left behind her a cheque for the magnificent sum of five thousand pounds to be used in any way we choose for the children's work. "Who can show forth all His praise?"

We were specially delighted to have visits from Rev. Wm. and Mrs. Crawford for the third week-end of the month, and Dr. and Mrs. G. Campbell Morgan and their party on the following Saturday. Mr. Crawford, now a minister of the Canadian Presbyterian Church, used to be a boy in "Broadfield" Home, and carried the letters between the Homes and the post office at Bridge-of-Weir. In his clear pleasing voice he told the children how he had fared since his farewell to the Homes twenty-four years before, and greatly encouraged all our hearts as he spoke of the words and influence of the cottage "father" and "mother" that had been used of God to lead him into the Christian ministry. Dr. Morgan, who came fresh from his inspiring campaign in Glasgow, brought a sweet, simple message from the boyhood of Jesus to our young people who were gathered in the Church that bright summer afternoon that they might hear this world-renowned preacher and, as he himself told them, preach a great sermon to him.

OCTOBER, 1912.—The trustees of the Thos. Porter Equipment Fund have made another grant of £150 which will go towards providing outfits for the boys and girls who leave us during the next half-year; a gentleman in London has sent £100 for the general fund and £50 for the Sanatoria; another, also resident in London, other £50; a firm in the city who have long taken a deep interest in the work, £50 each for the children and consumptives, and £20 for the epileptics; two partners of another Glasgow firm, £50 each for the general fund; a lady, £200 "to help with current expenses;" a friend, £100 more; another friend, another £100 "in memory;" a Glasgow lady, £50 for the benefit of male patients in the Sanatoria; and from a few friends, through a dear old helper, in Kilmacolm, £30. Twice in the course of the month an old boy in Cobalt has sent £1; a grateful girl, 10s.; and other two, a united sisters' gift of £2 which they wish to be laid aside to help with a cottage one day to be erected by the donations of our old children. We want to pass on to the kind friends who, under God, make it possible to help these boys and girls, what encouragement we receive from time to time from the relatives of the children. The mother of one of the lads, who went last month with an unbroken record of good conduct to join his first ship, writes her gratitude in these words:—

Enclosed please find £1 to help with — outfit. I wish to thank all for the kindness he has received from them, and to express my thankfulness for the training he has received. Placed as I am, it was beyond my power to look after him, as he has been in the Homes, and I trust he will get on well at the sea. Thanking you for your kindness to him, and wishing you every success in your good work.

Many a widowed mother has had good reason to bless God for the Orphan Homes, but like the lepers of old, not all express their gratitude. Experience has long since taught us that gratitude is not to be very much reckoned on, but when it does find expression in word or deed it is always refreshing. Another mother has contributed 20s. to the funds in memory of her daughter's birthday. Two friends remembering the irreparable loss we sustained nine years ago on the sixteenth of the month, have handed us £5 and £1. Since our earthly father was called from us to a higher sphere of service where his Master had need of him more, we have found our Heavenly Father more and more to be the "Father of the fatherless" and the Lord of the Vineyard, taking upon Himself the whole responsibility.

One of the boys who were sadly disappointed at not getting to Canada in the spring, writes from the situation found for him in this country:—

I have written to a number of the boys, and also to Mr. —, and now write to you. I am liking my place very much and am getting on. I was delighted to hear that the boys spent a fine week's holiday at the coast. I remember the happy time I had with the boys last year. I will never forget all these happy times I had at the Homes. I hope the girls arrived safely in Canada. I have a chum out in Canada. He and I were great friends at the Homes. I write to him very often. Dear friend, before I close I would like you to know that I have taken the Saviour as my guide. How nice it is to be plodding on, knowing that He is able to help us. I read the Bible every morning and pray to Him.

This dear lad has kept the best news to the last. Daily, by the teaching and direction of the Holy Spirit may he "grow in grace." From Canada one of last year's girls' party writes:—

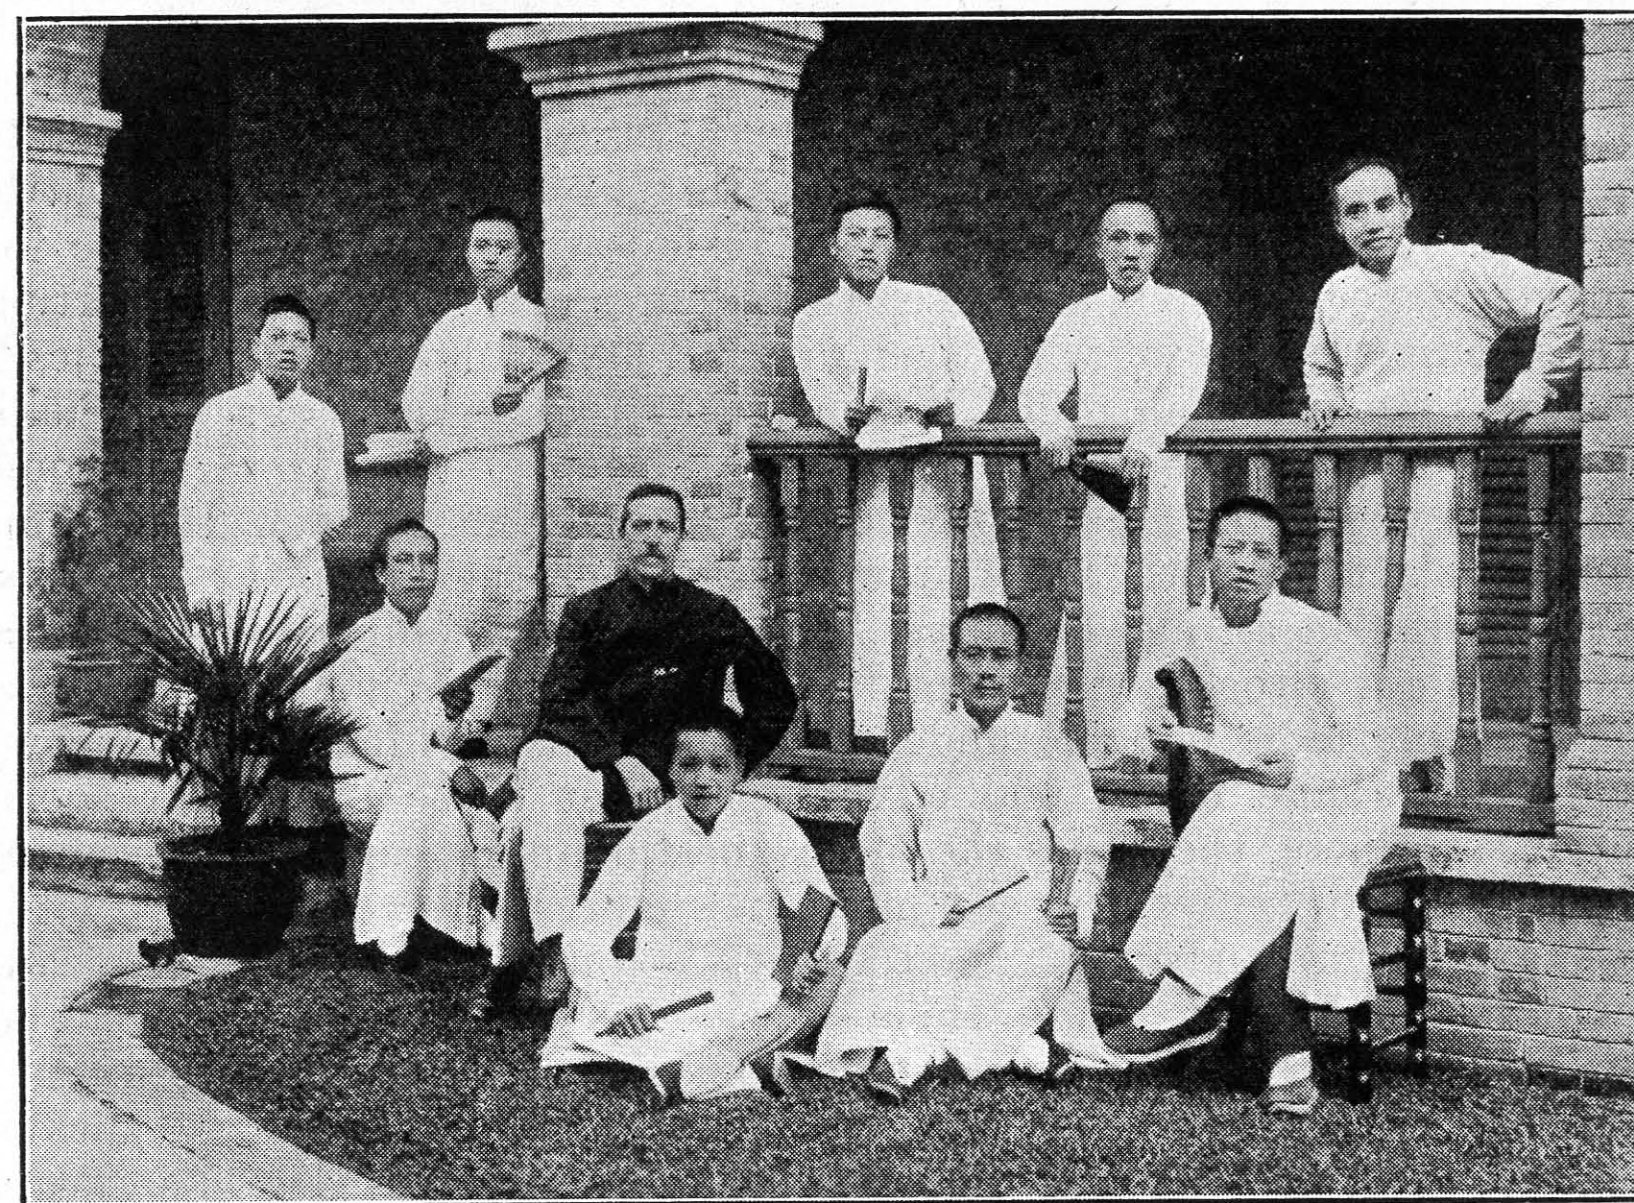

I am out in Canada over a year now, and I like it so well that I don't really think I would go back to Scotland again. My little sister is getting along fine, also —. She came out in May, and seems to like it very well, too. I did not find the winter very pleasant, but the summer was very nice. We have been out nearly all afternoon picking berries. Well, Miss Quarrier, I suppose the Homes are prospering the same as ever. I often long to be back again, but I am in a very good place. Lots to do, so that it does not give one time to be lonesome. I will write you a letter soon again.

Twenty shillings has come from our old friend "Motherwell;" £5 "for expenses on the 27th;" a gold watch for sale or otherwise in commemoration of the same day; 20s. "from my class of girls in Sunday School;" £1 from two missionaries in China; £5 from a lady in Lausanne; £5 with five barrels of apples from an Edinburgh donor; £10, "as a small token of our appreciation" from two friends in England who were recently brought to see the Homes; 100 dollars from Philadelphia, "to be used in soul winning work as He shall lead you" and "in memoriam;" £10 from one who says, "I am sorry I have never contributed anything to so good a work before;" and £5 from our old friend "Fellowship," who has sent us such splendid and large consignments of kippers again this season.

The cricket season is over and now the football one has begun. The boys are already appreciating a most useful and timely present of twelve footballs of the best quality from a Glasgow maker and looking covetously upon the beautiful silver challenge shield which another friend has presented for competition. On the last night of the month and the closing one of the present financial year we held part of the Hallowe'en celebrations. After dark the children turned out with their Japanese lanterns, marched round the Sanatoria, and after passing the Elise Hospital, occupied that day for the first time, brought the procession to a close at the Church doors. The principal part of the evening's entertainment was the cinematograph exhibition, which was followed by the distribution of the prizes for the best kept gardens. The first Monday of November is to be a school holiday, and the Hallowe'en parties will take place that afternoon. Thirty-two barrels of apples from our own orchard in Canada having arrived, will provide part of the special feast.

The process of time has once more brought us to the closing hour of another year's work. In compiling the foregoing diary we have prayer-fully sought God's guidance, and we trust the selections that have been made from the donation list and the great mass of correspondence will, with His blessing, accomplish the work for which in His name we send it forth. Prominence has been given to neither large gifts nor small ones, but our endeavour has been to pass on to others what has been blessed to ourselves and is likely to bring most help to them. Truly we can say of the year just closed, "His compassions fail not. They are new every morning; great is Thy faithfulness."

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

ALTHOUGH there are constant changes which make the work of the Homes anything but monotonous, there is a similarity of events year after year which makes it difficult to know what would most interest the kind donors into whose hands the Annual Narrative may fall.

Children whose faces have become familiar move off at all ages, many of them to Canada, others to relatives desirous of having them, and in various other ways, and their places are taken by new comers from all parts of Scotland. Each of these has his own history, temperament, and habits. In spite of the many beneficent agencies at work some records are extremely sad, and reveal a social and moral state of affairs which might well be reckoned impossible in the twentieth century. The number leaving has rather exceeded the number received, which we trust points to a permanent diminution of real destitute orphan and fatherless little ones. The improvement in trade all round too has made it possible for relatives oftener to step in and assist those left in need. A large proportion of those admitted are of very tender years, and although the "babies" are always favourites all round it means they require more care and help, and it also means a much longer period of residence in the Homes. Some of the very young ones have been adopted, and this form of help seems quite satisfactory both for the children and the adopting parents. We are living in an age of unrest, and the older members of our large family are not altogether exempt from this spirit. While they have as great freedom as is possible under the conditions of life in such a community, and have many real advantages over those of similar social position elsewhere, they miss the often questionable means of amusement in large towns and cities, and become somewhat dissatisfied with their lot—just like other human beings. As the spirit is contagious it sometimes leads to minor troubles, but on the whole everyone is happy and contented and does not give more trouble than is to be looked for from young people anywhere. Strenuous efforts are made to keep well abreast of the times in improving the conditions of life all round. We seek by every means to give the best training and equipment for the future, and as most of the children will probably have to do manual labour as their means of livelihood, they are taught to use their hands as well as their heads. Many of those who have left speak in high terms of the advantage it has been to them to be carefully trained in habits of regularity and thoroughness, and no doubt many are so benefited even if they do not acknowledge the fact. In the matter of recreation, which is a necessity for boys and girls, perhaps the boys are in the front, as it is more difficult to find suitable open-air pastimes for girls. The playfield has been extended to cover about 16 acres, and by a special donation has been enclosed, surrounded with young trees and fitted up with several additional maypoles, swings, etc. And these things will be added to as the money given for the purpose is not quite exhausted. In their season cricket and football are indulged in most enthusiastically. The cup for the Inter-Cottage Cricket Matches has been won for the year, and now every fair Saturday sees hard-fought battles waged to decide which Home shall have the honour of housing for the year the beautiful and valuable Football Challenge Shield recently presented by a friend. In one corner of the field a model yacht pond has been formed, and the river Gryffe, which skirts the whole length of the field, has at one portion been deepened as a boating pond, and the bank altered to form a nice grassy slope down to the water's edge. All these things when completed will add greatly to the beauty and utility of what is one of the largest playfields in the country. During the school holidays all the children spent a week at Ascog enjoying the sea breezes. This great boon, which was commenced last year, bids fair to be a permanency, but adds considerably to the general expenses. Having only six weeks to give all a week it means sending off and bringing back about 200 each week, which is a great addition to the labour of hands constantly well filled, but every one ungrudgingly does his part. If suitable accommodation for such a large number in a locality with a good sea beach and plenty of room to roam without annoyance to residents could be found, it would be a most acceptable and, we believe, useful gift. The Association which at present hires its two Homes for our use might at any time find it inconsistent with the needs of its own work, and there would be great difficulty, if not impossibility, in continuing what is a source of real pleasure to our bairns for months in anticipation and the same in recollection.

As several months are yet ahead before the large exodus to Canada comes round we anticipate every house being filled, as already there are not a great number of empty beds, and every house is occupied. The Murray-Brown Home will be ready soon, and this will add 30 beds to the accommodation for boys. The great interest in new buildings has been the opening of the Elise Hospital Home for boys and girls. Elsewhere in the Report its great beauty and utility are spoken of. Its being occupied has already eased the pressure on the other two Homes for invalid children, and will make it possible to place in these some who, although scarcely invalids, require extra comforts and care, especially during the winter months. This will be a great boon, because a "mother" with 30 or more romping children has little time to bestow on delicate ones, and besides they are not equal to the necessary routine of those who are healthy and sturdy.

Throughout a good part of the year there have been cases of scarlet fever, of a very mild type, in the village. It has never assumed alarming proportions, and the isolated cases have appeared mostly in the Girls' Houses. Otherwise the general health of the community has been very good, and the death-rate as usual low.

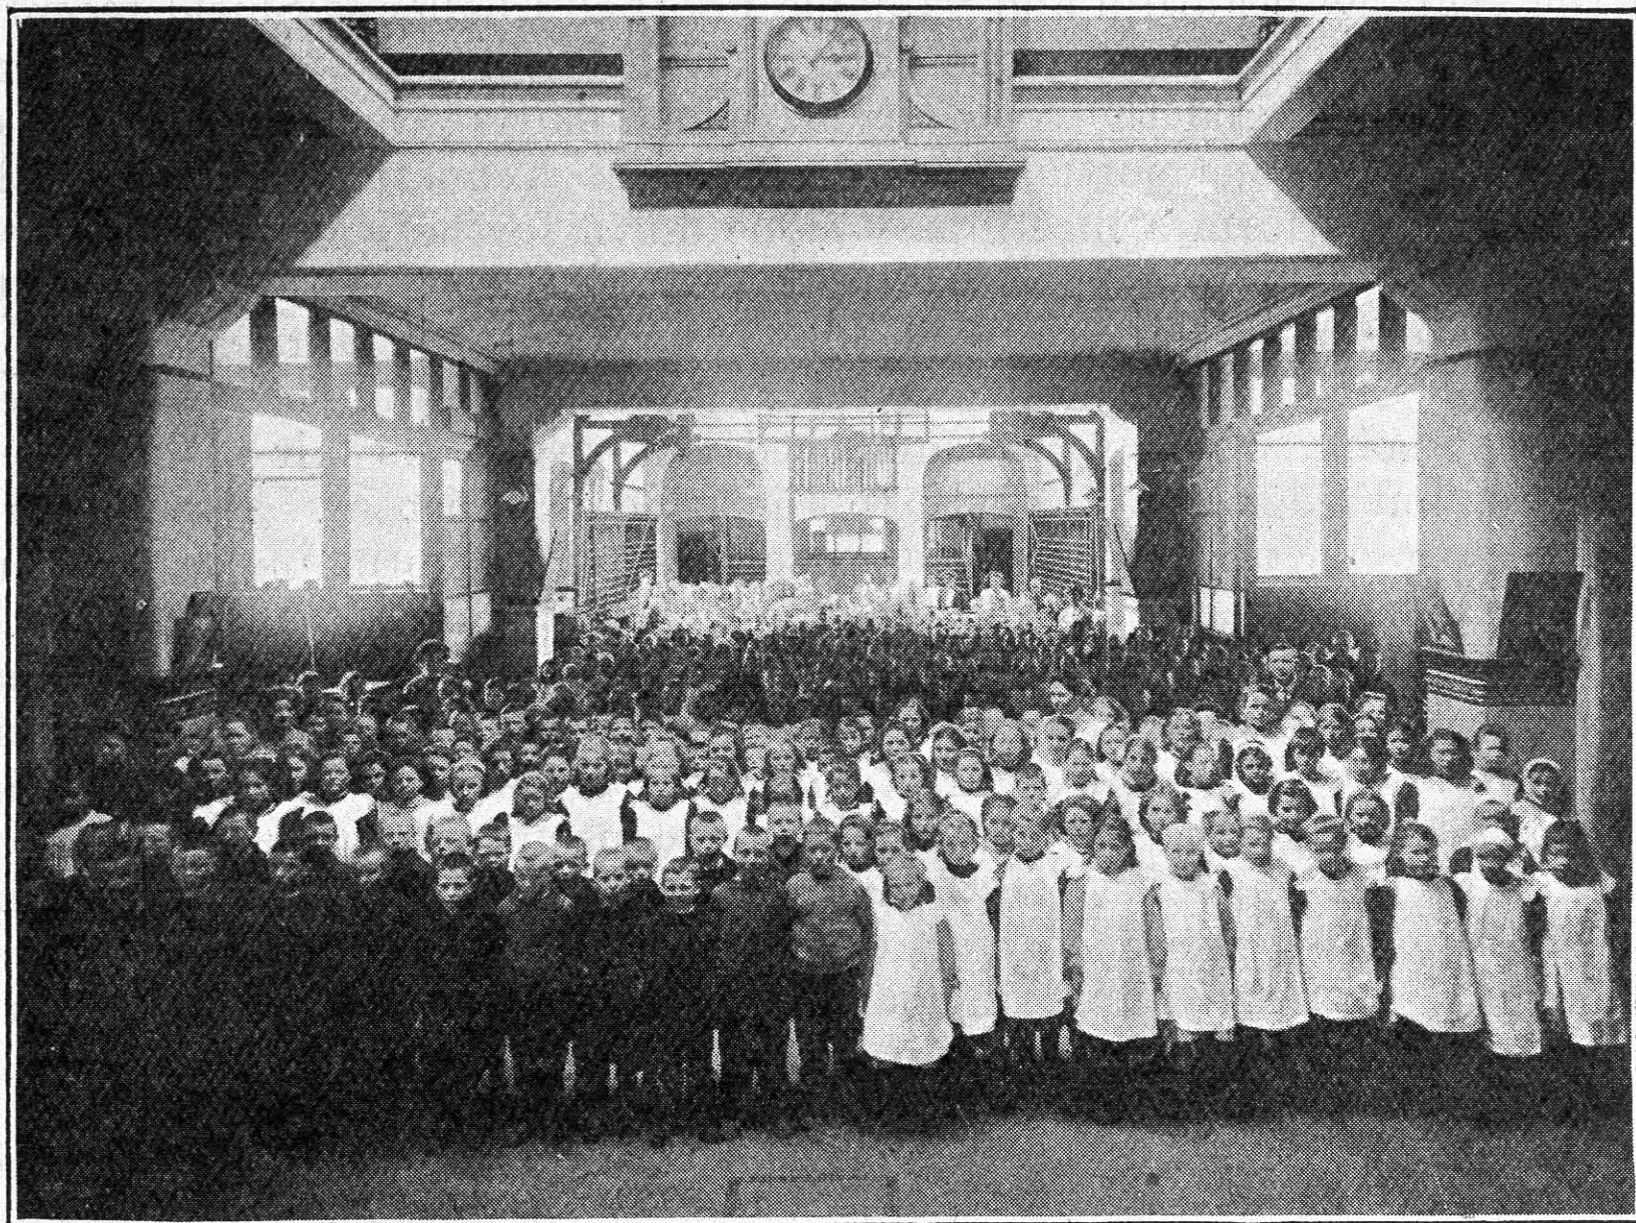

We often hear it said "no one has any conception of the extent and character of the Orphan Homes till he pay a visit." We believe this is true, and would say to every one who can find it possible, "Come and see for yourself what great and marvellous things God is doing for the fatherless of this highly favoured land."

CHILDREN ASSEMBLED IN SCHOOL HALL.

REPORT ON THE ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND SCHOOL.

School Managers, { Mr. J. P. MACLAY, Chairman; Sir SAMUEL CHISHOLM, Bart.; Mr. ALEX. P. FORRESTER PATON, Mr. ROBERT BINNIE, Mr. W. A. CAMPBELL, Pastor D. J. FINDLAY, Miss MARY QUARRIER and Mrs. A. QUARRIER BURGESS, Mr. R. LOCKHART BRYDEN, Clerk to the Managers.
Head Master—Mr. J. GORDON KENNEDY, M.A.

THE Managers of the school have pleasure in submitting their Eighth Annual Report, and in stating that good and steady progress in all branches has been made during the past year in the work of education in this school. Although the principal work of the school is carried on in the commodious Main School Buildings, which were enlarged some years ago, some classes, including cookery and woodwork, are still taught in the Old Central Building, which is a familiar landmark to those who knew the Homes in earlier days.

During the year ending 31st October last, the average number on the roll of the Primary School was 1,055.8, with an average attendance of 983.1, giving a percentage of 93.1. At present there are 603 boys and 413 girls enrolled in the school, a total of 1,016. 52 pupils passed the examination of H.M. Inspector for enrolment in the Supplementary Course, while 18 obtained the Merit Certificate. The staff presently consists of the headmaster, 20 certificated teachers, 1 assistant, a drill and singing master, a teacher of domestic economy, and a teacher of manual instruction in woodwork and clay modelling.

The Infant Class has had another successful year, and some of their cardboard work was exhibited at an exhibition of work from schools in the West of Scotland held in the School of Art, Glasgow, in January last:

H.M. Inspector reported on the school as follows:—

“The previous history of many of the pupils makes their education a task of more than usual difficulty. The teaching, however, is skilful and sympathetic, and in all the classes the scholars are making creditable progress.”

The Continuation Classes have been conducted as formerly. The average number on roll has been 86.7, with an average attendance of 76.8. These classes provide a higher range of instruction for pupils who have left the day school. There are also taught woodwork to boys and domestic science to girls, while a special course of navigation and seamanship is provided to the lads on the James Arthur.

On 18th March last the school demonstration was held, on which as usual the school was open to visitors, who had an opportunity of inspecting specimens of handwriting, drawing (including colour work), needlework, kindergarten work, clay modelling, cardboard work, woodwork, and cookery, done by the pupils. At the evening meeting, at which Sir Samuel Chisholm, Bart., presided, Lady Chisholm handed over the prizes and certificates to the duxes and successful competitors, and a programme of music, recitations, physical exercises, etc., was rendered.

Towards the expenditure of the Continuation Classes for the year ending 31st July, 1912, which amounted to £179 3s. 1d. the Managers received from the Department a grant of £126 14s. 2d. The balance of £52 8s. 11d. was defrayed by subscriptions.

The Managers' expenditure on the work of education in connection with the Primary School for year ending 31st January last amounted to £3,277 2s. 6d. Against this they have received from Government—Grant in relief of school fees, £610; Aid grant, £152 5s.; Grant under Section 17 of 1908 Act, £156 12s. 8d.; Parliamentary grant, £1,229 1s. 9d.; and bank interest, £8 11s. 4d. The balance was defrayed by subscriptions to the funds of the school amounting to £1,120 11s. 9d.

The 2nd Bridge of Weir Company of The Boys' Brigade, with 90 non-commissioned officers and boys and 4 officers, in addition to their drill and physical exercises, have attended classes for “first aid,” vocal music, gymnastics, and swimming. 12 boys passed for the Ambulance Certificate, and the company, which had paraded at the Boys' Brigade Annual Inspection in April last, has been complimented on their smart appearance by the Inspecting Officer and Sir Wm. A. Smith, Brigade Secretary.

The Girls' Guildry, known as the No. 1 Bridge of Weir Company, has a membership of 111, in addition to 16 guardians. Nursing, first aid, vocal music, needlework, and dressmaking formed the work of the session. In April Dr. W. F. Somerville, the founder of the Girls' Guildry, inspected the company.

The Managers are satisfied that the school, with its kindred agencies and classes, fulfils worthily and adequately the object for which it exists, viz., the education of the lads and girls for their life work, and they trust that the foundations are being well and truly laid for future careers of usefulness, and, they hope, for many cases of distinction, whether in this country or in the Dominions beyond the seas.

The thanks of the Managers are due to the headmaster and the staff for their faithful services given in this important work during the year.

EMIGRATION WORK.

THE door in Canada is as wide open as ever for our children, and the farmer stands in the doorway earnestly pleading with us to send the children along. This year 184 boys and girls crossed the ocean, and every one was spoken for before they left Scotland. Indeed one of the most trying parts of our Canadian Superintendent's work is the effort to appease irate farmers whose applications have been long on the books and yet whose requests for a boy or girl have to be passed over year after year. The demand seems endless, and if we could send out ten times as many boys and girls beyond school age as we do every one could be well placed.

Mr. William Douglas conducted the boys' party across the ocean in March, accompanied by Mr. W. D. Mackay, while Mrs. Findlay and the writer, with Mrs. Roberts, took out the girls' party at end of May. As usual everything went well on the voyage and by the way, and happy days were spent at beautiful "Fairknowe" prior to the scattering of the children to their adoptive homes.

We seek to keep in as close touch with the children—and for as long a time—as possible, but naturally a great many of them as the years go on become absorbed in the general population. Frequently for years we may hear nothing of a boy or girl, and then quite unexpectedly he or she turns up to report progress. In most such instances the report is a good one, and if the histories of even a small selection of our six thousand of children across the ocean could be written they would form an interesting volume. Eight years ago we called at a house a few days after a new boy had arrived, and while the farmer was somewhat distressed at the lad's difficulty in assimilating some Canadian ways, he assured us that he had "asked the Lord to send him the right boy, and he felt sure He had done so." Of that boy we personally had heard nothing in the interval of years until the other day we unexpectedly met his adoptive mother, who assured us that R. was now one of the finest Christian young men in Canada and a "perfect gentleman." Later on the same day we met R. and had the opportunity of forming our own opinion about him, which corroborated the good woman's testimony.

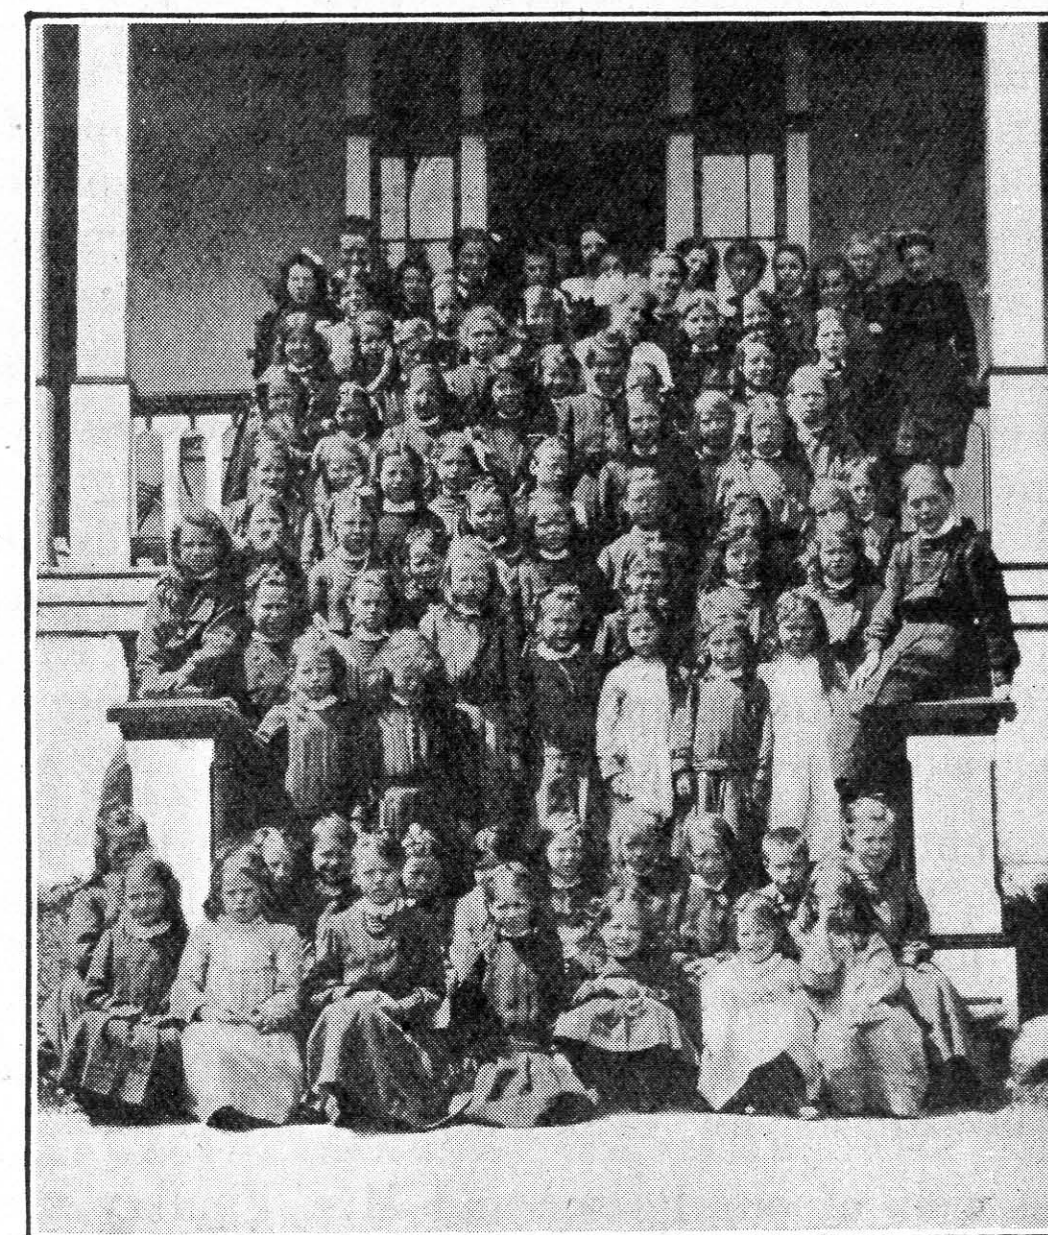

In Canada the rule is true—quite as much as at home—"train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." A good home usually produces a good boy or girl, and vice versa. Our Superintendent takes the utmost possible care in the selection of homes for the children, and as the years go on and knowledge of the country and people increases, it becomes easier to do this.

We were able this year again to see a large number of our boys and girls, and while none of them are angels, and some are the cause of much sorrow and trial, meeting with most of them is an unmixed source of pleasure and thankfulness. Increased experience does not lead us to change the opinion formed years ago, namely, that for a great many of our boys and girls the very best thing that can be done is to send them to Canada, where the average boy or girl has very much more than an average chance of doing well, and the conditions of life are for them much healthier than they could be in our own beloved land.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grierson have put in another year of splendid service on behalf of the children for whom they most ungrudgingly give their lives. The following extracts from Mr. Grierson's report will be read with interest:—

FAIRKNOWE HOME REPORT, 1912.

"Our large family has increased by nearly seven hundred during the brief three and a half years we have been at Fairknowe. The many problems to be solved, and the innumerable responsibilities involved in looking after such a family as ours is a training field that angels might covet. Divine wisdom alone must guide us, and Divine grace strengthen and uphold us to worthily fulfil our ministry. As Mrs. Burges well says of the great 'Quarrier' family on both sides of the ocean, 'They are the children of many prayers;' surely that too is our heritage. Certainly we are very conscious of God's presence constantly with us and our very unworthiness of all the goodness and mercy bestowed upon us, the more stimulates us to faithful service.

"While we have our share of troubles, we are glad that the year has been freer than usual from serious trials. The great majority of our boys and girls give us nothing but pleasure. 'He's a far better boy than I was at his age,' said a well-to-do and much respected farmer to me the other day. 'We cannot speak too highly of our Scotch boy' (or 'of our Scotch girl') is a frequent remark.

"I still hear of one and another going forward to join the Church and take part in the work of the Sabbath School. One of our old boys, now a well-known Presbyterian minister, has just been home to Bridge of Weir. He spoke in the splendid Church there where he used to worship as a little lad. One boy who studied here last winter at Business College has been promoted from the local bank to a good position in the head office in Toronto. We have heard of a good few who have passed the entrance examinations to High School. One boy has passed at the early age of 12, and we hope to arrange for him to have a High School course.

"The requirement of nine months' schooling for all our children under 14 is causing a much greater demand for boys and girls over school age. It takes much careful planning and much correspondence to prepare really satisfactory homes for the younger children. It is a fact that boys very seldom return to Fairknowe nowadays. The need for 'help' is so great that they are always engaged right away if they happen to be changing places. On the other hand, girls change their situations far more than boys, and so we are constantly receiving them, and arranging their new places.

"The reports about children for the year are very satisfactory, although 'visiting' has been much hindered and more expensive owing to a very wet season. One needs to take a few days at 'visiting' to realise what a labour it involves to visit and report on every child under our care. The distances are so great, and, as a rule, the roads, especially in a wet season, are so rough, that it takes long hard riding to overtake, say, half a dozen homes a day. One has to be up betimes in the morning and toil on all day till long past sundown.

"The permanent staff has been increased by the addition of Mr. Claude A. Winters, B.A., who completed his course in Toronto University in May last. He has done our summer visiting for the past four seasons. He is a great help not only in the work of 'visiting,' but also in overseeing the many necessary out-of-door tasks at 'Fairknowe,' which are often as pressing and needful as the 'desk' work of the Home.

"During the visit of our Pastor and Mrs. Findlay many necessary repairs and improvements were made at 'Fairknowe' this year, which add not only to its great natural beauty, but also to its usefulness and so to more efficient service.

"We were able to send 32 barrels of apples from our own orchard to the Children's City for Hallowe'en. And we hope they were 'on time' and in 'good shape.' All at 'Fairknowe' worked right heartily in the orchard and apple house for ten days on this labour of love.

"Our 'Home' doctor, W. Fred. Jackson, M.D., has given our children his medical services ungrudgingly for over twenty-four years. He is naturally a lover of children, and it does you good to see them respond to his usual cheery greeting, 'Well, Sonnie, what can I do for you?' We owe him a deep debt of gratitude for this his free-will offering to God's children."

£7,000 per year required for maintenance.

THE report of the Medical Superintendent following hereon gives details of work accomplished during the past year.

The pressure for treatment specially by men has been unusually great, the Sanatoria with their 140 beds having been fully utilised, and many applicants constantly waiting for admission.

So far as results go, the Trustees are satisfied that the best possible has been taken out of the Institution, and while it is still to be regretted that more sufferers from consumption do not come at an earlier stage of the disease, yet, as time passes, the necessity for early treatment is being more realised, if cure is to be hoped for.

It is satisfactory that at last in Glasgow a forward movement is beginning for the removal of some of the city slums, but much more requires to be aimed at than the authorities have so far considered necessary. Public sentiment, however, is asserting itself, and it is hoped that ere long we shall see a great development, and that the dens where consumption and disease have their breeding ground will be removed. In many country villages and districts there is also much need for increased attention to the dwellings of the poor and to sanitation.

The application of the recently passed Insurance Act, which we cordially welcome, has introduced possibilities for dealing with consumption never before known, and it is anticipated that within a few years all needy sufferers will be provided for, either under the Act or at the public expense. Meantime, however, we must continue our appeal to the public for liberal support to enable us to help those who are at present unprovided for, and of whom there are so many in our midst.

In view of the opening of a number of dispensaries throughout the city by the Medical Authority of Glasgow, it has been decided to discontinue, after November, our dispensary in James Morrison Street, started by Mr. Quarrier. It was the first dispensary in Glasgow specially for the treatment of consumption, and has been a great blessing to thousands of sufferers.

The Trustees desire to express regret at the intimation of the resignation of Dr. John Guy, who has accepted an important appointment in England under the new Insurance Act. Dr. Guy has for about seven years filled with much satisfaction to the Trustees the position of Medical Superintendent.

The Medical Advisory Board met at intervals during the year, and also made regular visits to the Sanatoria.

REPORT OF MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT.

GENTLEMEN,—I have pleasure in submitting the annual report for the year ending 31st October, 1912.

The year began with 109 patients in residence :—Men, 25 ; women, 72 ; children, 12—total, 109.

Admissions.—There were admitted during the year :—Men, 128 ; women, 188 ; children, 47—total, 363.

Discharges.—There were discharged during the year :—Men, 109 ; women, 194 ; children, 42—total, 345.

In Residence.—There are in residence now :—Men, 44 ; women, 66 ; children, 17—total, 127.

On examination of the 345 cases which have been discharged, the following facts were noted :—13 cases were not found to be suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, and these have been excluded from the following tables :—

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.

Honorary Consulting Physician.

DR. DONALD FRASER.

Medical Superintendent.

JOHN GUY, M.D., D.P.H.

£4,000 required for each Additional Home.

THE third Home for Epileptics was opened during the year, and the Colony now provides accommodation for 90 Colonists. There is a constant stream of applicants for admission, and while epilepsy is a disease difficult to deal with, it is a satisfaction to feel that many cases have improved, and that we have been enabled to provide suitable Homes for so many of this sad class of sufferers, where everything is done to make life for them as bright as possible.

Some of the men and boys are learning trades; but the majority are employed in gardening and open-air work, and the women and girls in laundry and house-work.

The Medical Superintendent reports as follows:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have pleasure in submitting a short report to you on the work in the Colony for Epileptics.

The year began with 54 in residence, 28 males and 26 females. There have been discharged 21—10 males and 11 females. During the year there have been admitted 47 Colonists—15 females and 32 males. There are in residence 80—50 males and 30 females.

There is nothing new to note in the treatment of the disease, but, as the years pass, I am more confirmed in my mind that the Colony system is the best for the chronic epileptic.

The three houses are now in complete working order, and are all practically full at the moment of writing.

Amongst the Colonists there are at present children under 14 years of age, and this has introduced urgently the question of education. It is intended that, in the immediate future, a specially qualified teacher will be engaged to deal with this problem. The general health of the Colonists has been excellent, and, with the exception of two deaths, there has been no illness to record. The deaths were caused by cerebral haemorrhage and pneumonia respectively.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSION FUNDS.

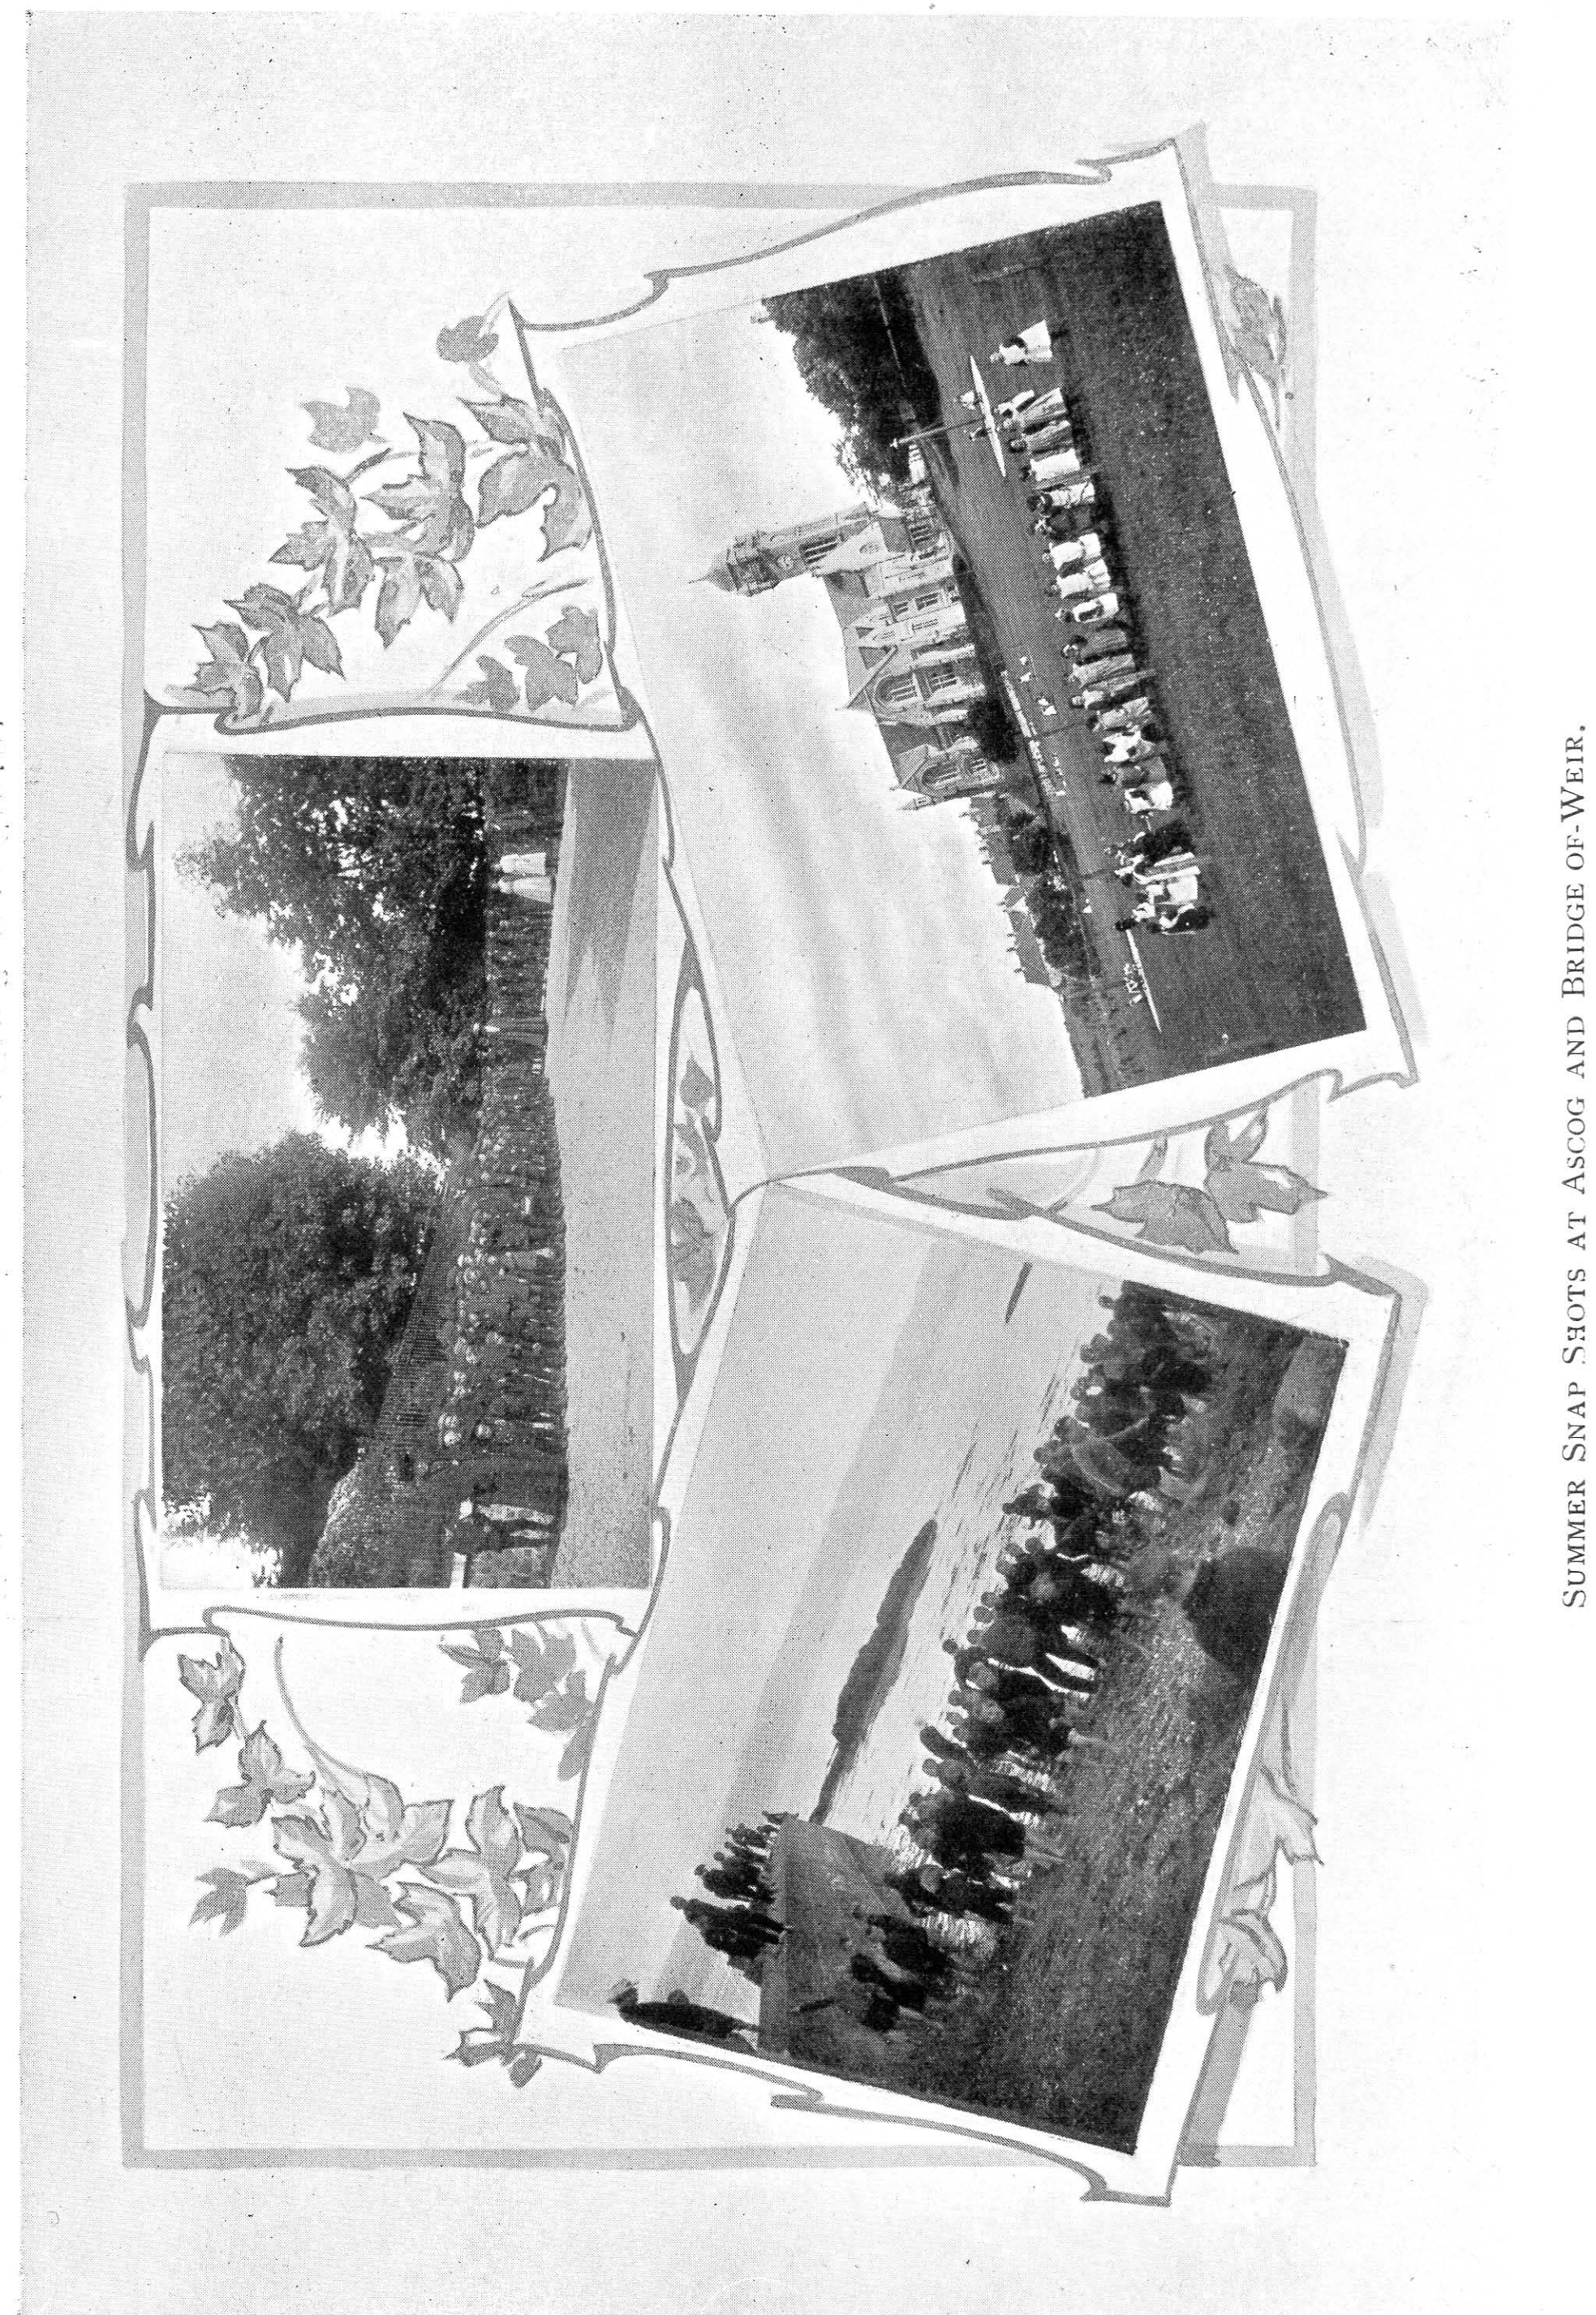

APART from any good that may be achieved from the ministry of this fund amongst those for whom it is intended, that ministry has a very desirable influence on the children and workers at Bridge of Weir. In the course of each year there are many interesting missionary meetings in the Church, lantern lectures, and other addresses by missionaries from various parts of the world; these awaken and foster an interest in missionary work which is good and helpful for us all. We have very little idea of the blessing which multitudes of individual Christians, and many churches, lose by not taking a deeper interest in our Lord's work in the regions beyond. We do not know of any church which seeks to fulfil its responsibility in this matter which is not far more than repaid by God's blessing in its own life and service at home. Certainly this is our testimony at Bridge of Weir, and our desire is—as it may be put in the power of our hand—to do more and more for those who are labouring for the Lord in the hard places of the field.

It has again been our privilege in the past year to send help to a large number of missionaries scattered over four continents and in most of the Mission fields of the world. We have often been cheered by the providential guidance which led to gifts being sent in the nick of time. One honoured missionary wrote us only recently on receipt of such a gift, telling how at the moment of its reception he was feeling so depressed and discouraged because of lack of home interest and difficulties in his work, that he wondered whether his day of service was not over; the timely help we were able to send brought him such cheer that he goes forward in his arduous work with renewed energy and enthusiasm. This case is typical of many others.

When visiting Mission Stations last year, especially in China, we were surprised and delighted to find that something of the story of the Orphan Homes of Scotland had found its way into many unlooked for places, and in many cases native congregations listened with intense interest to a fuller account of that story. We have been much encouraged during the past year to hear of Orphanage work being commenced in at least two Chinese cities, more or less directly because of inspiration from Bridge of Weir.

Morocco has passed through the throes of another revolution, and for some months recently all the missionaries in Southern Morocco had to leave inland stations and reside in coast towns. Mr. Cuthbert Nairn took advantage of the opportunity to run home and visit his family and confer with the Council. He is now back once more in Marrakesh. The Council of the Mission has decided on a forward movement, and two young men and three young women have been accepted for service in Southern Morocco, and are expecting shortly to leave for that land. Our missionary in Peru, Mr. John Ritchie, with his wife and children, is in Scotland on furlough. Mr. Ritchie was the first missionary sent out under this fund, and we have much cause to thank God for him; he has been helped to do splendid work during his first term of service in Peru, and if his life is spared we look forward to a most useful future for him. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Lyle have spent the year in Pernambuco, Brazil, steadily prosecuting their work there. A good measure of blessing has rested upon their labours and those who have worked with them, and a number of men and women were added to the Church by baptism. Miss Agnes G. Leith was married several months ago to the Rev. William Chapman, of the American Presbyterian Mission in Hunan, but although she has passed out from the financial interests of this fund, we continue to keep in friendly touch with her and follow her work with earnest prayer.

For those we have named and all the other missionaries in whom we are interested, we seek the earnest prayers of all readers.

For this fund—as for all other departments of the work of the Orphan Homes—we solicit no subscriptions and make no personal appeals, but as the hearts of our friends are moved to send help it is a joy to us to be made their almoners. Not one penny is deducted from contributions for administrative expenses, but the full amount contributed is passed directly to the object for which it is given. To avoid misunderstanding, perhaps we should again say that no money sent to us is ever applied to this fund unless specially earmarked for that purpose; all donations sent to Bridge of Weir are used according to the expressed wishes of the donors.

HOMES OWNED BY TWO OF OUR OLD BOYS IN CANADA AND FARM STEADINGS WHERE TWO OTHERS ARE AT WORK.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the large circle of friends of the Homes we are blessed indeed, but this year again we have to regret the removal by death of many who were our fellow-helpers in the work for the children. We thank God for the fragrance of their memories, and trust that others will be inspired by their example to minister to the fatherless and suffering. There are probably others than those whose names are noted below who during the past year have passed from their earthly labours. We extend to the relatives and friends our heartfelt sympathy, and pray that the God of all comfort and consolation may make all grace to abound toward them.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND, BRIDGE OF WEIR, AND CITY ORPHAN HOME, GLASGOW.—On 1st November, 1911, there were resident in the Homes 1,385 boys and girls. During the year 346 new cases have been admitted, making a total of 1731 dealt with.

These have been disposed of as follows :—Outfitted and sent to domestic service, trades, and situations, 34 ; outfitted and sent to sea, 7 ; outfitted and sent to Canada, 184 ; deaths, 8 ; children under 5 years adopted, 13 ; returned to relatives now in a position to provide for them, 108 ; left to go to relatives, 27 ; sent to other institutions, 8 ; leaving in the Homes on 31st October, 1912, 1,342, of whom 788 are boys and 554 girls.

From the above it will be seen that 238 boys and girls have been given a start in life, and placed in positions to make their own way. The older girls have been trained for domestic service, situations were found for them, and the older boys were apprenticed to trades, sent to sea or to Canada. Amongst those returned to friends many were old enough to work, and, where necessary, we helped with outfits, so that a large proportion of these might be added to the number of the permanently helped.

CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND.—The year began with 109 patients in residence. 363 were admitted, 345 discharged, leaving 127 in residence on 31st October, 1912. Attendances at the Glasgow Dispensary, 2,165.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.—The year began with 54 men and women in residence. 16 men and 9 women and 22 children have been admitted ; 2 died, 19 have been discharged, leaving in residence 80.

THE YEAR'S INCOME.

The amount received during the year is as follows :—For the General Fund, which includes the keep of the Homes at Bridge of Weir and the City Home Refuge and Mission, including £686 8s. 10½d. earned by working boys, also £5,000 for building "Elise" Hospital, and sundry amounts, as per Cash Statement, £43,064 19s. ; for Consumption Sanatoria maintenance and Building Fund, £4876 17s. 11d. ; for the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, £2049 6s. 5d. ; for Home and Foreign Missions, £1302 7s. 11d. ; making the total amount for all purposes, £51,293 11s. 3d., besides large quantities of clothing, provisions, and other useful gifts.

In connection with the City Home work, regular Sunday and Week-day Gospel Meetings have been held in our own Hall, and thousands of tracts have been distributed ; nights' lodgings were given to homeless wanderers, and many visits were paid to the homes of the poor by our workers. Sick and ailing ones have been provided with lines for Infirmaries and Convalescent Homes, and many others have received help and advice in their time of need.

For the work accomplished we are, under God, indebted to fellow-labourers, and to the practical generosity of friends throughout the country ; to ministers, evangelists, and others who have aided in the Gospel work ; to Sabbath school superintendents, teachers, and scholars ; to ladies who have made up garments for our little ones ; to the Press which has given notices of the work ; and to the accountants, Messrs. M'Farlane, Hutton, and Patrick, who very kindly act as Honorary Auditors.

CONCLUSION.

ONCE more God has disappointed our unbelief and exceeded our faith, and so another year comes to an end with a loud note of praise. Again the testimony goes forth that the faithful One has supplied every need, answered every true prayer, and filled our hearts with gratitude. There has been plenty of failure in ourselves but none in Him, and truly He has not dealt with us according to our deserts but according to His Own loving-kindness and faithful promises. The prospective budget for the year has been more than realised, and, as our cash statements show, there is a goodly balance on the right side of every account. For the year we are now entering our needs are likely to be :—

£20,000 for maintenance of Orphan Children in Glasgow and at Bridge-of-Weir.

£7,000 for maintenance of Consumption Sanatoria.

£2,000 for maintenance of Colony of Mercy.

£2,500 for Emigration and maintenance of the Canadian Home.

£4,000 for Swimming Bath, Gymnasium, and Recreation Hall for the boys and girls. (N.B.—£1,000 is in hand for this object.)

A Seaside Home of Rest for workers and children.

£2,000 each for additional Cottages for the Orphans.

£2,000 for Home and Foreign Mission Fund.

Consecrated men and women to act as "fathers and mothers" in the cottages.

To all who have in any way contributed toward the happy history of the year, whether by gift, prayer, or labour, we hereby extend our cordial thanks. We trust none of our partners are growing weary of the partnership, but that all will continue to help as they may be enabled throughout the coming year. We value nothing more than your prayers, for no true prayer can be offered without loving service accompanying it.

We are living in a time when a spirit of depression has settled down upon many good people, and we are thankful to be enabled to send out such a record of God's faithfulness as this book carries. We trust the testimony may be blessed to many and be used to encourage and help.

FORM OF BEQUEST TO THE ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND

(OR CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND).

(OR COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS).

"I leave and bequeath the sum of _____ pounds to the ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND (or CONSUMPTION SANATORIA), (or COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS), Glasgow and Bridge of Weir, originated by the late WILLIAM QUARRIER. I appoint the same to be paid (free of or less legacy duty) at the first term of Whitsunday or Martinmas after my death; and to be applied for the purposes of such Orphan Homes (or Consumption Sanatoria), (or Colony of Mercy for Epileptics); and the receipt of the Treasurer of the said Homes (or Sanatoria), (or Colony) for the time being shall be a sufficient discharge to my executors."

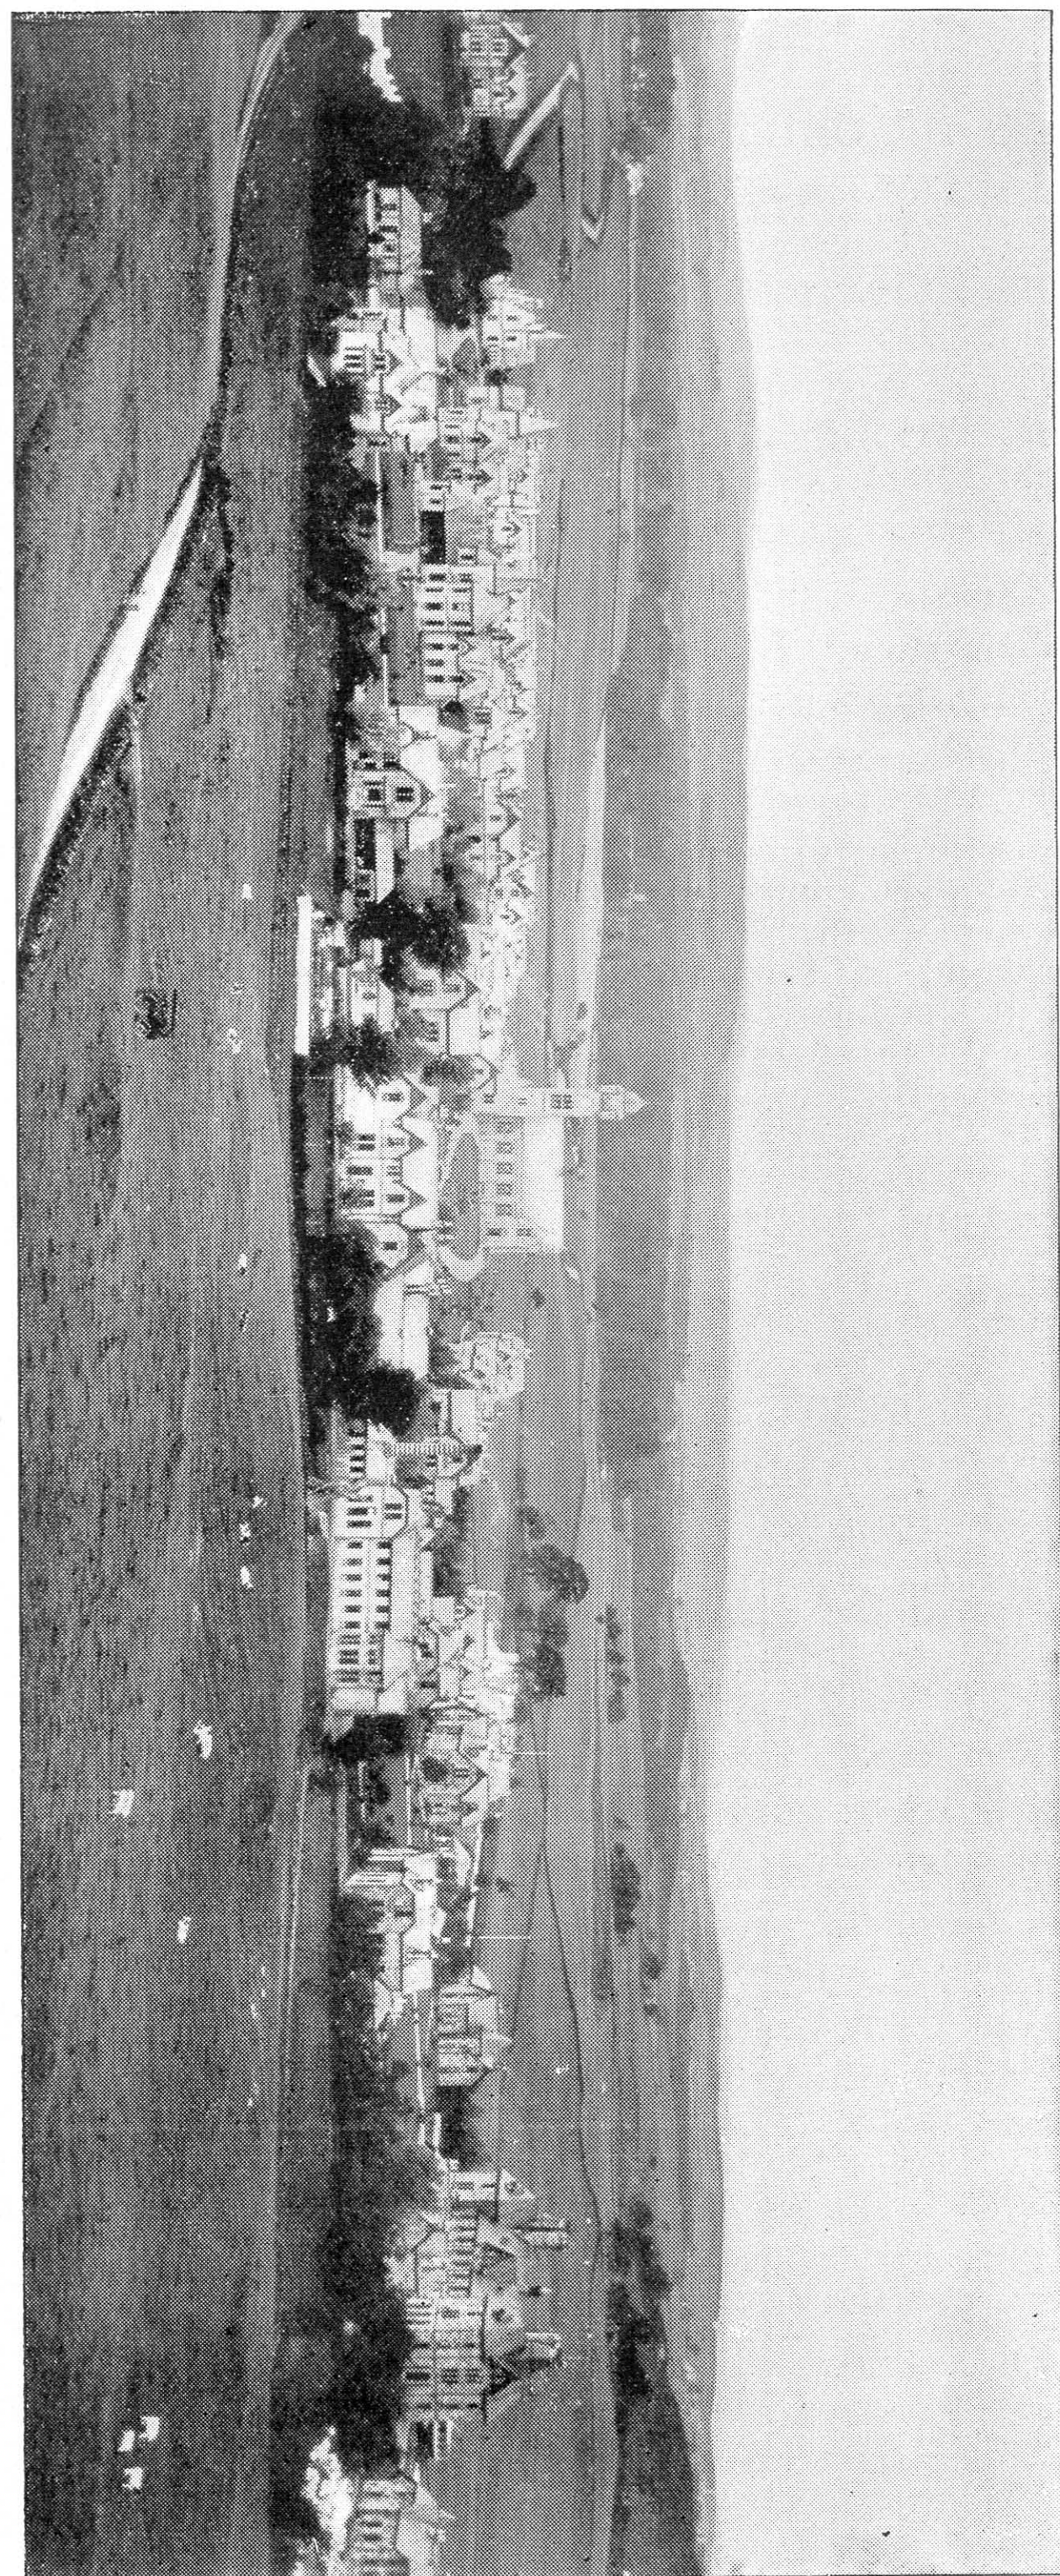

To prevent mistakes and delay, all letters relating to the Homes or Sanatoria or Colony for Epileptics should be addressed to Miss Quarrier, Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge of Weir. Cheques and Orders to be made payable to Miss MARY QUARRIER, Orphan Homes, Bridge of Weir, or to the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. P. Maclay, 21 Bothwell Street, Glasgow. If more convenient, donations can be left at City Home, 13 James Morrison Street, Glasgow, or paid into the Union Bank of Scotland, 32 Union Street. Donations in money may also be left with Pastor D. J. Findlay, St. George's Cross Tabernacle. Clothing, provisions, etc. may also be sent to City Home, James Morrison Street, Glasgow; or, if post-card is sent from any part of the city, a messenger will call for parcels. Telephone numbers are 80 Bell and 34 Bridge of Weir.

All donors whose names and addresses are sent with their donations will receive the Annual Report, and others desiring one or more copies can have them forwarded.

Friends sending Money can have it placed to whatever part of the work they name—(1) to the General Fund, which includes the maintenance of the Orphan Homes, Bridge of Weir, and of the City Working Boys' Home, (2) to Emigration Fund, (3) to the Orphan Homes Building Fund, (4) to the Consumption Sanatoria, (5) to the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, or (6) to the Orphan Homes of Scotland Home and Foreign Mission Fund. If left to our discretion, it will be applied to whatever object is most in need at the time. Friends sending their names and addresses will have their donations acknowledged privately in due course, and failing to receive this should communicate with Miss Quarrier at once, in case the money has gone amissing.

Reproduced from a photo taken from the Bridge-of-Weir Road. The Ship on Land and 14 of the Homes are not in view, but it will give friends some idea of the "Children's City." The Consumption Sanatoria are situated to the south and the Colony of Mercy to the west of the Homes, and are not seen in the picture.

PARTIAL VIEW OF HOMES.

Orphan Homes, Bridge-of-Weir.—Orphan boys and girls deprived of both parents, and children of widows, with no relative able or willing to keep them, from 1 to 14 years of age, from any part of Scotland. Destitution is the title for admission, and there is no subscriber's line or voting paper required.

City Receiving Home and Working Boys' Home, 13 James Morrison St., Glasgow.—Working boys under 18 years of age:

Mr. Douglas will deal with all cases applying for admission at City Orphan Home, 13 James Morrison Street, off London Street, at 4 o'clock P.M., on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Pastor D. J. Findlay may be seen by appointment at the St. George's Cross Tabernacle, 284 New City Road.

The Superintendent or Matron of the City Home will be glad to show friends through the house any day (Sabbath excepted).

The Homes at Bridge-of-Weir are also open for inspection every week-day, and visitors will be shewn round from the Central Building, at the hours of 11 A.M., 1 and 3 P.M. From one to two hours is required to see the leading parts of interest.

Trains leave St. Enoch Station (G. & S.-W. Railway) almost every hour. The Homes are two miles from Bridge-of-Weir Station.

A Bus meets 1-5 and 5-45 Trains from Glasgow, and leaves the Homes Gate at 3-15 and 7-15 for the 3-40 and 7-40 Trains from Bridge-of-Weir daily. Fares—Single, 6d.; Return, 9d.
